Special U.K. Board To Block Inflation

Ottawa Imposes Import Control On U.S. Poultry

Move Welcomed By City Spokesmen

OTTAWA (CP)—Acting Agriculture Minister Harkness today announced imposition of import controls on turkeys and fowl from the United States.

He said the import control is effective today along with federal price supports on both turkeys and fowl. The former Liberal government had announced price supports on fowl only. Effective Aug. 1.

Mr. Harkness said the government has taken the action "to protect the poultry industry against falling prices in the face of abundant local supplies and heavy imports."

Turkey prices will be supported at 25 cents a pound live weight, delivered at Toronto and Montreal, for birds of 20 pounds and under. Appropriate differentials where necessary for other weights and market centres.

The support price on fowl is 23 cents a pound live weight for birds of five pounds and over delivered at Toronto

The new controls will mean the difference between success and failure in the turkey industry, according to Mrs. C. G. McCulloch, 2938 Phipps, secretary of the Vancouver Island Turkey Improvement Association.

"We've been working on this for quite a few years, and have a delegate in Ottawa now," she said.

"Feed and freight prices have affected us, but the biggest hurt has been caused by United States competition," she said.

"In the United States growers have the market to make operation of larger ranches feasible," she said. "A ranch of 30,000 birds is nothing, and the operators are content with a smaller margin of profit. We can't even raise birds for the selling price here of U.S. birds."

Poultrymen also find the controls "good news," according to B. F. Nickkels of Luxton.

"U.S. poultrymen have been using Canada as a dumping ground," he said. "I guess the higher value of the Canadian dollar hasn't hurt them either."

Investment in the poultry industry in the Victoria trading area is estimated at upwards of $2,000,000.

BOMB HOAXES CONTINUE, 7-FLOOR HOTEL EMPTIED

(See also page 11.)

VANCOUVER (CP)—A seven-storey hotel was evacuated Tuesday night following two bomb warnings within half an hour.

It brought the total of false bomb scares here in the last month to six.

A United Air Lines DC-6B, which had taken off for Seattle nine minutes before, was called back. Searchers found nothing.

A young man with a voice similar to that heard at the airline office, telephoned the night clerk of the Empress Hotel at 8 p.m., "There is a bomb in your hotel."

Police found nothing.

Typhoon Toll Soars in Asia

HONG KONG (UP)—Typhoon Wendy, which killed 400 persons in the Philippines, slammed into Hong Kong and Red China today, killing at least three more persons.

The victims, two of them young boys, were trapped in their huts by landslides caused by rain and high winds from the storm.

The centre of the typhoon passed 50 miles northeast of here today to hit the Chinese mainland full blast. The storm disrupted communications, caused local flooding and landslides. All scheduled air services in this colony were halted.

Before crossing the Pacific to China, the typhoon caused one of the worst floods in Philippine history with at least 400 persons dead and another 1,000 feared drowned in remote Pangasinan province.

The flash floods triggered by typhoon Wendy swept entire villages away on the northern island of Luzon and some 30,000 persons were reported homeless in an area covering six towns.

It was feared that more than 1500 persons may have been swept away by the surging waters of the Agno river. In one town 230 bodies were recovered and municipal authorities ran out of burial permit forms.

Terror Wave Claims 20 In Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (Reuters)—Twenty persons have died in the last 24 hous in a new upsurge of Algerian terrorism, which the French authorities believe is "window dressing" to prepare for a debate on Algeria at the next United Nations General Assembly session.

French officials say directives emanting from insurgent chiefs in Tunis and taken from insurgents killed in battle demand an intensified campaign of attacks and sabotage to draw world attention to Algeria while nations friendly to the Algerian nationalist cause seek a United Nations debate.

Six Moslems died in a burning taxi, ambushed near Martimprey, western Algeria.

Advisory Body On Wages, Prices Now Proposed

LONDON (Reuters)—Cabinet ministers, chiefs of the state-run industries and trade union leaders met in conference here today to consider the threat presented to the British economy by soaring prices.

The main object of the talks was to get the reaction of the trade unions to a government proposal for an independent body to advise both sides of industry on incomes, costs and prices.

Politicians and trade unionists alike see danger to the economy unless prompt measures are taken to halt the present inflationary wage-prices increases.

But many of the trade union leaders blame the government for the present situation. They cite as evidence such measures as the government's recently-passed rent decontrol act which by allowing landlords to charge more will increase the cost of living for millions of people.

COAL, ELECTRICITY UP

Britain's nationalized industries, mainly coal, domestic gas and electricity, are under fire because of frequent increases in charges.

An impending increase in postal charges is causing a strong outcry from Conservative members of Parliament.

Peter Thorneycroft, chancellor of the exchequer, in recent speeches has said there is no financial crisis in Britain. In a television interview this week he reasserted this, adding:

"Exports are rising, production is going up. There is a large volume of investment and a good outlook of trade surplus with the rest of the world.

"This is a very satisfactory and strong position, except for this question of inflation. The basic answer is that as a nation we must stop taking more out of the economy than we put in."

So far the Trades Union Congress has taken no official decision on the government's proposal for an impartial body to advise on the situation. Its leaders have said frequently they recognize the threat of constant wage-increase demands to the economy, but argue they are inevitable unless the government can hold down the cost of living.

Some point to the latest—and as they see it—most ironic feature of the situation. This is that the government has been obliged to recognize the burden of high living costs on politicians themselves by giving members of Parliament a substantial raise.

Ike Backs Atom Arms For NATO

Zhukov, Dulles Talks Would Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower endorsed today the idea of an American supply of atomic weapons for NATO as outlined Tuesday by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He said NATO members must be armed properly.

The president said at a press conference that if a country is defending itself against a nuclear attack it ought to have the resources to respond in kind.

Furthermore, if the United States supplied atomic weapons to NATO powers then those countries would not have to manufacture their own atomic weapons and would avoid the economic strains resulting from creation of a nuclear weapons industry.

Eisenhower also said a meeting of Russia's Marshal Zhukov and U.S. Defence Secretary Charles Wilson might prove useful.

He said that he and Zhukov, now Soviet defence minister, became quite well acquainted at the end of the Second World War. They were both in Berlin at the time.

The president added that he and Zhukov at that time co-operated very closely, and that a Zhukov-Wilson meeting at this time might prove profitable by bringing together defence ministers of the two countries.

Socred MLA to Press Fight On Rebate 'Discrimination'

City alderman and Social Credit MLA, Donald Smith, said today he will continue his fight against "discrimination" in application of the government's new $28 tax rebate legislation for home-owners.

Mr. Smith said he spoke in support of a resolution passed unanimously Monday night by the Victoria Social Credit Constituency Association criticizing the act.

PENALIZED

Mr. Smith maintains that some property owners are being penalized because they live on the premises of their rooming houses.

"I intend to see that it's changed," he said.

The resolution was put before the constituency meeting by Herbert Watson, president of the Victoria branch of the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association.

Mr. Watson said there was "very little" discussion on the resolution before it was unanimously approved. It now will come before the provincial Social Credit convention in October.

Mr. Smith said he couldn't see why the issue shouldn't be in the open.

"I am very pleased that it was brought to the floor," he said.

But other constituency officials were reluctant to discuss the subject.

NO SATISFACTION

Mr. Smith said previously that government MLAs understood when the legislation was passed at the spring session that all homeowners would receive the $28 rebate on their taxes.

He took his case to the premier at a private meeting last week but came away saying he had received "no satisfaction."

His contention is that persons who own rooming houses or apartment blocks and are able to live in their own homes receive the $28 on their house; while others who live on the premises do not.

CANADA CINCH TO WIN SEAT ON UN COUNCIL

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (BUP)—Canada's election to the United Nations Security Council this fall was virtually assured today with the announcement that the Dominion would be nominated for the "commonwealth seat" at present held by Australia.

A spokesman for the Canadian United Nations mission told British United Press that the Canadian government had definitely decided to run for the seat which falls vacant at the end of the year.

WIRE BRIEFS

Mao to Moscow

LONDON (UP)—East European diplomats here said today that Red China's chief Mao Tse-Tung would visit Moscow, Warsaw and "probably" other east European capitals including Budapest in September this year.

Pope Indisposed

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—The Pope is slightly indisposed with an infected tooth and swelling of his upper lip, an unofficial Vatican source said today.

Buses Under Red Ban

BERLIN (UP)—East Germany suddenly clasped a ban on movement of foreign tourist buses across its western frontiers during the past 24 hours, West German border stations reported today.

Egypt Lifts Cook Ban

CARIO (Reuters) — The Egyptian finance ministry today lifted sequestration orders imposed on establishments of Thomas Cook and Sons Ltd. at the time of the Suez crisis. The move was seen here as a further step toward bringing British-Egyptian relations back to normal.

Foreign Aid Vital

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told senators today that foreign aid cuts would be "false economies" which would wreck free world efforts in disarmament negotiations with Russia.

He urged the Senate Appropriations Committee to put up the entire $3,900,000,000 President Eisenhower originally requested.

Readers Hail Times Centennial Project

Times readers have reacted promptly and favorably to the suggestion that a logger in action would be the fitting theme for a centennial statue.

On its front page Tuesday night the Times reprinted a photo taken at the Sooke loggers' sports on Saturday showing Alan Woodrow in the act of swinging a double-bitted axe in the tree-chopping contest. It was suggested that this is a more suitable subject for the centennial carving than another statue to Sir James Douglas.

R. de la Hitte, 710 Fort Street, writes: "In my opinion no better or more suitable subject or portrayal could be found. Find the sculptor who can faithfully reproduce the expression and the posture, then there will be no further argument as to what should be erected at the foot of the Legislative Buildings."

Alan L. Greig, 1141 Fort, simplly says: "I think its tops, and my friends agree."

This is the general tenor of letters so far written about the idea.

Russia Mum On British Arms Plan

LONDON (UP)—Britain proposed today that technical working groups be set up to clarify details of issues already agreed upon in broad general outline by the five-power disarmament conference.

This proposal was made by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. It was supported in principle by the representatives of the U.S., France and Canada. But it was met with silence by chief Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin.

The fact that Zorin said nothing about Lloyd's suggestions or anything else brought expressions of surprise from conference observers. He had been expected to condemn the new American plan for putting atomic weapons at NATO's disposal.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Father of all mankind, look with mercy upon thy stubborn, stupid children in our warring madness. Teach us to live together in mutual understanding and good will. Show us that we depend upon one another. Help us to see the good in our neighbors and to bear with their faults and follies so that we may share peacefully the abundant blessings of thy good world; in Christ's name. Amen.

Prairie Farms Face Crop Crisis; Heat, Hoppers, Hail Toll Soars

REGINA (CP)—As hot, dry winds burn through ripening crops, Saskatchewan wheat farmers face a serious threat of drought for the first time in eight years.

Agricultural officials have described the situation as "critical." They considered the fate of the 1957 crop will probably hinge on the rainfall in the next week.

Heat, grasshoppers and hail already have taken their toll in scattered parts of the province but a timely, general rain might still produce a wheat crop, lower than last year's bumper 327,000,000 bushels but higher than the long term average yield of 15 bushels an acre. The province normally grows about 60 per cent of the country's wheat.

"We should not write off the crop yet," said a spokesman for the provincial agriculture department. "If crop conditions do not deteriorate further and with a bit of luck, the prospects are still favorable for an above-average yield."

RAIN NEEDED SOON

He said more than 50 per cent of the estimated 12,685,000-acre wheat crop now is in head and needs moisture quickly to fill the heads.

The Saskatchewan wheat pool, however, was less optimistic and its latest weekly report said the moisture deficiency is worsening in "an alarming manner," causing rapid deterioration of crops.

During the last week, steady dry winds from the west and 90-degree plus temperatures again burned the roots of maturing wheat in the southwest along the United States border; lack of rain has practically wiped out the crop in an area north of North Battleford in the northwest; and conditions are poor in some central districts north and west of Regina.

CANADA HERE I COME!

Right Frame of Mind Inspired By Paint Job

LEEDS, England (CP)—Each day for a month foreman painter Harold Calverley was the first man on the job as workmen put the finishing touches to the Canadian government's new immigration office in Leeds.

And when the office opened for business Monday, the first man through the doors leading to the spacious reception hall was the 35-year-old painter—this time as a customer.

"I heard so much about Canada while I was working that I decided it was the place for me," said Calverley. "And having decided, I was determined to be the first in line—I was back so early the paint hadn't dried."

In fact, Calverley didn't wait for the office to open before starting proceedings. By the time he made formal application, he had already lined up a job in Toronto. He expects to fly to Canada before the end of the month. His wife, Sheila, and nine-year-old daughter, Beryl, will follow after he has found accommodation for them.

The new office, with its staff of 17, will handle emigration enquiries originating in the northeast of England. It is the sixth Canadian immigration office in the United Kingdom. The others are in London, Liverpool, Bristol, Glasgow and Belfast.

Calverley surprised the office staff by turning up again today. "I've talked a pal into going out to Canada with me and I'm just showing him the ropes."

Light Spurs Search

VAL D'OR, Que. (CP)—A flashing light was spotted by an RCAF Dakota search plane over desolate northwest Quebec Tuesday night and planes soared skyward today to run down what might be a clue to the whereabouts of a missing Lockheed photo-survey plane and the four men aboard.

CANADIAN $ HITS NEW HIGH

NEW YORK (AP)—The Canadian dollar climbed to another high since 1933 for the fourth straight day today.

In terms of U.S. currency the Canadian dollar was quoted at $1.05 9-32, up 3-32 from Tuesday and up 17-64 from last Thursday.

This was the highest price since November, 1933, just before the United States went off the Gold Standard. At that time the Canadian dollar set an all-time high at $1.05⅝ in terms of U.S. money.

BUT 7 MORE TO DIE

7 Win Reprieves In Hungary Trial

BUDAPEST (Reuters) — The Hungarian Supreme Court today revoked the death sentence for seven persons but confirmed it for seven others for their part in the killing of six policemen in Miskolc during last fall's uprising.

Spectators in the public galleries wept as the court gave its decisions after a hearing, lasting more than two weeks, of prosecution and defence appeals against the sentences passed by a lower court on May 16.

The court raised one prison sentenced and reduced others on seven more caused in the same case. They were given prison sentences ranging from life to 10 years by the lower court.

Four of the reprieved Karoly Laubert, 38, Istvan Lapsanszky, 23, Gyoergy Suba, 21, and Jozsef Kincses, 27—were jailed for life and the others — Imre Foeldi, 28, Jozsef Martoncsik, 38, and Lajos Toth — for 20 years each.

Women in the public galleries wept as Laszlo Lengyel slumped down on the prisoners' bench sobbing and moaning after his appeal against the death sentence was rejected.

An elderly man called out "Do not cry, my child." A woman shouted a remark which included the word "justice" but was unintelligible in the press seats.

Both were escorted from the courtroom as two fellow prisoners tried to calm Lengyel, slim, dark and pale. Armed police guards later led him still shaking with sobs from the dock.

He returned a few minutes later still agitated and stood with lowered head, his dark hair falling over his face, as the presiding judge read out the rest of the sentences.

Some specators left the public gallery and sat weeping on benches in a corridor outside the courtroom.

2 Ministers Quit Cabinet In Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost of Ontario announced today the resignation of Reform Institutions Minister Foote and Mines Minister Kelly.

Major Foote, who has been in the Ontario legislature since 1948, was appointed minister of reform institutions in November, 1950. He represents Durham riding. A Presbyterian minister, he won the Victoria Cross for gallantry in the Dieppe raid in 1942. He is ill in hospital.

Mr. Kelly, an accountant, has sat in the legislature since 1951 and became mines minister in June, 1952. He represents Cochrane North.

Bishop Admits Morality Claim Hearsay

TORONTO (CP) — Most Rev. F. A. Marrocco said today a remark he made—that 40 girls were expelled from a suburban high school because they were pregnant — had been misconstrued as a "piece of statistic" rather than a piece of hearsay he passed along privately to a small study group.

The Roman Catholic auxiliary bishop of Toronto was quoted Tuesday as saying at an inter-group relations conference at Geneva Park, Ont., that there has been a breakdown in Canadian social life and as citing pregnancy at Earl Haig collegiate institute as an example.

His observations drew heated denials from North York board of education officials and high school staff.

Bishop Marracco said his statement was made at a private discussion after he read a prepared paper.

"In its proper context I passed it along as something I heard about a school in my area to illustrate a point I was making," the bishop said.

Carol Kelly, Earl Haig physical education teacher, said today she had never heard of anyone at the school being pregnant.

Dr. F. W. Minkler, North York director of education, described the bishop's remark as "far-fetched" and added: "I don't know of any girls in our schools becoming pregnant or being dismissed for that reason."

IT'S 'SMART' TO GET RID OF APPENDIX

MEAFORD, Ont. (CP) — Hugh Smart had his appendix out Sunday.

That happened while Victor Smart, Hugh's dad, was convalescing—from an appendectomy.

Hugh's sister Ruth, 15, wasn't feeling too chipper either. She had an appendectomy just before her dad. Audrey, 17, got the ball rolling eight weeks ago. That's when she had her appendix removed.

There are still three Smarts with their appendix intact. They won't lay bets on how long.

Tourist Raid On Khan Rites Curbed by Heir

VERSOIX, Switzerland (UP) — The Aga Khan IV posted guards at the family villa here today to prevent gaudily-dressed tourists from gate crashing the solemn lying-in-state ceremonies for his grandfather.

The body of the 79-year-old Aga Khan III, who died last week, was to be flown to Egypt this evening for burial services at Aswan Friday.

The gates were open to all Tuesday, but the new security regulations were ordered when shirt-sleeved tourists stopped their cars to join the hundreds of persons clamoring for admittance at the gate.

Teamster Chief Acquitted On Bribe Charge

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The head of the teamsters' union in Oregon was acquitted Tuesday night of a charge of conspiracy to accept a bribe while serving on a Portland city commission.

Clyde C. Crosby dropped his head on his chest when the verdict was announced, closed his eyes momentarily and then flashed a broad grin at the jury.

Crosby, the teamsters' international representative in Oregon, had been charged with conspiring to place the site of an $8,000,000 sports centre here. The prosecution said Crosby and others conspired to obtain property options at the site.

Miss Canada Most Popular

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP) — Fifteen girls representing the cream of American beauty were selected Tuesday night to vie for the title of "Miss United States of America" in the annual Miss Universe beauty pageant.

Finals for the "Miss U.S.A." title will be held tonight.

Following her selection "Miss U.S.A." will be entered in the "Miss Universe" finals Friday against the top 15 international entrants.

The most popular girl in the parade trophy went to Miss Canada, 18-year-old Gloria Noakes, of Toronto. She was chosen by the thousands who viewed the traditional Miss Universe parade Sunday.

Miss Germany, Gerti Daub, 19, was named during the evening as the most photogenic beauty. She was picked for the title by the corps of photographers and press covering the annual event.

3-COUNTRY DEAL

Syrians To Buy Red Armament With Cotton

CAIRO (AP) — A three-country deal is reported under way to provide Syria with more arms from Communist Czechoslovakia.

Syrian desire for new and improved weapons has been spurred by the recent flareup of shooting along its border with Israel.

Arab diplomatic informants said the arms plan calls for Syria to export wheat to Egypt for some of Egypt's cotton credits in Czechoslovakia. Syria would use the cotton credits to buy more Czech arms.

Syrian Defence Minister Khaled el Azem, who has been in Italy for medical treatment, was reported en route to Prague and Moscow to close the deal.

The informants said Egypt has bought more Soviet-bloc arms in the last 18 months than it can assimilate but still has large Czech credits from a cotton agreement made in 1955. Cairo newspapers reported recently that Egypt had opened an initial credit for Syria of nearly $3,000,000 in Czechoslovakia.

At United Nations headquarters in New York, officials announced that UN lookout posts have been established on the Israeli side of the Israeli-Syrian border.

The officials said the action was taken at Israeli's request after the series of border clashes.

Israeli sources said the request stipulated that the posts be maintained for one month, but UN spokesmen said the four or five posts set up would be used as long as necessary.

Reports from Jerusalem said the UN truce organization on the border region had been reinforced and is maintaining a 24-hour watch.

FALL-OUT SOARS TO NEW HIGH

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Radioactive fall-out from Monday's atomic explosion in Nevada soared to a new high of 7,090 micro-microcuries of beta radiation Tuesday.

The generally-considered safety level over a 24-hour period is 1,000 micro-microcuries.

The Utah health department, which obtained the readings from air samples taken on the roof of the state capital building here, said the fall-out could be considered safe because of the short period of time.

Search Fails To Find Plane

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—An intensive air, sea and ground search today failed to turn up any trace of a U.S. Air Force C-47 missing with 16 persons aboard.

Radio contact with the plane was broken Tuesday night as it neared the end of a journey to Taipei from Clark Field, in the Philippines.

New Clash in Saanich Council Over Architects' Fees on Hall

Saanich Council is committed to payment of up to $10,000 in architect's fees whether or not the municipality renovates and extends its municipal hall, Reeve Arthur Ash said Tuesday night.

He told his council a special committee headed by Coun. Joseph Casey had ordered plans for additions and alterations to the hall.

"This had been done without the approval of the ratepayers and before the provincial government makes its decision on whether the ratepayers should vote on this question."

He explained that for preparation of plans, architects are entitled to 10 per cent of the estimated costs of alterations to an old building.

They receive 20 per cent of their total fee for preparing preliminary plans, 50 per cent for completion of drawings.

"Therefore 70 per cent of the total fees have been committed to this date."

"You were in the chair when this came up, but you didn't say anything. . ." said Coun. Casey.

"I voted against it—the whole thing," the reeve replied.

"I don't believe we've committed the people to this amount at all," said Coun. Casey.

The committee voted to investigate the fees.

Estimated cost of the project is $225,000.

Reeve Ash says he is confident ratepayers will repect the proposal if a referendum is held.

"I am more convinced than ever that a temporary steel building is the answer."

It could be used elsewhere in the municipality if a new hall is built in the future, or the municipality joins in a united hall project with Victoria, the reeve said.

Ontario Police Face Third Murder Inquiry

BRANTFORD, Ont. (BUP)—Ontario today had its third brutal murder in 10 days with the discovery of the body of an elderly man at Burford, about 10 miles from Brantford.

Firemen called out to battle a fire in the home of Albert Hearne, 86, this morning found his body lying in a pool of blood under a pile of clothes.

Police said Hearne's head had been battered in. They believe robbery was the motive as it was reported locally that Hearne was a miser with a large amount of money cached in his house.

Provincial police have two other unsolved murders on their hands.

Last week a 22-year-old housewife in the Cornwall district was hacked and beaten to death after being criminally assaulted. The victim was Mrs. Lois McLaughlin.

Last weekend the body of 30-year-old Edwin Jones of Hamilton, member of the Jehovah Witness religious sect, was found in the Wealland district. He had been beaten and stabbed to death.

Part-Time Jails U.K. Proposal

LONDON (AP) — A government advisory council today suggested part-time evening jails for not-so-tough boys who get in trouble with the cops.

The "attendance centres" would be for boys 17 to 21 convicted of relatively minor offences—the kind that now call for short sentences in regular jails.

The council believes such centres might offer more hope of reforming a boy than the ordinary lockups.

But the centres should not be cozy boys' clubs. Wrongdoers would only regard the system with contempt if it came "too closely to resemble being kept in after school," the council said.

Instead the youths would get a whiff of prison life. Regular prison officials would run the place. The boys would sew mailbags and do other prison tasks. They would be required to show up every evening and at weekends.

They would be sent to a real prison "for misconduct at the centre or failure to attend."

Britain, U.S. Link Forces To Settle Cyprus Problem

LONDON (UP)—Britain and the United States are co-ordinating their behind-the-scenes diplomacy for a settlement of the Cyprus problem, authoritative sources here said today.

They said exchanges were proceeding with Greece and Turkey about the terms on which their co-nationals would be willing to work self-government in Cyprus on the lines of the Radcliffe proposals.

Through NATO channels and by direct contact the Greek government is being told that, failing their co-operation, Britain means to proceed with partition of the island.

In Ankara and in Washington, the sources said, U.S. diplomats were urging that it would be in Turkey's economic interest to co-operate.

"This twin diplomacy is being co-ordinated between London and Washington in the belief that both Greece and Turkey can be brought to encourage their supporters in the island to co-operate with Britain," the sources said.

Meanwhile, the sources said, Britain's re-appraisal of the strategic importance of Cyprus was nearing completion.

This aspect of the Cyprus question was said to have been raised at a meeting last Monday morning in No. 10 Downing Street between British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Australian Premier Robert V. Menzies.

Menzies was understood to have questioned the wisdom of partition of Cyprus which, he believed, could entail the risk of a Greco-Turkish war exploited by communism to bring Russia to the Straits.

Authoritative sources said U.S. diplomats were taking the same line and urging upon their Turkish colleagues that partition would be an invitation to Russia to intervene.

On the prospects of Cyprus becoming a NATO base the sources said there had been "no fundamental discussion" on this question in the NATO Council

Low Renews Socred Pledge to Back Tories

CALGARY (CP)—Solon Low, the national Social Credit leader, renewed his party's pledge to support the Progressive Conservative government Tuesday night.

In an interview following a party caucus here, he said: "We are all obliged to give them a chance to show what they can do.

"Anything that they propose that is in the interests of the country, even if it does not go so far as we want it to go, we will certainly support."

Low suggested that without an overall majority in parliament, Canada may see a few years of the best government the country has ever had.

Social Credit and Progressive Conservative policies both stood for free enterprise and a maximum of individual liberty. But the Conservatives stopped where Social Credit financial proposals begin.

"They have nothing more than what the Liberals had by way of financial methods to solve our problems. We have the alternative. The object to which we are working is to supplement the purchasing power of consumers so that consuming power is brought into balance with the productive capacity of the country."

The Big Surplus

AS A PRAIRIE MAN MR. DIEfenbaker speaks of the wheat problem with special anxiety and knowledge. He has pledged himself to assist the overburdened wheat grower, by state subsidies if necessary, but this is to tackle only one side of the problem. The other side, where a real solution lies, is the marketing of a gigantic cereal surplus. What does Mr. Diefenbaker intend to do about that?

At a recent press conference Mr. Diefenbaker indicated that he had several possibilities in mind.

In the first place, he is considering a strong protest to the United States against its policy of dumping grains all over the world.

Unlike the former Government, he does not object to free gifts of American wheat abroad for these, he says, are "beneficent."

Undoubtedly they are, to the recipients, but they undermine the markets of wheat exporters like Canada that cannot afford charity on this scale.

Mr. Diefenbaker objects only to the cosy deals by which the United States gives away a certain amount of grain and, in return, the recipient agrees to buy a certain amount of American goods later on.

This, he says, is a gross violation of the Geneva trade agreements and is unfair trade. Of course it is.

The Liberal ministry protested repeatedly against these methods without result. Indeed, the latest discussions in the American Congress suggest that give-aways of grain (with or without strings) have become very like a permanent policy to solve a permanent American problem.

That problem is the production of surplus grain resulting inevitably from the American price support system. Assured that the Government will buy his product, even if it is not saleable at home or abroad, the farmer naturally goes on producing.

Mr. Eisenhower's soil bank scheme, which pays farmers to take land out of production, has made little dent in the grain surplus, though it has cost the taxpayers huge sums. (Actually the cost of wheat not produced this year is reckoned at about $9 per bushel.)

The American system may seem irrelevant to our situation here and so it was until June 10 last. But it became relevant with the election of the Conservative Government. For the Government intends to introduce in Canada something like the American system of parity prices.

Canada, too, evidently intends to subsidize the farmer to produce unsaleable grain and, assuming normal production per acre, this will doubtless assure a surplus like that across the line.

Secondly, Mr. Diefenbaker says his Government will consider accepting non-dollar currencies for grain, as the United States is doing.

Our neighbors can afford to accumulate currencies that they cannot spend but clearly Canada cannot go far in this direction.

Our need is hard dollars to cover our huge trading deficit in the American market. Some of this money we earn by selling, for dollars, in the world market, including the sterling area. Our objective must be to increase, not to diminish, these dollar earnings.

The grain problem is not of Mr. Diefenbaker's making, or Canada's. It is part of a basic distortion of the world market and no solution, except perhaps a few years of small crops, is in sight.

Under these conditions the Prime Minister, and the prairie farmers also, should have the public's sympathy in dealing with a complex of factors beyond the control of any single nation. But a new and effective Canadian policy has yet to appear.

Time for Sharp Action

THE GREATER VICTORIA School Board has before it a principal's report that one of his teachers was threatened with violence by an 18-year-old suspended student.

According to the principal's letter, the youth pressed a broken bottle into the teacher's midsection and said, "I am going to kill you."

There appears to be nothing in the report to indicate that this was a prank, however misconceived. The threat was there. The action supported it.

Municipal inspector John Gough, attending the May 31 evening function at which the incident occurred, says he was very disturbed by it. The school board seems also to be disturbed—at least to the extent of offering its solicitor to represent the aggrieved teacher in any civil suit he may wish to launch.

A threat, physical and vocal, was made. Such action is covered directly by the Criminal Code. The teacher concerned, or anyone thoroughly informed on the matter, should lay a criminal charge against the youth. The school board should give the person laying the charge its complete backing.

When an offence of this nature has been committed, it is only proper for the offender to be charged and for the law to take its course.

This is not the only occasion in recent months when violence has been threatened or inflicted on teachers under the board's jurisdiction. Hand-wringing isn't enough to discourage such action. Neither is the mere threat of civil action.

The teachers must act boldly—and they must be assured of full board support. If they do not, then hopes for discipline might as well be abandoned. Finger-shaking will not do.

Another Conservative Victory

MONDAY'S CONSERVATIVE deferred election victory in Wellington South was to be expected. It follows the party's sweep in Ontario and is a natural extension of the trend shown by the province on June 10.

Mr. Diefenbaker is justifiably gratified by this further assurance of Conservative popularity.

For the Liberals, who lost the seat, the result constitutes a further warning of the need for re-organization before next year's anticipated general election.

Keep the Atmosphere

THE WAYSIDE INN, LODGING place of presidents, poets and wayfarers immortalized by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, burned down on its Sudbury, Mass., site on December 22, 1955.

The restored Wayside Inn will be opened shortly. In many respects it will be a building stripped of some of its later-day additions. The windows with wavy panes have been restored, but certain porches, certain dormer windows and other features are missing.

The general appearance of the original has apparently been preserved, but all features of the building known to the public before the 1955 fire have not been copied slavishly.

This is the treatment given to what is virtually a shrine in the United States — treatment which is calculated to retain the atmosphere of the famous hostelry.

The procedure followed by our neighbors might commend itself to those who design the new Government House here. The primary objective for the new mansion should be the retention, or restoration, of the gracious appearance and air of the old Government House. But that does not mean that every detail of the structure which burned need be followed.

There is room for latitude in the planning, though British Columbians will be seriously disappointed if the new Government House fails to capture the atmosphere of the old.

Brains Do Pay

AN AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGIST has been testing the popular theory that indifferent students at college do just as well later on as brilliant ones. Like many others, this theory does not stand up to examination — not at least in the sample of 275 Dartmouth College graduates of 1926.

The 14 men who headed that class are now making $20,000 a year or more. Seventeen, who just scraped through the examinations, are making an average of $10,625. In between, the general run of students makes about $15,000.

All this seems to mean that the average man does about as well in business as in college, no better and no worse. The only trouble with the theory is that the average man of all such statistical calculations has never yet been discovered. He remains imaginary.

One point in the Dartmouth study will bring comfort to all athletes and ex-athletes. The former students who took no part in athletics now make an average of $14,200. The top athletes make $18,575. Exercise evidently does not injure the brain.

ASIAN FAITHS — By SWAMI AGEHANANDA BHARATI

No Flock To Be Tended

MR. J. E. PODOVINIKOFF OF HILliers, B.C., has asked me in his letter to the Victoria Times (July 8), how Asian people run their churches, and what role their preceptors play.

This problem is within the purview of the course which I am presently conducting at Victoria College Summer School, and this provides the opportunity to inform a wider audience on an interesting subject.

The term "Church" does not really hold for all Asian religious bodies—there is no organized "Church" in the Brahmin-Hindu tradition, to which about 380 million people adhere; but Buddhism in all its forms has very strong ecclesiastical organizations—in Thailand, for instance, the Buddhist church is a sort of parallel government, strengthened by the fact that almost every young Siamese male spends a limited time as a monk in one of the thousands of monasteries of Siam.

MOST Asian religions have their origin in India, and their organizations are framed largely on Indian models. I shall adumbrate the matter taking the Brahmin tradition for an example, it being very typical and fairly representative of religious community life in Asia—it is also the oldest.

There are two parallel patterns of religious life in this tradition—the monastic and the lay pattern; both are equally important, and the only analogy could be worked out by reference to medieval Europe.

Now the main difference between the Asian and any Christian set-up is one of stress: Asian religions do not believe in a flock that is to be tended, and congregation plays a very inferior role; the object of religious life is to achieve emancipation from rebirth, merging with the deity—if possible during lifetime already—and it is only the individual that can make the necessary efforts.

HOWEVER, the individual would be nowhere without the guidance of a preceptor, and that is the Guru: it does not suffice to translate "Guru" simply as "Preceptor" or "Religious Head"—the relation between the "Guru" and the disciple is extremely delicate and complex. An incantation known to almost all Hindus says "The Guru is Brahma, the Guru is Vishnu, the Guru is Shiva, the Guru verily is the Absolute, salutations unto the Guru." Although the "Guru" (who is not always, but very frequently a "Swami", i.e. a senior monk or abbot in one of the classical monastic Orders of India) is also the Head of a denominational community, his status is radically different from that, say, of a bishop or even a cardinal; perhaps he could be likened to the Pope in his importance and in his psychological impact on the votaries.

IT is not seniority, nor even learning, not even ethical perfection that qualify a person for Guruhood; much more than these things is required: he must have reached the state of complete spiritual emancipation—i.e., he must have experienced, and must be in the state of constantly experiencing his Oneness with the Deity (of course most Asian teachings are pantheistic, i.e., they teach that God and the Soul are one and the same, and that he is perfect who intuits this oneness).

Hence, the selection of a Guru is a psychological rather than an organisatory process—there is a long process of mutual testing, based on the intuition of both the prospective Guru and the prospective disciples—even though a person may have the qualification of a Guru, that does not imply that he can teach one and all. Asian religions believe in variety and multiplicity, and they deny rigidly that any one way, or any one teacher, ever so perfect, can guide all, simply because human minds are different from one another and need different training, different methods, to achieve the same end.

THIS fundamental attitude precludes any kind of dogmatic or outward imposition on a religious community, for it is people of the same psychological type that form a community whose existence is established simply by the fact that one Guru guides all of its members.

For the Indian (and this holds for the Chinese, Korean, Tibetan, and Japanese Buddhists as well) it is irrelevant and equally undesirable to be marked a "follower", whether the imposition is made by a totalitarian government (this is the reason why Hindu India could not thrive under bolshevism or fascism, even if there appear to be sympathies) or by a religious head or church, which does not appeal to the particular group of religious aspirants. An ancient Sanskrit text says "Choice of the Guru and choice of the disciple are as intimate as choice of the woman and choice of the man when they want to be lovers."

THE functions of ritual, of general instruction in the religious lore, etc.—these are performed by the "purohita" or the "Pandita"—i.e., the real clergyman of Hindu India; his status is far inferior to that of the Guru, and his respect for the Guru is as great as that of other members of the community to which he belongs. Asia has always rigorously distinguished between the priest and the spiritual preceptor, the Guru.

Keep the Union Jack

A correspondent in your paper speaks of the Union Jack as a flag "that breathes . . . war and conquest."

An Anglican clergyman of my acquaintance was some years ago in Jerusalem. Passing a public building displaying the Union Jack he noticed a man spitting at it. Asked why he showed such discourtesy to it the man replied: "I am a Moslem. Where that flag goes Christianity follows."

Let us keep the flag that so many of our soldiers died for, and not invent one they knew not. Those who fought and died in its defence would not like to see it changed. It stands for freedom and justice as well as for Christianity. It may have lost a battle, but it never lost a war and never will.

Room With a View

Re the recent controversy over the design of the new Government House.

During a recent visit to Vancouver it occurred to me that the new B.C. Electric Building would be a splendid model for Government House reflecting the spirit of the times in modern architecture.

One can just picture this noble structure standing triumphantly on the site of the effete, outmoded Government House we once knew, its steel legs rooted in the good earth, its blue chromium-plated head exploring the eternal.

It would have the additional advantage that having so many windows the Lieutenant-Governor and his guests would always be on public view, no matter what they were doing.

NEW VICTORIAN.

Centennial Pool

Regarding the centennial project, there have been several suggestions offered and I would like to make another suggestion which may assist the centennial committee.

My idea is an open air salt water swimming pool anywhere in the Greater Victoria district. At the present time there is no place where residents or visitors can go for a swim in salt water, because the water is too cold, so they go out to one of the lakes.

I was looking at Horseshoe Bay a few weeks ago and I think it would be possible to put a retaining wall across the mouth of the cove, with a sluice gate which would allow the filling of the bay when open, and retaining the water when shut. The sun would soon raise the temperature by several degrees.

This idea has been in operation for six years at the "Grouse Nest," RR 2, Victoria, which is 17 miles west of Victoria. If the committee is interested, they could get full details by going out to see it.

If the above suggestion is not acceptable, how about an outdoor salt water swimming pool in Beacon Hill Park?

Charges in Esquimalt

Would you be kind enough to give me space in your very valuable paper to ask the Reeve and Council of Esquimalt about the latest of many injustices to some of the taxpayers, namely those who are wanting curbs and gutters, under local improvements?

The price at the beginning of 1956 was $1.50 a lineal foot. A 60 foot frontage cost the taxpayer $9 a year for fifteen years. Later that same year it jumped for 60 foot frontage to $12 or $15 a year for fifteen years.

The taxpayers are already paying for the 1952 street loan the enormous sum of $300,000 plus 5 per cent interest for fifteen years. Taxes have risen quite a lot the last two years. Why are the prices of local improvements going up?

Councilor James Bryant told me the people are quite happy to pay. Rather a high-handed statement from a councillor, who lives on a corner lot and was able to have both the front and sides of his home done from the loan. I think the reeve and councillors owe a public statement to the taxpayer giving the reasons for such unfair treatment to some of the taxpayers.

An explanation is long over due.

Open Mind

For his recent letters to The Times Mr. Harold Heskin is commendable, in that in his younger days he could never bring himself to discuss or reason on religion or science. He now has an open mind; but not a mind open at both ends.

It is the person with a mind tightly closed to discussion and reasoning on religious matters that is not to be commended.

Isaiah 1:18 admonishes "Come now, let us reason together says Jehovah." The aptitude for Solomon's wisdom he states at Eccles. 7:25 as "I turned my mind to knowledge and to searching and seeking wisdom." The apostle Peter counsels (1 Pet. 3:15) "Be always ready to make a defence before every one that demands of you a reason for the hope in you."

But there is a note of warning in Paul's letter to Titus, that faith must be based on accurate knowledge of the truth, "paying no attention to Jewish fables and commandments of men, who turn themselves away from the truth."

The Flag We Fly

The flag we fly is the flag we serve. 'Tis our standard and refuge, whatever its design, and represents each Canadian heart, mind and soul.

If we are to make a change, let it be gradual and only at the insistent voice of the people. No one individual will suffice.

Basically we are British and French, the offspring of two great countries. The union jack and the tricolor merging into red, white and blue. A distinctive Canadian flag could not lose sight of this. The fleur-de-lis and the maple leaf growing together! Nor fail to reflect the growing national awareness of those who come to us, embrace our way of life and join with us in supprt of the flag we fly.

He Liked It

Does Miss Kaah prefer "culchah?" Possibly Miss Kaah knows more about "culchah" than live entertainment. On Saturday night my wife and I attended the Jerry Gosley Smile Show at the Langham Court Theatre and thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment from start to finish.

The theatre was about three quarters full and judging by the laughter and applause the show was enjoyed by all those present. When we went back-stage after the show to congratulate Jerry and his cast there was a couple there from Santa Monica, Cal., thanking Jerry for an enjoyable evening and congratulating him on the excellence of the show. Apparently they did not think the show was "snaggle-toothed."

When Jerry Gosley and his company are providing a bright oasis of live entertainment in this arid desert of TV aerials it is a pity that your paper could not send someone to cover this show who knows something about theatre.

PLEDGED TO STRANGERS — By RONALD BAXTER

Hong Kong---Human Story

A FEW years ago the rocky scrubland land was littered with primitive huts made of tin, wood, sacking or cardboard. Men, women and children, with their chickens and pigs, lived huddled together.

Today, where there was squalor, modernistic seven-story blocks of flats challenge the mountain skyline. The people from the hovels now enjoy the benefits of running water, sanitation and electric light.

The place: Hong Kong, an area of 391 square miles. The people: the refugees from Communist China, nearly 1,000,000 of them, who have crowded in during the past seven years. When they crossed the border they had to be sheltered, fed, protected from disease. Now, only 300,000 squatters, most of them refugees, remain to be settled in proper homes, and most of this task is expected to be finished in a few years.

The story of this remarkable achievement is told in a booklet, "A Problem of People," issued by the Hong Kong government. It tells how, with only 62 square miles of usable land, Hong Kong now maintains a population of over 2,500,000—nearly 2,000,000 more than when the British reoccupied the place from the Japanese in 1945. The invaders had expelled hundreds of thousands of people; these flooded back. Then, when China's civil war spread to the southern provinces in 1950, refugees poured in like a human sea.

Inundation

The Hong Kong Government asks this rhetorical question: "Why was this allowed to happen? A small integrated community with resources appropriate to its size surely has a right to protection against an inundation from strangers. Was it assumed that up to 1,000,000 immigrants could be assimilated to an acceptable degree and in reasonable time?"

And it gives this answer which may fall oddly on modern ears: "the immigrants were admitted on humanitarian grounds alone and the problems to which they would give rise if they did not return or emigrate elsewhere were deliberately accepted."

These problems, of course, were immense. Accommodation was desperately short, and so was land. Building land in Hong Kong is not found, it is made; either hacked out of the hills or created by reclamation. Most of the refugees were farmers. But where was the farming land? Fifty square miles was under cultivation, and that was already supporting a population of nearly 300,000.

The immigrants were homeless and the only livelihood they knew was debarred to them. So they poured into the cities of Hong Kong and Kowloon. They turned their hands to new trades with the resilience and resourcefulness of their race, and they caused little trouble so long as they were left undisturbed in their pathetic settlements, densely packed by both necessity and choice.

But soon disastrous fires were to sweep through the shanty towns. After one, 50,000 people were homeless. Following this, the Hong Kong Government made three decisions: 1—the land cleared by the fire should be used to the maximum practical intensity for the resettlement of the fire victims; 2—the Government would itself build and finance the resettlement buildings; 3—the Governmn would make itself responsible for feeding the homeless until they could be resettled in permanent buildings.

Vast New Burden

This, says the booklet, placed upon a community, still suffering from the economic effects of the China trade embargo, arising from the Korean war, a vast new burden which would not be lightened for many years to come. Hong Kong had begun many major public works since the war—a new reservoir, a new airport, a vast hospital, reclamations, clinics, schools. But those three decisions on refugees implied a greater commitment than any of the other schemes.

"The commitment was undertaken," says the Government, "because the spectacle of such extremes of misery, need and danger in the heart of a prosperous city could no longer be tolerated."

And so today the huge blocks of flats, with their clubs, schools and communal centres, are still being built at top speed. To house those still needing accommodation, 200 more acres of land and 200,000,000 Hong Kong dollars will be required.

The people of Hong Kong have paid, and will continue to pay, for this humanitarian work. As the booklet concludes: "It is perhaps not too much to say that the people of Hong Kong have pledged a portion of their own future for the benefit of strangers who took refuge here."

UN CORRESPONDENCE By CHARLES LYNCH

How It Looks to a Small Boy

NEW YORK—Taking an eight-year-old boy to United Nations headquarters is about as strenuous as taking an eight-year-old boy anywhere, but it helps keep things in perspective.

At the risk of encouraging our eight-year-old readers to make similar requests to their daddies, we yielded to pressure from Master Daniel Lynch that he accompany us to that place of mystery known as "the office."

LYNCH

Like others of his kind, he is of an inquisitive turn of mind, and by day's end he had asked more questions about the UN than we ourselves had been able to fashion in eight months of toil here.

The office that we inhabit has a picture window looking out on the East River, and no sooner had we entered it than our small companion went to the window, squinted down at the water and said: "It's scary. Does anyone ever fall in?" So far as we knew, nobody ever had. "If you jumped from here, would you land in the water?" We pulled him back hastily, said we thought you would. "Would you be dead before you hit bottom?" No doubt.

"Who owns the UN?" We welcomed the change of subject, but again were hard-pressed to give a suitable answer. "Everybody," we said. "We were told in school that the United States pays more than anybody else." That was true. "Then they should own it," ruled our charge.

"Who's the boss here?" was the next question. We said nobody was, but the nations all tried to work together. "All these people without a boss? How do they ever get any work done?" We said there was a man called the secretary-general who tried to look after the place in the name of all the nations that belonged. "Even the Communists?" he asked. Yes, we said—the office next door to ours was used by Tass, the Russian news agency, and was full of communists.

After a moment of silence, the next question: "When do we eat?"

We adjourned to the cafeteria on the floor above, and this turned out to be the high spot of the day, for people who work at the UN all seem agreed that children are wonderful. There were warm smiles and friendly nods on all sides for the eight-year-old visitor, and glamorous females of many races, whom we had long admired with furtive glances, smiled and stopped to chat. Two Chinese struck up a conversation, and Pete Freuchen, the bearded Danish explorer who is the UN's top celebrity through his achievements on the $64,000 Question, stopped by and yielded his autograph. Quite apart from all this, Daniel pronounced the food to be "Better than Mummy's," highest of praise for an eatery that must cater to palates from every member nation.

"All the people here are nice," pronounced our hero, as we left the table. We paused to talk to the bootblack who can say "shoe shine" in 26 languages, and we were given a demonstration. "Can you shine my white buck shoes?" he was asked. "No," was the reply, shattering the illusion created by the linguistic performance. "Oh, well," said Daniel. "They're not mine anyway, I just borrowed them from my sister for the day." We had hoped that this embarassing fact would not emerge, so we bled.

A tour of the halls and conference rooms brought worried comments about the danger of moths in the rugs, and a bored expression as we listened to the proceedings in the trusteeship council about conditions in Western Samoa.

Back to the office, to witness a cruise ship glide by. "Perhaps it will turn over," said master eight-year-old, in what seemed a hopeful tone. A police helicopter flew by and brought cries of glee. "Don't you ever do any work?" he asked. We remarked that we had been reading and typing a good part of the day. "Humph." As we left for home, Danny said good-bye to all his new friends and said: "I like the UN."

LONDON LETTER By WALLACE REYBURN

Sabotage

LONDON — A new book called simply Sabotage tells of some of the secrets of the fantastic exploits Britain's sabotage experts got up during the past war. I say some of the secrets because the War Office will never let out the full story.

Author Leslie Bell took 10 years to convince them that the information he uses could be released, on the basis that it had now become common knowledge. Many other successful sabotage ruses remain on the secret list, for use in event of another war.

Reyburn

Leader of the sabotage operations was Col. Wills, a former movie director, who had the title during the war of Camouflage Adviser to the Inter-service Research Bureau.

Their "factory" was in a carpenter's shop at the Victoria and Albert Museum in Kensington and it was there that they made their samples of what became known as "death in disguise."

* * *

When the problem of getting Sten guns to the French underground cropped up, the death-in-disguise men solved it in an ingenious way. Sten guns being bulky, they were harder to get into France than ammunition and grenades. Wills go the idea of concealing them in tunny fish to be brought in with their regular catch by French fishermen off the Normandy coast.

Using real tunny fish as models, while the Museum authorities complained that the smell attracted every cat in Kensington, Wills' men made rubber replicas. To add the final touch he sent to Billingsgate for fish offal, from which was made a solution that gave them the required fishy smell.

And these fake fish, with a Sten gun and six magazines of ammunition in each, were brought into Normandy by the French tunny fleet under the averted noses of Nazi port guards.

Another thing manufactured at the sabotage factory was driftwood in all shapes and sizes. Inside it were explosives in waterproof containers. German guards on the French coast took no notice of "beachcombers" collecting these bits of wood along the sands.

When Gestapo men took to using bikes because of the gasoline shortage, Wills' experts made copies of Continental bicycle pumps—with a difference. Blowing up a tire proved fatal to many of the Gestapo.

HOME GARDEN By HILDA BEASTALL

2 Scabiosa Groups Would Thrive Here

Of the several species of scabiosa listed, there are two which could well be grown in many of our gardens.

One is annual in habit. Scabiosa atropurpurea (meaning dark purple), known by some gardeners as sweet scabious, and by others as pincushion flower.

Hilda

Growing to a height of three feet, this scabiosa has elegance of habit to contribute to the bed of annuals. The foliage is sparse, but the long branching stems carry the round heads in abundance.

Until fairly recently, the only colours available were purple, pink and white. There are now added various blues, reds and dark maroon. These all make excellent cut flowers, and are easily grown from seed sown indoors in late March or early April.

The other species which we should grow is Scabiosa caucasia, and its many varieties and hybrids. This species is perennial, and when a particularly fine plant is acquired it is well to propagate every third year by division and cuttings. If left to itself indefinitely a plant may eventually die out.

S. caucasia has branched stems from 18 to 24 inches tall, and the flowers, while retaining a pincushion-like centre, have wide overlapping rounded petals which in some varieties are frilled.

Colours in this perennial group are white, pale and deep lavender.

Essential for growing scabiosa, whether annual or perennial, is a sunny, well-drained, and fairly rich soil, somewhat alkaline.

While the perennial species is quite hardy as far as temperature is concerned, it will not tolerate a stiff, sticky soil in winter or a dry baked soil in summer.

To a bed of sandy loam, slightly raised if necessary for winter drainage, add a light touch of lime. The work involved will repay with long lasting flowers of unusual beauty.

Planting may be done in spring, or fall, but not later than early September under our conditions.

$65,000 in Prizes At This Year's PNE

The Pacific National Exhibition August 21 to September 2 in Vancouver's Exhibition Park will be the finest ever, the directors reported today.

More than $65,000 is offered in prizes in livestock, horticultural poultry and home art shows, considered the fifth largest on the continent. Record entries are expected.

Among top attractions will be the Shrine-PNE circus, a new thrill show that exceeds anything previous.

There will be daily horse racing, rain or shine, with eight races a day.

The prize program is tremendous, with the top prize a completely furnished house. A car will also be given away on 10 of the 11 fair days.

Once again the gayway highlights new shows and rides, and Kiddieland will provide for enjoyment of the tiniest tots in complete safety.

Free attractions will abound, and will include the risky sway-pole act twice daily of the "Sky Kings." A Hawaiian show will function close by, and band concerts are slated twice a day in front of the B.C. Building. The armed forces have several spectacular displays and also band concerts.

Free attractions are also offered 10 hours daily on the huge stage of the outdoor theatre, including a talent contest conducted each night with rich rewards to winners, and the "Miss PNE" and "Miss Vancouver" contests.

Official opening is 2 p.m. Wednesday, August 21, on the outdoor stage and Lieutenant Governor Frank Ross officiates. A four-hour parade through the downtown area precedes this.

Free also will be TV entertainment, film entertainment, horse shows and other attractions.

A profusion of lovely blooms will grace the flower show, the only refrigerated event of its kind on the continent.

Another continent "first" is the hobby show, largest of its kind.

Commercial exhibits will display the latest in comfortable living as well as the latest products of industry.

Boy Watches With Keen Interest As Doctors Patch Hole in Heart

MONTREAL (CP) — Pierre Whissel, 11, took a good look Tuesday at the complicated machine used to detour his blood while doctors patched a hole in the inner wall of his heart.

The detour lasted 24 minutes last July 3 and Pierre, a spry youngster from Varennes, Que., was awake and talking an hour after the first successful artificial heart operation in the province.

Making it possible was a mechanical heart-lung machine which forced the blood through the body while the heart was drained and infused oxygen into the stream.

Heading a large team performing the operation was Dr. Edouard Gagnon, in charge of heart surgery at the Montreal Institute of Cardiology. The team worked on the machine more than a year co-ordinating their techniques.

NO ERROR MARGIN

"The least error by any member would have meant failure," said Dr. Gagnon.

He detailed procedure.

Blood from 15 donors was poured into the machine and Dr. Cecil Harris of the Red Cross supervised its processing. His main problem was to maintain the blood chemistry balance so that no clotting or hemorrhaging would result in the substitute supply.

A battery of electronics instruments indicated how various parts of Pierre's body were coming along. These included blood pressure, heart impulses, the vital blood flow to the brain and other factors.

Once the heart was exposed, its main outlets were attached to two tubes and oxygen was fed into the rerouted blood stream.

Was Pierre frightened? Not a bit, he told reporters, either before or after the operation. He was looking forward to going back to school next fall.

Child Found Dead On Mountain Peak

BRIDGEPORT, Calif. (AP)—The body of little David Allen Scott was brought to this mountain community late Tuesday after the youngster—dead of exposure and exhaustion—was found at the 8,500-foot level of Eagles Peak. The boy, who would have been three next Monday, strayed Saturday from the Sierra campsite of his parents.

Tenant Awaited For Opposition Leader's Home

OTTAWA (CP) — Stornoway, the 14-room mansion in suburban Rockcliffe maintained as a home for the Commons Opposition leader, will remain empty for an indefinite time.

Hon. George Drew, who retired last fall as Opposition leader, is expected to vacate the $75,000 home in a week or two. He recently was appointed Canadian high commissioner to the United Kingdom.

Use of the residence was offered Opposition leader St. Laurent after the June 10 federal election. Instead, Mr. St. Laurent, now at his St. Patrick, Que., summer home, plans to move into an uptown apartment Oct. 1.

The grey stucco building, bought in 1953 with funds raised by Canadians of various political leanings, likely will remain vacant until an Opposition leader decides to make it his home. He may occupy it rent free but must provide his own furnishings. Meanwhile, a caretaker is looking after the building and grounds.

Passing Bridge Halts Train

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP)—A train passing through here Tuesday had to wait—while a bridge passed by.

At a crossing on No. 4 highway an inbound freight was held up while an 80-foot span, which used to bridge a creek in the western section of the city, was hauled over the tracks.

The bridge is being inched along a roundabout route to Aylmer, 10 miles east of here, via a detour round the south of the city to avoid sharp curves, culverts and narrow bridges.

Rugged Life Led by Team At South Pole

SEATTLE (AP) — Eighteen Americans have been isolated since Feb. 10 on the bleak, windswept, bitterly cold ice cap one-half mile from the South Pole.

"They have lived through some of the coldest weather in the world. On May 11 it got down to 100 below zero. Next day it was 97 below.

It's pitch black around the clock, except for brief periods when skies are clear and moonlight relieves the stygian darkness. The wind blows almost constantly, averaging about 23 miles an hour. New snow falls about every third day.

No plane will visit them until early November. The last plane to arrive at the Pole landed Feb. 10.

This account of life 9,000 miles away is carried by the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, following a short-wave radio interview through station WTBA operated by Seattle "ham" Lloyd Peek.

Dulles-John D. Talk 'To Affect Relations'

NEW YORK (CP)—The Herald Tribune says talks in Ottawa next week between Prime Minister Diefenbaker and U.S. State Secretary Dulles will be "highly important" because "the note struck is likely to effect relations . . . for some time.

Economic problems are likely to preoccupy both men, the newspaper says in an editorial.

Referring to Diefenbaker's recent remark that he would like to see about 15 per cent of Canada's imports from the U.S. diverted to British exporters, The Herald Tribune says:

"It is a question as to whether the shift can be accomplished. The United States, not Britain, is where the capital and equipment to nourish the Canadian boom will ultimately have to come from. Furthermore, there are serious doubts whether Britain can enlarge as a market for Canadian agriculture products, even if Canada is willing to receive payment in sterling."

Canada's surplus grain represents one of the more acute problems, the newspaper says.

"The Canadians believe that the dumping of surplus American grain, and wheat especially, is ruining their markets abroad. They also resent the practice of setting quotas on agricultural products imported by the United States."

These, the newspaper says, are some of the things the prime minister and the secretary of state will be thinking about.

Teachers' Group Advice Asked on Bottle Threat

Social Problem Said Involved In Suspended Student's Action

Prosecution of an Esquimalt youth, who assaulted an Esquimalt high school teacher with a broken bottle, may hinge on advice of the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

Patrick Thomas, the teacher who was told by a former student, "I am going to kill you," told the Times from Vancouver Tuesday:

"I will see the BCTF and be in touch with my lawyer (J. Alan Baker) for advice.

"I am not interested in persecuting this fellow, and I don't think it should be a personal matter. But there is a social problem here which must be dealt with.

"Had there been a policeman on duty, I don't think the incident would ever have occurred."

The incident came to light at a Greater Victoria School Board meeting Monday. Principal of Esquimalt High School, C. A. Kelly, told the board that on May 31, a student who had been suspended last year, attended a school dance.

Apparently bitter because the affair honored the graduating class — which would have included him if he had not been dismissed — the boy pressed a broken bottle against Mr. Thomas' stomach and threatened his life. Other teachers intervened and the youth was sent home under police escort. He had been drinking.

Mr. Kelly asked the board to arrange for police protection at evening parties in future. In Victoria, off-duty officers are hired to supervise such events.

Esquimalt Reeve Asks Probe

Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt called Tuesday for a complete investigation of circumstances leading to the incident. School board chairman W. H. Golby doubted the board would investigate further.

The reeve said although Mr. Thomas had preferred a charge verbally, the written charge had not been signed.

"In consequence, no police action could be taken."

He added that he could not see why it is necessary to have off-duty officers attend school functions. Students would resent it and the police agreement does not permit officers to accept outside employment.

PLACED ON

Senior school authorities interviewed said they could not understand why a teacher would have to sign a complaint. They felt this would put the incident on a personal teacher-student basis.

"If an attempt is made to rob a bank, in a traffic offence, and in other similar cases, it is not necessary for a citizen to lay charges. The police do so. Why can't they lay a charge in this case?"

Lawyer W. H. M. Haldane, QC, advised the school board it would be up to the teacher involved to lay any charges.

Esquimalt Cnief Gilbert Stancombe said today: "I concur in Mr. Haldane's advice. Charges were prepared in this case by the police and Mr. Thomas refused to be an informant."

Asked whether it would be impossible for the police to lay a charge without Mr. Thomas signing a complaint, the chief said: "I wouldn't want to say that . . ."

Principal Kelly pointed out to the board, "My staff wants to feel that something definite is done, so there will not be any repetitions . . ."

Chief Stancombe had indicated Tuesday the case was a juvenile court problem. He said today he was not "sure it is a juvenile offence. It would depend on the boy's age at the time of the incident." Mr. Kelly described the boy as 18.

JAIL DOOR JAM STICKY AFFAIR

WOLVERHAMPTON, Eng. (AP) — An embarrassed policeman explained to the judge today why his two prisoners hadn't shown up in court when their names were called. The lock on the jail door had jammed.

"At the moment, we can't get them out," the policeman reported.

The court recessed for 20 minutes while a locksmith was summoned. He removed the lock.

SWIM CLASSES POPULAR

Swimming classes at Chemainus Beach have attracted 76 youngsters, who take lessons three times each week from Alan Goldie, right, head instructor, and his assistant, Mrs. J. Knight, at left. Goldie, a well-known local athlete, is lifeguard at the beach, where expenses are met from special fund raised by Chemainus Kinsmen Club. Two years ago Goldie attempted swim across Stuart Channel to Chemainus. He also plays baseball for Chemainus Red Sox. (Poskitt photo.)

New Life For Old P.O. Clock?

NANAIMO — The old post office clock, long a landmark until the old building was demolished in 1955 to make way for the new federal building, may come to life again.

Pioneer Society of Nanaimo, and Recreational Friendship Club, this week urged the city council to install the clock either in "some prominent position," or on the new post office building.

Ald. P. J. Piper, who saved the clock from possible destruction and had it stored in the city hall basement, was given authority to check the feasibility of installing the clock on a rocky knoll near city hall before the centennial year.

Eight New Houses For North Cowichan

DUNCAN — Permits for eight new houses were issued during the first two weeks of this month by North Cowichan municipality. They represent a value of $42,220.

Early Start Approved On Lupsi Kupsi Sewer

PORT ALBERNI—City council here has authorized Associated Engineering Services Ltd. of Vancouver to proceed with the $448,000 Lupsi Kupsi sewer project to serve the north end of the city.

Mayor Loran Jordon, finance chairman Ald. Norman Odgers, and city treasurer H. D. Thain will act as a committee in handling $348,000 worth of debentures to meet the cost of the project. The remaining $100,000 is available from other funds.

The Vancouver company will order the pipe necessary to cross Somass River, and McKenzie Barge and Dredging Ltd., also of Vancouver, will do necessary dredging and pipe laying.

Despite apprehension regarding the state of the bond market, the council urged the construction firm and engineering advisers to move quickly.

Council also agreed to have Associated Engineering prepare plans and specifications for a sewer disposal unit to serve the southern end of the city.

Area to be served would be that within Fourteenth and Sixteenth Avenues, and Bruce and Neill Streets. Already available to help with the cost is $20,000 remaining from an old sewer by-law.

BARR WINS GOLF TITLE AT QUALICUM ON 39TH

QUALICUM BEACH — Winner of the men's finals at Qualicum Beach Golf Club over the week-end was Peter Barr, on the 39th hole.

Mr. Barr was trailing at the 18th with Les Davidson in the lead, but made a fine comeback and was all square at the 36th hole.

Nanaimo Buys Own Gravel Pit

City Will Have Independence From Suppliers for Road Work

NANAIMO—Barnes Sand and Gravel Co. gravel pit near Cassidy, four miles south of here, will be bought by the city for $12,500.

The decision, which will give the city independence from private suppliers, was reached by city council this week.

The pit covers an area of 113½ acres.

Title to the timber remaining on the land is held by the company selling the pit, and the city will be prohibited from entering the gravel business commercially. It is understood, though, the latter stipulation is open to negotiations.

INVESTIGATION

Application to the council for a building permit for "temporary quarters" in the business section was turned over to the property committee for investigation.

"How long is temporary?" an alderman asked.

"There is no such thing as a temporary building," city engineer Arthur Leynard said.

Protests Mount As More Power Cut-Offs Due

A power cutoff Sunday in the Campbell River-Oyster Bay region, bitterly protested by resort and service station operators, likely will be repeated several times in the next few weeks.

Already one protest meeting has been held, and the Campbell River Chamber of Commerce has set a meeting for Thursday to discuss what it feels may become a serious problem.

The Sunday outage was between 12.45 and 4.45 p.m., but had been well advertised, a B.C. Power Commission spokesman said.

"BEEFED UP"

"The transmission lines as far south as Fanny Bay must be 'beefed up' before winter," he said. "If we don't do it now we will have much more serious outages in the middle of winter. The power has to be off some time, and we thought perhaps Sunday afternoon is the best."

Cafe owners complained they could not serve meals, and the service station operators could not pump gas. Some have suggested shutdowns should be on Sunday from 4 to 8 a.m., or 5 to 9 a.m.

16-Year-Old Pleads Guilty On 7 Charges

NANAIMO — A 16-year-old boy from Brannan Lake School, who pleaded guilty Tuesday to seven offences when he appeared in police court, was sentenced by Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts to 18 months in the Young Offenders' Unit at Oakalla Prison.

Frederick John Mackenzie, who twice escaped from the school, was charged as follows: theft of two motorboats at Lantzville June 16, breaking and entering the home of Mrs. May Rogers June 16, breaking and entering and theft from Sea Cadet and Air Cadet headquarters July 1, theft of money from a car at Chase River July 2, and theft of a half-ton truck at Ladysmith.

Another 16-year-old from Brannan Lake was sentenced Monday for breaking and entering the Sea and Air Cadet headquarters, and for entering a Chase River garage.

RESIDENT SINCE 1901

Mrs. Annie James, Of Cobble Hill, Dead

DUNCAN—Mrs. Annie James, 91, Vancouver Island resident since 1901, died Tuesday at Cobble Hill.

Born in Wolverhamton, Yorkshire, England, she moved to the Muskoka district of Ontario in 1883, when she was 17, and in 1890 married Percival Thomas James in Toronto.

The following year she and her husband moved to Victoria, and from 1910 to 1930 they lived in the Gulf Islands.

In 1930 the family moved to the Cowichan district where they operated the James seed farm.

Mrs. James was a director of Lady Minto Hospital in Ganges, Salt Spring Island, and a member of the women's auxiliary to St. Peter's Church, Quamichan.

Her husband died in 1939. Surviving are three sons, Fred and Charles, in Duncan, and Jack, Kelowna; a daughter, Mrs. T. E. Lee, Fulford Harbor, Salt Spring Island; two sisters, Mrs. J. Ball, Oneida, N.Y., and Mrs. J. E. Smart, Ganges; nine grandcrildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at St. Peter's Church.

Residents Testify On Driving Charge

NANAIMO—Gerald Terence Morgan of East Wellington was found guilty in police court Tuesday of careless driving after residents of Lynburn subdivision reported him to police, then testified against him in court.

He was fined $25 and lost his licence for seven weeks after witnesses said he almost turned his car over as he careened into a driveway, then plunged through some bush before leaving with a scream of tires.

One witness, William Jarvie, said the youth's driving was so dangerous "it made me mad."

Another, trucking operator George Topp, said that if one of his employees handled a vehicle in the same manner he would "fire him the same day."

Accused had two previous traffic convictions.

"Sooner or later you will kill somebody if you don't kill yourself first," Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts said as he passed sentence.

Youths Use Hands To Dig Out Chum

(From CP Dispatches)

HORSESHOE BAY—Four boys saved a 13-year-old companion from suffocation Tuesday by digging him out from under three feet of sand with their bare hands.

Rescued was Walter Gibbs, who was buried when a tunnel he was building in a pile of loose sand collapsed.

Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Gibbs of North Vancouver, was in good condition in hospital, suffering from shock.

Roy Larsen, 13, said Walter had crawled full-length into the tunnel when it collapsed.

"He started to kick his feet but we couldn't hear any noise except the kicking.

"We dug him out with our hands; I think it took about three minutes.

"When we got him out, at first we couldn't tell whether he was dead or alive. After a few minutes he opened his eyes."

Garth Wright and two unidentified boys also helped in the rescue.

The five were building the sand tunnel to use as a cooler for fish they were spearing under a wharf.

DIES OF BURNS

ABBOTTSFORD—G. H. Remple, 65, died in hospital Tuesday of burns received in a machine shop accident Monday.

Mr. Remple was using an electrical grinding machine in the combination shop-chicken house behind his home when a bottle of explosive fluid jarred off a shelf.

The contents sprayed Mr. Remple and the grinder's heat ignited his clothing.

WAGE PROPOSAL REJECTED

KITIMAT — The Kitimat Builders' Exchange has rejected a conciliation board proposal for settling a dispute with the carpenter's union, it was learned Tuesday.

The Kitimat local of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America is the only local in B.C. which has not agreed to a 1957-1958 contract.

George Bengough of the provincial council of carpenters said Tuesday in Vancouver that an agreement between other B.C. carpenters and their employers should be signed Thursday or Friday. The agreement would give carpenters a wage of $2.44 an hour retroactive to April 1, and $2.51 an hour from Oct. 1 to March 31, 1958. The rate would be $2.68 an hour from April 1, 1958, to March 31, 1959.

FISHBOAT BURNS

FORT LANGLEY—A gillnetter caught fire and exploded in the Fraser River Tuesday and another fishing vessel rammed and partly sank it so that other craft would not be endangered.

Harry Waska was beginning his first day of salmon fishing since settlement of a fishermen's strike.

He and Jerry Kuster, 16, steered the burning boat to a log boom and jumped to safety without even getting wet.

PLANE LANDED TO HUNT BOMB

VANCOUVER (CP) — A United Airlines DC-6B carrying 38 passengers was called back to Vancouver International Airport Tuesday night when the airline's office received a telephone warning that a bomb was on the plane. None was found.

Pilot Mel Chadwick, 36, of St. Louis said he "was bearing in mind" the disastrous bomb explosion in a United plane that killed 44 persons in November 1955.

"We get enough of these calls to know most are hoaxes, but you never know," Chadwick said.

Eaton Hanging 'Ghoulish' Says Tory MP

VANCOUVER (CP) A newly-elected member of parliament said today, after attending the hanging of child-murderer Gerald Eaton, that it was in a sense barbarbarous and ghoulish.

John Taylor, Progressive Conservative member for Vancouver-Burrard, said in a specially-written story in the Province that he went to the hanging early Tuesday because he wanted to "have a thorough understanding of everything connected with a hanging" so he would know better how to act towards appeals made to him as an MP on behalf of convicted persons.

"After the hanging, I felt that if I could walk as far as my car I would be lucky," Mr. Taylor said. "I felt faint and I particularly noticed other members of the (coroner's) jury shaken too; their hands trembled.

"Hanging is a barbaric institution that in many ways seems foreign in modern-day society. The crime committed by Eaton was a heinous one and . . . he cannot be forgiven, but must his death be carried out in such a barbarous fashion? In order to dispose of a person must we do it in such a ghoulish way?"

Bridge Worker Electrocuted

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — Rudy Gelowitz, 33-year-old cement finisher from Kelowna, was electrocuted Tuesday while apparently inspecting cement work on the pontoons of the Okanagan Lake bridge project.

It was the first fatality since construction on the bridge began a year ago. Gelowitz was believed to have been using an electric light cable in his inspection and took hold of it while standing in water.

DIES MOWING LAWN

VANCOUVER—Angus MacDonald, 44-year-old father of two, collapsed and died while mowing his lawn. Doctors said he died of coronary thrombosis.

REBELLION IN HOME OF BRAVES

Emotions aroused by 20-4 walloping of their beloved Braves by Brooklyn Monday night may subside, but Milwaukee fans strung this effigy of manager Fred Haney on downtown lamp post before Braves went into action against Philadelphia last night. Brooklyn Game From Lead; Duke Sparks Fifth Straight

By UNITED PRESS

Brooklyn Dodgers, reveling in their role of killjoys, are sticking pins in the World Series balloons of all other contenders today and threatening to take over the National League pennant party themselves.

Walt Alston's crew has been busy killing off the contenders since the All-star break. The Dodgers resumed play by defeating Cincinnati twice, then they swept a two-game series with Milwaukee.

And Tuesday night they toppled the high-riding Cardinals, 7-6, for their fifth victory in a row as they climbed within a game of the league lead.

Duke Snider has been the Dodgers' chief hatchetman with four home runs in the last five games. He blasted his 20th of the season with one on in the fifth off Lindy McDaniel to highlight a four-run rally that helped reliever Carl Erskine to his third victory. Gil Hodges also homered for Brooklyn, making a total of 10 homers the aroused Dodgers have belted in the last five games.

The Brooklyn triumph tightened the National League race so that only one game separated the first four clubs. Milwaukee defeated first-place Philadelphia, 6-2, and the Giants beat the Redlegs, 6-1. Pittsburgh topped Chicago, 5-4, in the completion of a game suspended June 16, then beat the Cubs, 5-3, in a regularly scheduled contest.

YANKS BOOST LEAD

The Yankees increased their American League lead to four games with a 10-4 triumph over the Tigers in 10 innings; Baltimore licked the White Sox, 3-1; Boston edged Kansas City, 4-3, and Cleveland defeated Washington, 9-3.

Home runs by Hank Aaron and Del Crandall helped Warren Spahn gain his 10th victory at the expense of the Phillies although the veteran southpaw also needed a brilliant ninth-inning catch by right fielder Andy Pafko with the bases full to nail down his triumph. Harvey Haddix was the loser.

Ruben Gomez of the Giants set down the Redlegs on six hits as Daryl Spencer hit a pair of homers for New York and Eddie Bressoud added another. Hal Jeffcoat started for the Redlegs and gave up eight of the Giants' 13 hits. Willie Mays collected four of them.

THOMAS ON SPREE

Frank Thomas fattened up on Chicago's pitching in both Pirate victories. Thomas' 13th homer of the year in the seventh inning won the suspended game which was resumed with the score tied 4-4 in the seventh. Then, in the regular game, Thomas doubled home two runs in a three-run seventh and added a single in a two-run eighth as Bob Friend went the distance for his seventh victory.

Tommy Byrne's three-run homer featured a six-run rally in the 10th that gave the Yanks their triumph after the Tigers had rallied to tie the score at 4-4 in the ninth.

Byrne, who won a game for the Yankees with a home run against the White Sox Sunday, entered the game in the ninth and was credited with his fourth victory.

A two-run homer by Billy Goodman in the eighth inning snapped Baltimore's four-game losing streak and sent Jim Wilson of the White Sox down to his seventh setback. Goodman's wallop, off reliever Dixie Howell, came immediately after the resumption of play following a 26-minute delay because of rain. Ray Moore was the winner.

Jackie Jensen and Ted Williams teamed up in Boston's victory over Kansas City. Williams hit his 26th homer in the ninth off loser Virgil Trucks and after Mickey Vernon walked, Jensen homered to put the Red Sox ahead 4-2.

Farmer Power Sinks Liberals

By GRAHAM COX

Most of the story of Tuesday night's Northwest International Baseball League game at Royal Athletic Park can be summed up in two names, Bill Prior and Art Worth, as Farmer Construction hammered Vancouver Young Liberals to a humiliating 12-2 defeat.

Prior, pitching for the Victoria crew, kept Vancouver guessing from the opening frame. He whiffed 10 of the 32 batters he faced and allowed the losers only six hits while issuing the same number of free passes to first base.

Only two of the hits were good for more than a single base. Matt Yanchuk clipped a double into short right in the second to drive in Vancouver's first run, and Ron Evenson bounced a double off the right-centre fence in the seventh.

THREE-RUN HOMER

Prior went far in assuring himself of a win as he drove in three of the first four runs on three consecutive base hits.

He opened the scoring in the bottom of the second with a driving double through second base to send Ron Martin home from second. He singled Pete Ash across in the fourth and doubled Lyall Cornett in from third in the sixth.

Worth caught the fancy of the fans in the seventh inning when he lined the ball over the right-centre field fence to drive Charlie Boyd and Jim Harford in ahead of him.

Bruce Carmichael added to the rout with a two-run double in the same inning to make the score 10-2.

Power and heads-up ball were the answers to the Farmer win as the team found the range on lefty Lorne Drummond and right-handed Roy Wahabyaski 17 separate times.

Farmers also accumulated three sacrifices and a pair or stolen bases — by Martin and Ash—as they continually had men in scoring position—and made them pay off.

Farmers meet Seattle Cheney Studs Saturday in a double-header with game times at 2.30 and 8.00 p.m.

ARROWS NIP MAYOS

Gerry's Effort Came Too Late

Mayo Lumber's playoff hopes in the Senior "A" Men's Softball League grew dimmer as Arrow Furniture pulled another full game ahead of last-place Mayos on a 7-5 win Tuesday night at Central Park to take a firm hold on the last playoff berth.

Arrows picked up 12 safeties, hitting at least once in each of the first six frames, before Mayos sent Gerry Capps in to relieve starter Brian McKinley and pull the string tight.

Capps went the final two innings without giving up a hit.

On the mound for Arrows, Don Ward turned in a steady performance as he allowed only six hits, four of them in the last three frames when the visitors scored all of their runs.

Ward had a two-hit shutout going into the seventh inning. Then Wally Thorne and Duff Chaster uncorked back-to-back triples for Mayos' first run.

From then on, it was a question of whether or not Arrows could hold on to the end.

They did, but Mayos made it close as they scored twice in each of the final frames.

The two teams meet Friday night in a postponed game at Duncan.

Homers Mark Oilers' Win

Home-run hitters stole the spotlight at Heywood Avenue Park Tuesday night when Re-refined Oil climbed one-half game into fifth place in the Senior "B" Man's Softball League with a 10-5 win over Mary's Coffee Bar.

Howie Monk slammed out a third-inning, three-run homer to get the ball rolling for the Oilers and was followed by Georgie Bremner with a two-run round-tripper.

On the losing side, George Hall blasted out a two-run four-bagger.

Larry Jay pitched all the way for Re-refined, allowing five hits.

Bill Opens Irish Bag; 'Bellies Here Tonight

Vancouver Pilseners, currently in last place in the Inter-City Lacrosse League, are by no means standing idly by while their obituary is written.

Tuesday at Vancouver they proved to Victoria Shamrocks that they were still alive and kicking, surprising the league-leaders, 10-8, as Bill Barbour pocketed two unassisted goals late in the fourth quarter to break an 8-8 tie.

Barbour's tallies came with startling suddeness for Shamrocks, who suddenly saw a game that had appeared to be in the bag go down the drain.

Tied at two goals apiece after the first quarter, the Rocks were leading 3-2 at the half. They upped the count to 7-3 shortly after the intermission, fumbled a bit as the Pilseners crept closer to 7-6, but closed out the frame leading 8-6.

BILL DID REST

Then all was nullified as Gordie Gimple scored for Vancouver at 4.20 and Bob Parry tied it up at 6.05. The rest was left to Barbour.

Tonight at Memorial Arena the Rocks will again try to pad their league lead, currently a precarious two points over Nanaimo Timbermen, when they tackle the New Westminster Salmonbellies.

Salmonbellies will be working hard for a win, with Vancouver only six points back after Tuesday's game.

Expected to be back with the Rocks tonight is Al Gill, who missed a game because of a minor injury. He will replace Bob Bremner, who played his second game Tuesday and isn't likely to see action until the playoffs.

WORLD BANTAM CHAMP LOSES BOUT WITH PIG

MEXICO CITY (AP) — World bantamweight champion Raul (Raton) Macias was attacked Tuesday by a pig that went wild but the boxer's doctor said the injuries are not serious.

Dr. Manuel Guardarrama said the popular Mexican's fighting ability should not be impaired.

He said Macias suffered a deep and long bite wound on the inside of his left thigh besides teeth scratches on the same leg.

A friend presented him with a large pig named Raton in the fighter's honor. The pig went wild, knocked the fighter to the ground and bit him several times before the young Mexican got to his feet and fled. He fainted and was unconscious for 15 minutes.

Bishop Dazzles Dowell Batters

A budding Don Larsen came to light Tuesday in the Capital City Colt League when Steve Bishop won the final game of the schedule and the league championship for Victoria Tire, blanking Dowell's 8-0 with a two-hitter.

The two hits came in the first inning, when Bishop had to work himself out of a bases-loaded with two out situation.

He found out that the easiest way to keep the batters from hitting was to strike them out, and he did just that to 18 of those to face him, accounting for all but three of his team's put-outs.

The win pushed Victoria Tire a full two games into the league lead as the schedule ended.

Play-off time starts Tuesday for the Colt Leaguers, at Windsor Park.

In the Victoria Babe Ruth League semifinals at Beacon Hill Park, Optimists gained a one-game jump on Tillicums as Ray Tillyer and Ron Fumerie combined their talents in a four-hit performance for a 7-2 win.

Oak Bay Little League first half champion Pollard Construction made it a clean sweep Tuesday night as they cinched the second half with an 8-6 win over second place Kersey's.

The win put them three full games out on top of the league.

Tie for Top Spot

Mrs. V. S. Godfrey and Mrs. H. G. Mearns tied in the "A" division of the ladies' division monthly, par competition at Victoria Golf Club on Tuesday.

In the "B" division, Mrs. R. S. Dyer won two up, while Miss M. Prutton was victorious in the "C" division, five up.

Punjabs Stretch Lacrosse Streak

Bilko Homers Beat Mounties

By The Associated Press

Los Angeles finally whipped Vancouver—and just when the Mounties needed a victory most in the fight for the Pacific Coast League lead.

Not that Charlie Metro's club is sunk, but the 10-4 loss last night brought San Diego into a second-place tie with the Mounties, four games behind San Francisco.

The Angels' win, sparked by two Steve Bilko homers, marked their first defeat of Vancouver since opening day. The Mounties had won 10 straight over the Angels.

Al Carries Slim Lead Into Final PGA Round

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (BUP)—Defending champion Al Balding of Toronto carried a slim two-point lead today as 69 golfers teed off in the final 18 holes of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship.

Balding, title holder for the past two years, carded a spectacular four-under-par 67 over the tricky Karwatha Golf Club course Tuesday.

Two strokes off the pace were Stan Leonard, a former winner of the CPGA, Bob Dean and Johnny Henrick.

Balding, who spent the winter on the U.S. circuit, described his play Tuesday as "probably the best golf I have shot since the last nine holes played at Downsview last year when I won the PGA."

Balding took 32 putts Tuesday, but said "That isn't bad, but I missed several short ones. The rest of my game has seldom been better."

He had eagle threes on the 2nd and 16th holes and two birdies. He had a two under par 33 going out and a two under par 34 coming back.

Leonard had an eagle three on the 5th as well as birdies.

The golfers were erratic in some of their shots as they missed many close putts as well as drives. Weather conditions were perfect, with sunny skies and a very slight breeze.

At stake is the Seagram Shield and $3,000 prize money.

Look at the list of rung-holders in the ninth-week Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association ladder and you'll see that Bill Burrows is perched in first place with a 13-pound, nine-ounce spring.

But the real leader is Sid Upton, who won the top prize in the seventh week of competition. Because he qualified then, he cannot occupy a berth on the ladder—but he is eligible for the first weekly prize of $15 with the 26-pound, three-ounce salmon he entered on Tuesday.

Thirteen fishermen have claimed rungs after two days of fishing.

OUTDOOR REPORT BY Doug Peden

There is a sad day in store for Sid Upton.

But until that unknown and inevitable date arrives, he plans to go right on enjoying himself.

Sid's idea of a good time is catching salmon. And although he admits he may be in something of a rut, he has been having a gay time at Saanich Inlet. It is only when he thinks of what might happen to his luck if and when he loses his favorite lure that his smile fades briefly.

During the past two seasons, Upton has taken "close to 300 fish" on the same plug—a green-backed Mac's Squid. "When I lose this one," he says, "it will be like losing an old friend.

With it, he has taken his share of small salmon, but he has also hauled in enough big ones to win seven trophies. The heaviest catch was the 43-pound lunker taken last August 30 that won Sid the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association's diamond-in-the-eye gold button for weighing in the largest salmon of the season at Saanich Inlet.

Although Upton needed only a 9½-pounder to win the Chinook Club's 1957 Dominion Day Derby, these other catches on that tooth-scarred Squid this season are enough to make most of us envious: Two salmon of 26 pounds, another of 23, three of 17 pounds, four 16-pounders and a raft of smaller ones.

Sid Has Own Ideas on Trolling Speed

And he has often scored when others were having trouble. Several anglers were blanked at Saanich Inlet, Monday morning, yet the plug accounted for three salmon, topped by a 17-pounder, and what looked like a 25-pound specimen slipped off the hooks at the boat. Tuesday morning it lured a 26-pounder.

Despite the number of salmon around this year, there have been a good number of stories about fishermen who have managed to land only a few small fish. Accordingly, it was interesting to learn how one man fools the fish.

Most anglers are inclined to troll on the fast side when using a plug. But, perhaps proving that no system can be called the best, Sid trolls at a slower-than-average rate.

He religiously uses 300 feet of wire, followed by 20 feet of cuttyhunk and a lead of around seven feet tied directly to the ring on the plug. He changes hooks regularly and ignores the use of a flasher or planer, preferring to use weights "never more than a pound and a half and mostly one pound this year." And, of course, he has his favorite spots.

It is no accident that Sid has managed to hang onto his plug. He has learned to fish close to reefs without getting hooked up and he changes every swivel on his outfit every third time out. Knots are examined every time the line goes into the water.

There may be a sad day ahead for Sid Upton, but before that date arrives, he hopes to knock off a few more big salmon.

In the meantime, it's a lead-pipe cinch you won't find the old plug lying around where it might tempt sticky fingers.

Art Midlane, who is again pulling out button-sized fish regularly this year, had to answer a barrage of questions on how he fished his Strip Teaser after winning the Ernie Silburn Memorial Trophy with a 21½-pounder Sunday.

Bill Hoskyn was sweating a bit in the same derby when it took him five hours to steer his guest to a fish. Bill shouldn't have worried, since anyone still asleep at the appointed time for leaving town deserves nothing better than dogfish.

Ed Duffin, Dan Thomas and the boys from Ed's boxing club did an excellent job in their fish-guessing contest last week. Their efforts boosted the Solarium Derby total by $108.

Only four days until the Solarium Derby. Have you bought your $1 entry ticket yet?

Winner Claimed

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ripless, a four-year-old chestnut gelding, was claimed for $1,600 after winning the $1,000 claiming race at Lansdowne Park here Tuesday.

Formerly owned and trained by Mr. and Mrs. M. Eisen, Ripless finished a length and a half in front of Al's Last in 1.11 4-5. With Willie Marsh at 113 pounds, the gelding paid $3.60, $3.20 and $2.60 in its second showing at Lansdowne this season.

HE'LL BE BACK

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders learned Monday that guard Larry Hayes, former Vanderbilt University and Big Four all-star, will be able to rejoin the club this season after all. It was feared earlier Hayes would be in the armed forces this year.

Island Hunters Benefit From New Regulations

Only a few changes were included in 1957-58 game regulations approved Tuesday, but hunters in Game Management Area No. 1, which takes in Vancouver Island and adjacent islands, appear to have derived the most benefit.

In Area No. 1 this year, the season on antlerless deer has been increased by one week to three weeks and hunters will be allowed to include two antlerless animals in their total bag limit of three deer. Last year, only one antlerless deer was permitted.

Antlerless shooting will begin this year on November 16 and will continue until December 1. Last year's doe season ran from November 24 to December 2.

The buck season remains virtually unchanged, opening on September 14 and closing on December 1. Last year's shooting time ran from September 14 to December 2.

SIX WILLOW GROUSE

Also slightly modified is the bag limit for grouse. While it remains at eight birds, six of these may now be ruffed (or willow) grouse. The former limit was four.

The season limit of 40 birds remains unchanged.

Changes in other Game Management Areas also will benifit the hunters.

In areas 3 and 4 there will be two extra weeks of moose shooting, and in area 3, an extra month of antlerless moose hunting will be allowed.

On Vancouver Island the bull elk season is similar to last year, with shooting being allowed from October 5 to October 20. In 1956 the season went from October 6 to October 21.

Again, each hunter is permitted one elk or one moose.

New seasons, with last year's seasons in brackets, follow.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then Ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Curtis Jones, 11, Utica, N.Y., for his question:

How Do They Split an Atom?

Some say the Atomic Age began in 1905. A German named Albert Einstein wrote down E—MC2 and explained what it meant. Those who could understand the famous formula agreed it was correct. Matter, it seems, is a form of energy. So much matter equals just so much energy. Matter is made from energy and can be changed back into energy. According to Einstein's formula, one pound of solid matter is equal to 11,400 million kilowatt hours of energy. This is equal to enough electric energy to provide our entire continent with all it needs through the Christmas and New Year's weeks — enough for normal needs, all the Christmas trees, extra lights and cooking.

When it becomes matter, energy gels into tiny atoms. Each atom is made of even smaller particles and the particles are bundles or electrical energy. The tremendous energy of matter, then is locked up in the tiny atom. When this became known every expert with an ounce of proper curiosity wanted to split the atom and release at least some of its tremendous energy.

Of course, the energy in one little atom is not worth the trouble. Some two billion atoms can, and probably do, dance comfortably on the point of a pin. An average atom has been compared to a midget solar system. Its sun is a nucleus which is set in the centre of particles which behave much like planets. The bulk of the atom's energy is in the nucleus. So, in splitting the atom, the nucleus is the bull's eye target. This is no easy job, for most of the atom is empty space. Among its outer particles, the nucleus has about as much room as a fly in a small movie house.

The nucleus is a bundle of electric particles bound tightly together. In order to split it, a bullet must reach its heart. The bullet carries energy of its own. This upsets the balance within the nucleus. It breaks into two or more parts and a certain amount of its energy is released.

The bullets, of course are smaller than the nucleus. Various kinds of atomic particles have been used for the job. The problem is to whip the tiny projectiles up to high enough speeds. The bulk of an atom smashing machine is given over to speeding up the bullets to be fired into the target. In some machines, the ammunition, in gaseous form, is introduced into a circular chamber. It is sandwiched top and bottom between powerful magnetic fields. Positive and negative electrodes supply powerful jolts from the sidelines. This inter-related electromagnetic power provides the energy which gives speed to the ammunition. The tiny particles are set whirling faster and faster around the chamber. The faster they go, the nearer they get to the outside rim. At a certain speed, they reach a window in the wall and out they stream in a beam which is directed at the target.

A vast number of these bullets are needed to smash a small number of atoms. With luck, one in 10,000 may get a bull's eye and split, or maybe chip a bit off a nucleus. The cycloon, the betatron and the bevatron atom-smashing machines have yielded much information about atoms and atomic particles. Bigger atoms have been split into smaller atoms. This is transmutation, the dream of the old alchemist who tried to turn cheap lead into valuable gold. Our atom smashers have turned platinum into gold. But this is no money maker, for platinum is more valuable than gold. However, this and other atom splitting tricks have given us something far more valuable than either gold or platinum. That is knowledge to understand, use and appreciate the very atoms of which our wonderful world is made.

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Monte Shaul, age 7, of Wood Lake, Nebraska, for his question:

Do Water Spouts Ever Come Over Nebraska?

The state of Nebraska is not visited by water spouts. But it sometimes gets a visit from the first cousin of the water spout. This nasty fellow is the raging tornado, the fiercest storm that ever strikes the earth. And a water spout is the sea-going cousin of the tornado. Both of these storms build up, form and strike in the same manner. Both have a dark funnel dipping down from a cloud and both have spiralling winds of unbelievable strength.

The centre of a tornado or a water spout is an almost-vacuum of terrific force. Such a storm has a pulling power like a vacuum cleaner, only much, much stronger. Whatever is in its path is sucked towards the centre on spiralling winds and lifted aloft. On land, the tornado gathers up dust, leaves and debris. On sea, the water spout gathers up spray, foam and water. From a distance, the two cousins may look alike. But the dark funnel of the water spout is composed of flying water. The dark funnel of the tornado is composed of dust and solid objects.

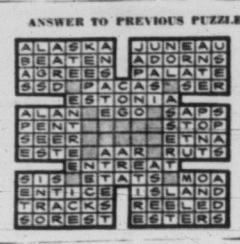
ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE



Only 11 Cases Of Polio This Year

At what doctors say is normally the height of the polio season, British Columbia is comparatively free of the dread disease.

Only 11 cases have been reported in the province this year, compared to 21 in the same period of 1956, which was also considered a "good" polio year.

There have been no deaths this year and only two cases of paralytic polio.

"It looks very good," deputy health minister Dr. G. F. Amyot said today.

TOO SOON

Doctors still believe it is too soon to give full credit to the Salk anti-polio vaccine.

Polio tends to occur in cycles and B.C. was due for light seasons in 1956 and 1957. However there is little doubt the vaccine is having an effect and eventually will eradicate the crippling disease.

In the Victoria area there have been only two cases this year, both mild.

One is a nine-year-old boy who has been in Royal Jubilee Hospital for two weeks. His doctors say he is "doing fine."

His case has aroused attention because he was inoculated with three doses of the vaccine.

The boy was given the shots two years ago, however, when the timing between the doses had not been worked out exactly.

Firm Probes Electrocution Of Boy By TV

CHICAGO (AP) — A major television manufacturer is to reexamine its widely distributed 1958 17-inch portable metal set as a result of the electrocution of a six-year-old boy in his home Sunday.

The General Electric Company announced in a statement Monday night in Syracuse, N.Y., that it was sending engineers to Chicago to conduct an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of the boy, Howard Erenstein Jr.

Howard and Pearl Erenstein, the boy's parents, testified at an inquest Monday that their son brushed an aluminum cart on which the GE portable model rested as he reached to get a knife from a drawer.

There was a crackling sound and the boy fell to the floor, the parents said. A coroner's physician said it appeared the boy's body was "grounded" by moisture on the kitchen cabinet.

A neighbor of the Erenstein's, Marvin Kamen, told police he detected high voltage charges in the metal cabinet of an identical set when it was on or off. Kamen said he found the charges on the cabinet surfaces of his set when it was plugged into normal household current socket.

Victoria District Notes—Scouters Frank Nelson, Clive Warrington and Cyril Price have returned from Cultus Lake where they have taken part in the Part II wood bead badge course that was held for Scoutmasters from different parts of the province.

The first period of the district Cub camp commenced Monday at Camp Barnard, Sooke, where over 70 boys and their leaders will spend five days camping. The camp will be under the direction of Scouter Francis Naish; central cooking will take care of the large appetites of the Cubs. Executive commissioner Bob Milks and nine service Scouts will take care of the administration and chores.

The next group will go to camp next Monday, Scouter Art Chamberlain being the Akela in charge.

From Picton Heights, Ontario, come reports of activities by former Victorians in scouting and cub activities.

Under the leadership of Capt. M. Rycroft, son of Lt.-Col. J. G. Rycroft, 45 Maquina, the 3rd RCA Cub Pack has been winning honors at an Ontario "Cub-aree" and has attained the distinction of forming the only Cubs' band in Canada. Drum major for the group was Jimmy Rycroft, son of Capt. M. Rycroft.

Unfortunately Capt. Rycroft, Akela for the 3rd RCA pack, has been transferred to Halifax and with him has gone the band's drum major—but not before making their imprint on the Picton Heights corps.

Big Strait Swim Gets 17 Entries

At least 17 swimmers will compete in the mass Juan de Fuca Strait swim sponsored by Victoria Chamber of Commerce from Beacon Hill Park on August 4.

First swimmer to reach Port Angeles or swimming the farthest will be acclaimed the winner.

When entries closed at midnight 15 definite and one probable entry had been received by Lieut. George Colwill, swim chairman.

Ten were received in one day and one of them was phoned from Vancouver.

Joan Biddle, daughter of Canon George Biddle, Victoria, had been named as a probable entry. Today however, Miss Biddle told The Times she would not enter this year.

"I have been advised against it because of a recent attack of glandular fever," she said.

Inquires have been recieved from 60-year-old Fearnley Wheatcroft, Toronto Ont., who swam the English Channel in 1928.

Gerhard Haufman, Vancouver long-distance swimmer, phoned from the mainland for application forms and his call was accepted as an official application.

Swimmers from the world-famous Atlantic swim will be competing, and other entrants include Amy Hiland of Long Beach, Calif., and Ben Laughren, Victoria.

Police charged the assault took place at Craigflower and that Mrs. Sparvier suffered facial injuries.

Sparvier admitted he "helped to do it."

Festival Comes to Aid Of Needy Show People

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)— The Shakespearean Festival Company plans to give a hand to Canadian show business' new fund for destitute theatre people and their families.

An extra matinee performance of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night, riotously staged by Tyron Guthrie as one of this year's festival productions, was announced for Friday August 9. All proceeds are earmarked for the Actor's Fund of Canada.

Established only last autumn and already with $2,500 in the kitty, the fund aims at becoming the Canadian counterpart of the Actors' Fund of America, a gigantic benevolent association for theatre people. Vancouver's Theatre Under the Stars will consider a contributions from season's proceeds.

Barbara Fails To Beard Bard; Wins $64,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Barbara Hall, 24-year-old showgirl Shakespearean, bobbled a question on the bard Tuesday night and lost her bid to win $128,000 on a TV quiz show. But she kept her previous winnings of $64,000.

The question that tripped her concerned identification of three documents the dramatist signed She was asked to select, from reproductions of the six existing Shakespeare signatures, one of the three that were on his will and also name the three documents containing the remaining signatures.

The remaining three were on a deposition in a law suit and on two other legal papers relating to a house he purchased in London.

Capt. Alan Villiers, skipper of the Mayflower II, correctly answered a $16,000 question on The Seven Seas and will return to the show next Tuesday night to say whether he will try for $32,000.

Star Continues Fight to Save Historic Theatre

LONDON (UP) — Actress Vivien Leigh said today she has accepted an invitation to meet with million financier Felix Fenston and discuss with him ways of preventing one of London's most historic theatres being pulled down.

Fenston, who won notoriety last month through his spat with publicity agent Warwick Charlton over ownership of the Mayflower II, is chairman of a company which has bought the 200-year-old Saint James Theatre and plans to build a skyscraper office block on the site.

(BB) "THE SPANISH GARDENER (Odeon) — Dependable Dirk Bogarde and a lad named Jon Whitely who, several years back, wormed his way into the hearts of all who saw him in the flawless theatrical gem, "The Little Kidnappers," barely save the day for J. Arthur Rank's "The Spanish Gardener."

In intent, the story by A. J. Cronin is a simple one. Diplomatic Michael Hordern's career is on the rocks, caused by his lack of humility and understanding of human values. The absence of these ingredients have caused him to lose his wife and, when the film opens, he is well on his way to losing his young son, too.

★ ★ ★

THAT is when father is shifted off to a small Spanish town where the boy meets Spanish gardener Bogarde. It is also when the simple beginning becomes cluttered up with a phoney crime, a drunken butler and melodramatic hankey-pankey that smacks of Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Jealous of his son's devotion and trust in his gardener father Hordern quite loses his temper and exacts a promise from boy and gardener that they will talk to one another no more on pain of the gardener's dismissal.

But one day daddy reports to headquarters thinking that the big job is at last coming his way. While he is away Bogarde and young Whitely decide they will speak and "be as men and not as children," and cheerily go off fishing. Later, furious at discovering he is only a "stop-gap" until another diplomat can take his place, father returns to learn what has been going on and a good play soon becomes lost in the wild forest of histrionics.

Parking Board Study Ordered

MOTELS FULL AS SUN DRAWS TOURIST FLOW

Almost every auto court in Victoria hung out a "No Vacancy" sign today as the summer tourist traffic approached its peak.

Victoria and Island Publicity bureau is being bombarded with inquiries for room space by disappointed Island visitors.

"Many say they have scoured the district in vain for auto court accomodation," publicity commissioner George Warren said.

"The change in the weather has had an immediate effect on the influx of tourist cars and we are doing all we can to keep our tourists happy."

Engineer Urges Purchase Of Good Downtown Sites

Establishment of a downtown parking commission will be studied by Victoria council public works committee, it was decided today.

The committee authorized city engineer J. C. Garnett to approach the manager of the Vancouver Downtown Parking Corporation, Tempest de Wolf, for assistance in planning.

It is possible he will be brought here to examine local problems and make recommendations.

These initial steps were taken following a strong recommendation by the city engineer.

"Now is the time to form a parking commission. Public works committee should go on record," said Mr. Garnett.

GET SITES

He said also the city should start now to acquire suitable sites for off-street parking lots which could be operated by the city.

He warned, the best available lots are now in the hands of private operators.

"As soon as they get a good offer, they will sell for a skyscraper or gas station or something."

The engineer's submission was based partly on the recently-completed traffic and parking surveys and reports by J. D. Faustman, a Sacramento consultant engineer, hired last year.

It followed too, publication in the Times June 8, of results of a nation-wide poll on downtown parking, drawn up by the city of Saskatoon.

It showed that of 11 Canadian cities of comparative size, Victoria appeared at the bottom of the ladder in meeting the current demand for off-street parking and in planning for future needs.

Victoria was the only one of 11 which had no off-street publicly-owned parking facilities.

Nine of the cities, Victoria excluded, used their parking meter revenues, or set up special funds to alleviate downtown parking problems.

Mr. Garnett reported to the committee a meeting had been held with present operators of parking lots. He said the operators felt there was no shortage of off-street parking, but the charges which must be made are "too high to attract business."

GET TOGETHER

Mr. Garnett said the retail merchants group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and other merchant organizations should be asked to meet with the operators.

The two groups should study methods of applying a customer validation plan—which would mean merchants would absorb all or part of parking fees for customers—in the downtown area.

The committee, headed by Ald. M. H. Mooney suggested the engineer get in touch with Mr. de Wolf. It was also proposed he might be asked to come to Victoria for a first-hand look.

A letter was received from Victoria Town Planning Commission asking more time to study the question of downtown parking. The commission wanted to make use of information now being gathered by Capital Region Planning Board, before making any firm recommendations.

The committee will await the TPC report but in the meantime will pursue its own investigations.

The Faustman plan had recommended establishment of "a parking authority, commission, agency or citizen's co-operative association."

It also called for development of three major off-street parking facilities, one being a three-level garage. The long-range cost estimate was $1,275,000.

MONTE ROBERTS

If there is one thing at which I curl the lip of scorn, it is a column written about the columnist's own physical infirmities.

It is a well-known fact all columnists have physical infirmities. This is what enables them to avoid going out and doing an honest day's work.

As for mental infirmities, they are a necessary part of the tools of the columnistic trade.

Therefore I am always disdainfully amused, as well as righteously annoyed, when I encounter a column written by a columnist to the effect the columnist has been ill.

This is a plain indication that the columnist has a lazy mind. Instead of looking around him for an interesting subject, and then spending many hours or even days conducting research into this subject, the lazy columnist writes a column about himself.

Jack Scott has the sniffles, and it is good for 2,000 words.

Eric Nichol has a baby, and a year later he is still going strong.

But what have all their words contributed to knowledge, culture, the advancement of science and the search for a centennial spoonerized pun?

Nothing.

This is why I absolutely refuse to use my recent illness as material for this column.

Mind you, I cannot hide the facts. They have already been published.

On Monday, it said right here:

"Roberts fighting 'flu bug'.

On Tuesday, it said right here:

"Roberts on sick list."

So let that be an end to it. I will write no column about my own illness.

Instead, let us run this well-chosen line:

"Roberts swinging the lead."

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Ups and downs of the elevator industry were highlighted at a meeting of Victoria council public works committee today when a penalty of $109 was confirmed for Otis Elevator Co. Ltd.

The firm had neglected to take out a building permit before installing a freight elevator at Hudson's Bay Company here. Permit fee was $109.75. By-law stipulates it is doubled for violation. City engineer J. C. Garnett asked the penalty clause not be invoked as he was certain it was an "honest mistake." The committee was sympathetic, but firm.

When the light says "Walk" on Monday, pedestrians will be able to stampede in all directions.

Victoria engineer's department will install a new experimental "scramble light" system at Douglas and Yates this Sunday and it will be in operation Monday morning.

The four-phase system, familiar to Vancouver residents, shows red, amber and green for motor traffic, then stops all cars for a "walk" interval.

During this period pedestrians may walk east, west, north, south or diagonally across the intersection.

Stan and Corol McCartney with "Rondo."

OPPORTUNITY, CHALLENGE

Toronto the Good, Good to McCartneys

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

What's Toronto like? Awful, say some people. But—

"It's wonderful!" say Stan and Corol McCartney, proving once more that everything depends on the angle of vision.

For the former Victoria musicians, Toronto has meant experience in a wide field, opportunity and challenge. Clarinettist Stan and violinist Corol came home in June for a month's visit with Stan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. McCartney, 194 Gorge Road West.

The visit was extended to two months when Victoria Symphony conductor Hans Gruber asked the couple to resume their old leading desk positions with the orchestra for this summer's series of three concerts in the Butchart Gardens.

Corol, a soloist of virtuoso proportions, is acting concertmaster and Stan, also a fine solo artist, is leading the clarinet section.

Among the many things they have acquired in seven months down east, the most visible and vocal is "Rondo," a five-month-old French poodle who has accompanied them on their visit home.

For the daintily stepping pup who is usually in a whirl of activity, no better name could have been chosen; rondo, in musical parlance being a lively composition or movement from same, in which the music dances around and about but always returns to its main theme.

Next season Corol will definitely be playing with the Toronto Symphony under Walter Susskind; probably Stan will also be joining that famous orchestra.

"We arrived too late for auditions last fall," Corol comments, "but even so we found lots to do."

Both artists appeared as soloists on the TV program, "Opportunity Knocks," played in the orchestra during the opera festival and made several CBC trans-Canada radio broadcasts.

They made the trip home in their small car for a total cost for gas and oil of $32. Travelling practically all the way on Canadian highways they found the roads "very good indeed" until they hit British Columbia.

TO U.S.

"At Trail we had to make a loop down through the States," Corol reports.

Happy as they are in Toronto, both are enjoying their visit home and rehearsals with their former fellow players.

They think this Thursday's concert at Butchart's should be a "dilly" if the weather co-operates.

It is wonderful to work under Sir Ernest McMillan once more, both agree.

Negligent Driver Fined $100 After Hitting Pole, Car

Donald P. Germaine, 906 Esquimalt, was fined $100 and his licence suspended in city police court today for criminally negligent driving.

His car was in collision with another car and a pole at Government and Johnson Friday night, resulting in a shoulder injury to Elizabeth Prangnell, 2547 Lincoln.

Witnesses told police Germaine was driving at a high rate of speed and attempted to pass Miss Prangnell's car on the right.

Inquest Friday In Logger's Death

Inquest will be held Friday into the death of Robert E. H. Gait, 50-year-old Saanich logger who died alone in the Goldstream watershed Tuesday when a large cedar he had just felled rolled on him.

The inquest has been set for 10 a.m. at McCall's funeral chapel.

An employee for 10 years of a small logging company owned by R. C. Oldfield, 4674 Pipeline Road, Gait was last seen alive at lunch time.

His body was discovered at 4.45 p.m. by co-workers Woodrow Wilson, 5790 Oldfield, and his brother Raymond Wilson, 313 Caldecote, who had been bulldozing and clearing the right-of-way about eight miles past the Goldstream hotel.

Gait had been working alone 200 yards ahead of his companions. Apparently the cedar, three feet in diameter, fell, then rolled over his body, pushing it into a crouching position.

At quitting time, "we hollered for him and he didn't answer," Woodrow Wilson said. "So we walked into the woods and my brother found him pinned under the log."

While Woodrow eased the log from Gait's body, Raymond Wilson drove to the nearby home of the watershed watchman and phoned for Langford ambulance.

Gait was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. It is believed the logger could have died from injuries caused by crushing or by suffocation.

PAL KILLED

On Gait's first logging venture, about 25 years ago, his companion was killed in a similar accident, his son Douglas said.

He is survived by the widow Margaret, at home, 5164 Old West Road, two sons, Vernon, 13, a student at Royal Oak School, and Douglas E., McMorran's Auto Court; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Gait, Victoria; four brothers, Ernest, John, Sid and Victor, all of Victoria; two sisters, Mrs. S. Scurrah, Victoria, and Mrs. C. White, White Rock, B.C., and two grandsons.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of McCall Brothers.

Smoke Nuisance Law Breakers To Be Listed

A list of about 12 Victoria firms operating in violation of the city's smoke by-law will be presented to city council public works committee.

The committee, which sits again in two weeks, heard today from city engineer J. C. Garnett that "a dozen or so firms have taken no effective action" since passage of the smoke by-law in October, 1951.

The list of offenders was called for by Ald. J. Donald Smith, who said, "It is time we took some positive action."

The by-law limits the density of smoke which can legally be discharged over a given period from smokestacks.

Mr. Garnett said chief difficulty in compliance with the by-law lay with the heavy expenditure necessary for installation of equipment which would retard smoke and soot.

Roving Speed-Traps New RCMP Weapon

By AB KENT

Newest weapon in the RCMP battle to cut highway law-breaking went into effect today in Victoria and Lower Mainland areas.

Latest measure is establishment of roving "safety control areas," a simple system involving use of three radio-equipped cars, synchronized watches and basic arithmetic.

By the system, speeders may be clocked over a measured course, start of which is clearly marked, but without a designated end.

RCMP headquarters here said areas may be anywhere from one miles to 50 miles in length, thus discouraging the average speeder from abusing speed limits.

Advantage of the safety control area is its flexibility, mobility and simplicity. A team may move to any stretch of highway and set up a zone and warning sign.

Other methods of traffic control, such as radar, will not be discarded. New zones serve to supplement existing systems.

Unlike radar warning systems, however, safety control signs will be moved with the team. If a team is not operating on a particular highway, the sign will be taken down.

It works like this:

A patrol car is set up at the zone entry point and licence numbers of suspected violators or any other cars entering the zone are radioed ahead to the second car at a measured but undesignated point.

Officer in the second car notes the time of entry and the time of entry and the time a named auto passes his car and by simple calculation determines whether the speed limit has been broken.

If so, he radios to the third patrol car stationed farther along the highway which acts as pickup car. It may give the offending motorist a ticket or a warning, depending up circumstances.

System was demonstrated for the press and TV camermen on Trans-Canada Highway near Thetis Lake today.

Park Reserve Extended On Islands

The provincial government today extened its parkland reserve on islands in the Gulf of Georgia.

An order-in-council extended the reserve north to the 50th parallel, near Campbell River. The southern boundary is Gonzales Point.

Lands Minister Williston said today the reserve applies to small unsurveyed islands and islets which now are vacant crown lands. They are set aside for use by the public.

Most of these islands were reserved under separate orders-in-council and the new order consolidates them and extends the northern boundary.

Mr. Williston said the government has taken the action because of the rapidly increasing interest in boating, and the fact that many small islands now are being bought up by private individuals.

Anita Long Tries Strait Crossing Sunday Morning

An attempt to swim Juan de Fuca Strait from Fisgard Light to Ediz Hook will be made Sunday at 8.30 a.m. by stationer's clerk Anita Long, 18.

Her navigator Bud Phillips said she is in fine condition for the attempt, but if weather turns against her the try will be turned into a practice for the Junior Chamber of Commerce mass swim.

Phillips said the girl will start swimming on a slight flood to Albert Head, pick up the ebb to beyond Race Rocks and hopes to be in position for the second flood to take her into Ediz Hook.

Lookout Project At Mt. Tolmie To Start Soon

Development of a lookout and parking facilities, and improvement of road approaches to Mount Tolmie are expected to begin within the next few weeks.

Estimates of the cost compiled by the B.C. highways department will be placed before the Capital Improvement District Commission "as soon as possible," a government spokesman said today.

"The question of building an observation ramp at the lookout will be considered later," the spokesman said.

The Mount Tolmie project was started earlier this year by the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee in co-operation with the tourist trade group of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Plans for the development, including a paved parking area, an observation ramp, landscaping and improvements of the road down the north side of the hill, were drawn by Clack, Clayton and Pickstone for the chamber group.

Work Ordered On Last Link Of Highway

First tenders for construction work on the Rogers Pass route of the Trans-Canada Highway in the interior have been called by the provincial government.

They are for an 18-mile stretch of reconstruction from Golden to Donald on the east side of the pass and a 4½-mile piece from Greeley to Butte on the west side.

Bids on a third five-mile section from Revelstoke to Greeley will be called within a few days.

Work is expected to start early next month. Bids on the first two sections will be opened July 25 and 26.

Cost of the Golden-Donald section will be split 50-50 by the federal and provincial governments under the Trans-Canada Highway Agreement.

The actual Rogers Pass construction will be paid for entirely by Ottawa because it is within the boundaries of Glacier National Park.

A 25-mile piece in provincial territory between Revelstoke and the pass will be paid 90 per cent by the federal government and 10 per cent by the province under a special clause.

The Rogers Pass route is the last major uncompleted section of the Trans-Canada Highway in B.C.

Americans 'Short-Change' Selves

Many American tourists are "short-changing themselves on day trips to Victoria.

They think they can take back only $5 worth of duty-free purchases after a 24-hour visit to Canada.

They are, in fact, allowed $10 worth of purchases during a less than 48-hour stay and $200 worth after a stay lasting more than 48 hours.

"We are putting out posters advising U.S. tourists of their buying privileges," Russ Jeffs, assistant secretary of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said today.

MISINFORMED

"The many complaints we have received indicate that many Americans are being misinformed in this matter."

Two incidental restrictions are emphasized:

1. After making $200 worth of duty-free purchases during a more than 48-hour visit, the U.S. tourist cannot make any more such purchases for 31 days. If he returns here within that period, he cannot repeat the quota.

2. Purchases amounting to $10 during a less than 48-hour stay must not include more than 50 cigarets, 10 cigars, half a pound of manufactured tobacco, four ounces of alcoholic beverages or four ounces of alcoholic perfumery.

Tourists purchasing more than these amounts will be charged duty on returning to the U.S.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Will you please tell me how the 42-inch-high horses got into the Grand Canyon, and why they do not breed anywhere else—A.B.

A.—It is assumed your question deals with the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River. Concerning dwarf horses in the Grand Canyon. Curle in his "Story of the Grand Canyon" mentions these dwarf horses. His theory is that about 1870 some full-sized Indian horses were abandoned or lost or strayed in the Grand Canyon. Being tough Indian ponies they survived, but through succeeding generations became dwarfed through insufficient food and nourishment. The ponies today are 7th or 8th generation.

Anyone stating a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

Cute Baby Overalls Have Feet Attached

By PENNY SAVER

I found the cutest overalls today for a baby who's at the crawling stage. They have feet attached to them, like sleepers, so that the youngster's overalls don't work up his legs and leave them bare. And he won't need to wear separate shoes and socks, so easy for him to pull off.

The overalls come in pink or blue fine wale corduroy, with bib, duck-shaped pocket and feet of quilted print. Price is $2.95, and they come in six-month, one-year and 18-month sizes.

Something for a little girl who's longing to be old enough to go to school—a set of schoolgirl dolls and a teacher!

The six tiny dolls have long ribbon-tied pigtails and are dressed in print skirts and blouses, while the teacher has her braids coifed up and wears spectacles. The set is complete with old-fashioned wooden "form" desks, a blackboard, slates for each pupil, and miniature books and notebooks.

Price for the set is $6.50.

Other tiny dolls are dressed in costumes of the Black Forest, Switzerland and Norway. Prices are $1.95 cents and 75 cents respectively.

A china angel would be a nice "extra" to slip in with a little girl's birthday gift. The figurines have "July Angel," and "August Angel," and so on around the base, and each angel is dressed appropriately for the month she represents.

The February angel, for instance, has a Valentine motif, and the March angel carries a shamrock. They're 98 cents each.

NO TARNISH

Non-tarnish copper is used for some lovely table accessories I saw today. They're all in classically simple styles, some plain and some engraved with a small design.

A glass-centred lazy Susan is $11.95, while a cake plate with a centre handle is $7.95. Copper coasters in copper stands are $3.95 for four and $5.75 for eight. Copper salt and peppers are $4.50.

If you'd like to know where I found any of these items, give me a call at 2-3131.

Ghana Enters Fashion Picture

The new nation of Ghana is already counting the American fashion industry as a promising export market. Leopard skins from Ghana are featured by noted fashion designer Adele Simpson in her new collection of furs. One hundred skins of the species of leopard native to Ghana—slightly smaller than the Somali leopard and with rounder, more closely space markings—were shipped to Mrs. Simpson for this collection. The order was one of the first of the new democracy's foreign trade enterprises, and the first introduction of Ghana leopard to the United States. Simpson designs in leopard from Ghana include an American-style cardigan sweater-jacket, a short, double-breasted reefer coat and sumptuous wrapped travel coat. Several tweed suits have deep shawl collars of the fur.

Coffee, Cocoa Makes a Cool Combination

Something tall, something cool, something delicious—that's the description of the perfect warm-weather refresher. The best summertime cooler you're apt to find is Frosty Mocha Java, a winner on all three counts. Served with a plate of sandwiches, it makes a fine luncheon drink. By itself, Frosty Mocha Java is an ideal hot-weather picker-upper any time at all!

Coffee, cocoa and a bit of ice cream — that's all you need to whip up Frosty Mocha Java in a hurry. The coffee is easy to prepare, of course, and the cocoa can be quickly made from any of the prepared cocoa mixes. Just put the two beverages together, top the mixture with ice cream, and there you are!

FROSTY MOCHA JAVA

1½ cups strong coffee, hot or cold, 1½ cups cocoa beverage, 1 pint vanilla, coffee or chocolate ice cream.

Combine coffee and cocoa, stirring thoroughly. Chill mixture. Divide evenly between four tall glasses and add 2 scoops of ice cream to each glass. Serves four.

SOUTHERN RAISIN BARS

One cup light or dark raisins, 1/3 cup butter or margarine, 2/3 cup brown sugar (packed), 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ cup light molasses, 2 tablespoons orange juice or water, 1-½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 cup semi-sweet chocolate bits.

Rinse and dry raisins. Beat butter, sugar, eggs and vanilla until well blended. Add molasses and orange juice. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices into first mixture and add raisins and chocolate bits. Mix to moderately stiff batter. Spread in a greased oblong baking pan (about 10x15 inches). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool in pan and then cut into bars about 3x1 inches. Roll in powdered sugar, if desired. Makes 3½ to 4 dozen bars.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Grease in the oven merely smells up the house when the oven is heated. To loosen burned-on grease, leave a sauce dish of ammonia in the oven overnight. Use a damp cloth the next day to remove spots. For extra-stubborn stains, steel-wool is best.

Before using a new paint brush run a comb through the bristles. This removes the few loose bristles that are inevitable even in the best of paint brushes.

There's nothing so leisurely or refreshing as a delicious snack which you can enjoy out on the porch or patio. Here's just the thing to serve: Frosty Mocha Java and a plate of little sandwiches or cookies.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Dresses for the Misses:

My parents will be celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary in a couple of months, and we are wondering about dresses. Mother wants to wear a floor-length evening gown.

Louise Davis

We three daughters would like to know what would be proper for us to wear—whether they should be dainty street-length or cocktail-type dresses. This is to be an "At Home" from 2 in the afternoon to 10 at night. Would invitations to such a party mean that friends are expected to send gifts?

Louise Davis Answers:

Since the anniversary party begins in the afternoon, it would be more appropriate for you to wear an afternoon dress which can be simple or dressy as you wish, depending on the formality of the occasion. I suggest that if your mother's gown is quite formal in design, that during the afternoon she wear a stole, especially if the gown is low-cut or sleeveless. When the evening arrives, she can remove it. Invitations to a wedding anniversary party usually call for gifts, especially if you stipulate on the invitation that it will be an anniversary. If you wish to avoid any hints for gifts, just issue the invitations to an "At Home" without mentioning the anniversary.

Gooseberries have many uses. For those who like acid fruits, gooseberry pies, tarts and puddings are a must. To prepare gooseberries for cooking, wash, then remove stems and tails. For a different sauce to serve with meat, try stewed gooseberries sweetened and spiced with vinegar, cloves and cinnamon, then cooked to a jelly.

Shapely Sheath

Our new printed pattern takes a shapely sheath and makes it even prettier by clever use of trim. Notice how the sleek, smart double-breasted line is accented by pockets, large collar-effect in bright contrast color!

Printed pattern 4670: Misses' sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 16 requires 3¾ yards 39-inch fabric.

Printed directions on each pattern part. Easier, faster, accurate.

Send 50 cents in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Please print plainly size, name, address, style number.

Industry Will Rely On Women

TORONTO (CP) — Women possess the greatest brain-power reserve in the world, Frances Murphy of Washington told members of Pilot International at the closing session of its annual convention.

Miss Murphy said the increasing need for manpower soon will exceed the supply of workers.

"This means industry will have to turn more and more to automation in order to increase production and will also have to rely on womanpower," she said.

She urged delegates to help break down what she termed the widespread prejudice against employing older women. This, she suggested, would do much to help solve the labor problem.

Delegates attended a banquet where the board of directors for 1957-58 was installed. President Billye N. Russell of Houston, Tex., urged delegates to dedicate the next 12 months to "friendship and service."

WOMEN URGE PEACEFUL USE OF NUCLEAR POWER

COLOMBO, Ceylon (CP)—Mrs. Hugh Summers, Fonthill, Ont., said the conference of the Associated Country Women of the World gave the Canadian delegation a feeling of kinship for the women of Ceylon.

The conference ended Saturday night with a call from delegates from 35 countries for peaceful development of nuclear power.

Mrs. Summers said the "delightful hospitality and entertainment given us so freely by the women of this lovely country had engendered among us a feeling of kinship for these unselfish women."

The next conference will be held in Scotland in 1959 or 1960.

Mrs. Nancy Adams of Saskatchewan also was a delegate.

Former School Teacher Now a Fashion Model

LONDON (CP)—From teaching children to modelling fashionable clothes is an unusual switch, but Nancy Archibald of Toronto finds it a pleasant change.

The tall, 23-year-old blonde, who came to Europe on holiday last August, used to be a kindergarten teacher at Ogden public school in Toronto. Now she's modelling exclusive collections in London.

"It's all so very different," says the Canadian girl, who spent two weeks during London's humid heat-wave trying on winter-weight clothes and furs.

"The work is far from glamorous—and very hard. But I do like it."

FALL SHOWS

Soon Miss Archibald—professionally known as Nancy Sandel—will help show Ronald Paterson's fall collection to London audiences.

Paterson, one of the youngest of Britain's top couturiers, "discovered" Miss Archibald at a party last April. She was "thrilled" at the chance—"especially when Mr. Paterson offered to train me."

Early in July, she joined the staff at Paterson's Mayfair Salon. Between fittings for the collection and trying out new hairdos, the former school-teacher has been practising the model's stance and stiff walk.

Contrary to the posture lessons she taught her former kindergarten pupils, Miss Archibald now is being told to thrust her shoulders forward and round her back slightly—model style.

There's a lot more to the model's gait than meets the eye, too. It means walking with hardly a bend of the knees.

During the time she has spent in Europe, Miss Archibald visited her schoolteacher mother, who is teaching the children of Canadian soldiers in Germany.

Altrusa Clubs To Set Program At Convention

Altrusa International will launch its 1957-59 program of service under the theme "Serve to Survive" at a convention in New Orleans, La., next week.

Altrusa Clubs in eight countries will be represented. International president is Miss Marjorie Lamb of Toronto.

Community polls were conducted by Altrusa clubs in each city to determine the three most urgent problems to be faced.

Number one problem in all cities was reported to be traffic safety. This will be dealt with through Altrusa public affairs committees. Need to expand services for older people and need for youth guidance will be project of vocational information committees. A third committee, international relations, will concentrate on promoting citizenship interest in world affairs.

Publicity Chairman—At a meeting of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 25, Mrs. Edith Beadle accepted the position of chairman of publicity for a second term. The senior regent, Mrs. Evelyn Cooper, presided and a report on sick members was given by Mrs. H. Hay.

Langford Tea

Summer blooms decorated the home of Mrs. C. G. Carnegie, Goldstream Avenue, Langford, for a strawberry tea held by the Women's Auxiliary to Prince Edward Branch, Canadian Legion, Langford. A sum of $122 was realized.

Mrs. P. Watt, president, received guests, among whom were visitors from Pro Patria and Britannia branches in Victoria. Mrs. Jack Jamison was general convener with Mrs. A. Green in charge of the tea. Mrs. J. Fitzsimmons and Mrs. A. Keiller were servers.

Sewing and fancywork table was convened by Mrs. L. Bailey; home cooking, Mrs. J. Jamison and Mrs. F. Jenkins; novelties, Mrs. F. Burbury. Tea tickets and contests were in charge of Mrs. R. A. Douglas.

BABY RECEIVES NAME

The three-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lohr, 149 Hampton Road, received the name Leta Verlaine at a christening ceremony Sunday in Metropolitan United Church. The baby, pictured with her mother, wore a nylon christening gown made by her grandmother, Mrs. C. Rhinehart. Rev. Laura E. Butler officiated. A buffet supper followed at the home of the baby's parents. Among guests were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Rhinehart and Mrs. U. C. Lohr.

TO VISIT FIANCE'S PARENTS

The bride-elect, a 1955 graduate of Provincial Normal School, Vancouver, is a member of the teaching staff of Gordon Head School. Her attendants will be Miss Boni Irvine and Miss Mary Nevard. Mr. Barton Howes will be best man and Mr. Dennis Godson and Mr. John Mackie, the ushers.—(Photo by Burlin Studios.)

FOR SILVER-HAIRED OFFICER

Building Hospital Wing 'Tall Order'

OTTAWA (CP)—A silver-haired Salvation Army officer who has spent 35 years meeting tall orders, retired on July 1.

Brig. Ida Ellis celebrated her 60th birthday on the same date that Ottawa's Grace Hospital said goodbye to one of its most devoted superintendents.

"My life has been very, very full," the smiling, blue-eyed superintendent told reporters. A native of St. John's, Nfld., and one of a family of 13, she said she joined the Salvation Army with the conviction that she wanted to serve humanity. Her parents were staunch supporters. Eight sisters became corps members.

First associated with Grace Hospital in 1933 as office manager, she returned in 1951 as superintendent after a posting in London, Ont.

One of the first instructions she received was to build a new hospital wing.

"That was a tall order," she said.

But now the 98-bed hospital has a new wing with modern equipment, a surgical wing and four new clinics.

Maj. Mabel Crolly of Calgary, who succeeds Brig. Ellis, takes over a hospital which now averages 300 births a month. It has a staff of about 140 nurses, students and domestic helpers.

ALWAYS WORKED

Commissioned at Gravenhurst, Ont., after training at Toronto, Brig. Ellis served with her husband, the late Albert Edward Ellis, in Oakville, Ont., Toronto, London, Ont., and Saint John, N.B., until his death in 1932.

She's spent little time "off duty"—for either hobbies or sickness during her working years.

Brig. Ellis said she's looking forward to a visit with her sister, Mayor Nancee Horwood of Brampton, Ont., and time for reading and travelling.

But she indicated that her thoughts won't be far away from Grace Hospital where despite one fulfilled tall order, there's still need for another wing.

'EMOTIONALLY SPEAKING' IT SOUNDS A BIT PREPOSTEROUS!

NEW YORK (UP)—Women will be interested in learning that science has hope of finding out what kind of female, emotionally speaking, becomes the mother of the best kind of offspring—again emotionally speaking.

If the hope is ever realized in one particular direction, there might be a temptation to pack females in cotton batting to preserve them from all shock, on the grounds that the best offspring (emotionally speaking) are those of mothers who have never known anxiety-causing shock.

At the present stage of scientific investigation, however, there is no certainty as to direction or, for that matter, whether science will ever be able to find out. So far there are only suggestions, the newest of which come from Dr. William R. Thompson of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.

His most dramatic "suggestion," as expressed in scientific language, is this: "Radically altering the mother before pregnancy may be quite equivalent to radically altering the environment during pregnancy." The "radical altering" of the mother is an altering of her emotional status.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Beauty Column Today Devoted to the Men

This is a woman's column but many men read it and write to me. Anyway, if it is a woman's column that makes it a man's column, too, because the little ladies are trying to look like the men want them to.

I often have had letters from men asking me how to keep the hair on their heads. They also are interested in nutrition, in remaining youthful, in getting rid of the bay window, and in longevity.

For some unknown reason a man who was interested in his personal appearance used to be considered "vain." Medical science has robbed us of that idea by placing overweight as one of the number one health hazards. A man was also thought to be "sissy" if he used any cosmetics. Today the well-groomed man uses masculine after-shave lotion, after-bath powders and deodorants. AND WHY NOT?

Recently I have received several letters from men asking me to write about care of the masculine complexion. As a whole, men have thicker, oilier skins than women do. Therefore, soap and water cleansing several times a day is usually the best treatment. It will be helpful, too, if the man with a complexion problem eats a well-balanced diet and leaves off rich, greasy foods. He might also apply a drying lotion at night.

Today there are antiseptic after-shave lotions which cut down on the number of infected hairs. If a man has dry skin or lives in a very dry, windy, or cold climate, there is no reason why he should not enjoy the comfort of cold cream on his rough face.

Thinning hair seems to be hereditary, at least to some extent. Some experiments quite a while ago indicated that some member of the vitamin B family may play a part in keeping hair on your head.

If any of you men who read "Why Grow Old?" would like to have my leaflet of exercises planned especially for you, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with a request for "Short Routine for Men," leaflet No. 20 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Bared Skin in Summer Bares Secrets of Care

The airy comfort of summer clothing is pleasant to most of us. We all like wearing sleeveless dresses and open sandals for their cool and easy feeling.

But each of us must impose certain limitations. Halter neck tops do not belong in a business office or on the street. They are meant for beach or sun wear or for late-day dresses. Bare legs are pretty only when they're smooth, free of hair and blemishes.

Open sandals are not pleasant to see when they reveal feet that are uncared for, with polish chipping and cracking on ragged toenails.

A sheer dress needs a slip that's matched in color and one that's sufficiently protective. The skirt should not be skimpy and should cover the knees when the wearer is seated.

Many women find the summer heat enervating, particularly when they are confined to household cares and unable to get away to the coolness of a beach.

Best way to get through muggy days without feeling exhausted is to conserve your energy as much as possible. The heat of the day is no time to tackle heavy cleaning. It's best to space necessary cleaning jobs throughout the week.

If you find you don't rest well at night, try to take a nap at some time during the day. Keep an electric fan circulating close by.

Check up on light and noise in your bedroom. The room should be as dark and as quiet as possible at night. Remember that the best place to cool off and restore your energy is in a tepid bath.

WOMEN COULD LEAD IN FIGHT AGAINST ALCOHOL

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP)—A lady prohibitionist from Canada, urging that modern man be taught to live without cocktails, says women could set the pace by serving non-alcoholic beverages at social functions.

Mrs. David Conly of Winnipeg addressed the eighth annual Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism Monday.

"It might be a shock to the sophisticated to find lemonade in their cocktail glasses, but it is possible they would recover," she said, adding:

"The cocktail has become a milestone around our necks and is pulling society down to destruction. . ."

HELP — HELP

cried the sales manager down in Arkansas, U.S.A.—phoned long distance to say somebody had cancelled some oak flooring just loaded in the box car. Naturally there was a concession which helps us advertise this big bargain in short oak flooring. These aren't the regular 12-inch bundles, but are all 24-inch long bundles, so you get double value—price per 100 ft. $12.95, and in my calculation that's 40% cheaper than ordinary softwood flooring. Why not come down and look it over now and take delivery—it's easy to store for later use.

HOW CAN I SAVE MONEY?

on building is the question many people ask. Well, sometimes it's in those jobs you do yourself, such as the DUROID Roofing. Hexagon and Square Butt Shingles are easy to apply—long lasting colors—fire resistant and low in cost. For that next roof be sure and obtain our prices on Duroid Shingles.

DID YOU HEAR?

about the lady at the counter buying some of the advertised cheap paint? "What if I don't like the color after it's put on," she asked. "No problem there," replied the clerk. "Just wash it off and buy another color!" But why waste valuable time when you can buy low cost paint manufactured to specifications that have proved consistent for years. Pacific Brand—thousands of gallons sold in B.C.—made for local conditions. White only, but can be tinted to color of your choice. Interior—Exterior—Flat and Gloss.
Per quart, $1.09 Per gallon, $3.95
Pacific Shingle Stain for shingles, fences, rough siding, etc. Red, green, brown, per gallon $2.75

GRAY MATTER
It makes good sense that a firm which has its own light pick-up service can offer just a little more for those small items of furniture and household furnishings that are surplus to your needs. It's also reasonable to assume that with 20 years experience in valuing in Victoria we can give a fair estimate. Please phone Wally Gray's used furniture. 2-1631.

Dean Stockwell Stars in Steel Hour's 'Victim' C-11, 12 at 7

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

REFRESHING—England's great distance runner Chris Chataway, is now scoring impressively in quite another field—television.

Host of the current "BBC Presents" series (Tuesday, 9.30 p.m., Channel 6, 2) Chataway narrates as BBC cameras take viewers on gentle jaunts up the Thames or for a tour of the Shetland Islands, dropping off here and there to chat with interesting fishermen, farmers or village "characters." It is a quiet half-hour this, but in the helter-skelter of repeats of Dragnet, Wyatt Earp and Blondie it is as refreshing as a cool breeze on a sweltering summer's day.

★ ★ ★

IN ADDITION to being superbly photographed, the program is informative and as easily swallowed as a sugar-coated pill. Among Chataway's best-remembered interviews will be the one with the River Thames fowler whose granddaddy and his granddaddy's great granddaddy had lived on the self-same spot since Canada was the exclusive property of the bison and the Indian.

Under Chataway's probing the character slowly admitted that the great stone house on the property was built about the time of the Battle of Hastings in 1066. "Don't live there no more though," he allowed. "Use it for storage now."

"What about the other house?"

"Yes. We live there. It was built about Waterloo time."

"I suppose you have electric lights?"

"No. (suspiciously) Me and my dad tried 'em once and that was enough. They are bad for the eyes. Why a man can't see in the dark for maybe five minutes after sitting under them."

This, in the day of the jet, the juke box, the atomic bomb and revolving credit!

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1957

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) — Think along personal lines to heart's content today. Then get out and strut your stuff as soon as you decide just what you are after. Fine talents are yours, and put before the right people they will make you rich.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) — All day today you must see or talk to those people who can further your career materially. Don't blab about what is told you in confidence or someone may steal valuable advice. Be helpful to those who depend on you, too.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — This is the right day for you to connect with associates, other wide-awake, go-getting persons with whom you can work out the long-range plans so thoroughly discussed in the past. Be generous and start wheels rolling.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21) — Do your utmost to get out of retiring nature and be the dynamic, intelligent person God made you. You will then be happy to note how many people of position will want to back you, see you get ahead. Get into acting field.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Come out of your little ivory tower today and make new friends, learn and study a good many different things, and you will find your best outlet or latent talents. Then ride it to best ability, along with getting a hobby.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — If today you apply your natural inclination to have all things in perfect order to the over-all picture concerning your financial, property affairs, you will make a great stride forward. Tonight, be loving and giving.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Wide-awake, ambitious associate drives you into using your own great talent, and rightly so, for you are the type who has to be pushed, since you still have not learned to get going on your own.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Though it is necessary for you to work very hard today, you have it in your power to make such a sport of it that everything becomes a happy contest. Use new gadgets, get a positive attitude, and tonight you retire happy and satisfied.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — The planetary influences are most favorable today and almost anything you put your hand to will turn out fine. So, keep going all the livelong day. Tonight newer ideas take form, too, and hours also fine for recreation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Don't go into lengthy detail today, but cultivate the habit of brevity and straightforwardness. Attend quickly to basic needs of family, business, property. Note great improvement. Get on the beam!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Aquarians love people . . . and this is the day to indulge yourself thoroughly by going to see or have in for cocktails or dinner as many as possible of the people you consider friends, near and far. YOU are a friend to all.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Today is a typical day when you can think out how to increase abundance, do better work, add to property. Make necessary repairs to real estate, too, where badly needed. Don't procrastinate on this. Keep throat free.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN THURSDAY

The lively little child born Thursday will be tremendously active and seem to be in ten places at one time. While the exterior expression is sometimes belying, the inner person here is concerned with solving some pretty weighty problems. Give as good a college training as possible, taking in general subjects, for a business training alone will not be sufficient for this fine mind and nimble body.

"ANYTHING CAN BE SOLD PROVIDING it competes favorably as to price and terms, with the rest of the market." In particular, homes for $5,000 to $12,000 are always in demand. If these properties are properly priced at fair terms, selling should be no difficulty. Although an owner may know this, he might sometimes feel the need for frank advice of a man who knows the market sufficiently to help him place the home in its proper classification. Then, too, the fully-qualified salesman should be in a position to closely assess the financing possibilities that will often give the owner all cash, although the house is sold on low terms. There is a saying in the real estate profession: "A home properly listed is half-sold." Add to that a good knowledge of financing on the part of the realtor, and it is more like "90% sold." If you are about to put your home on the market, or perhaps your listed property has only had a dull reaction on the public, may I offer my services? Kindly call Douglas Hawkes at 4-7128, after hours, 3-2589 or 4-7128), 617 Fort.

One-Time Cripple Travels Far On His Tricycle Built for One

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Helping others to help themselves is the working philosophy of Wilford F. Wright, 57-year-old First World War veteran, who can be seen pedalling his tricycle through Victoria streets today.

Mr. Wright has proved that tricycling is a cure for multiple sclerosis and he does his best to interest other victims in the cure.

"In 1938 I was a hopeless cripple with no hope of recovery," the sun-burned cyclist said. "The following year I bought my first tricycle and since then I have pedalled more than 136,000 miles."

"I started slowly, pedalling a quarter of a mile a day and gradually over a period of two years, worked up to an average of 250 miles a week.

"It's a matter of re-educating your leg muscles and training them to work freely."

INDEPENDENT

A slight figure in white shorts and open-necked shirt, Mr. Wright is pedalling his tricycle around Victoria today and plans to visit Butchart Gardens this afternoon.

"I am independent of taxis, trains or buses," he said. "I go where I like when I like and believe me, its tremendous fun.

"On a tricycle you have time to observe the beauties of life and you meet all kinds of wonderful people."

From the Veterans' Administration Hospital at Bay Pines, near St. Petersburg, Florida, Mr. Wright has coasted, pedalled and pushed his tricycle across the United States four times and is now on his fifth trip.

TO ROCKIES

On his present tour he left St. Petersburg on May 3 following Highways 80 and 101 across the United States to Seattle. He had planned to go to Alaska, but changed his plans because he couldn't get boat reservations.

"I shall take the train to Banff and Lake Louise instead."

Mr. Wright averages 70 to 100 miles a day. His equipment consists of pocket radio, mackintosh, road maps, a one-gallon thermos for hot drinks—and an autograph book.

Most of the people he meets are asked to write something in his book. A typical entry:

"It's nice meeting a Knight of the Road . . . you are inspiration to victims of paralysis."

Matter of FACT

The Aztecs, whose culture virtually matched Europe's of the time, were conquered by the 450 Spaniards under Cortes with amazing speed—in part because their "empire" contained many disaffected tribes, and in part because of their own ancient legend that a "white god" from the East would return to rule over them. In astronomy, medicine, law and government, their learning was almost equal to Spain's.

Action Asked On Nanaimo's Parking Problem

NANAIMO (CP) — A plea for early attention to Nanaimo's pressing parking problem in the downtown area was made by Kiwanis Club speaker Frank Ney to fellow club members Tuesday.

He said more than $40,000,000 was invested in real estate in the commercial heart of the city.

"This investment is worth protecting and it is to the city's interest to preserve values in this area which produces, together with the industrial area, more than half the city's tax revenue.

Decline in customer traffic in the downtown area would naturally cut business volume.

Jake's Widow Receives Licence

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Mrs. Julia Mintz, widow of Jake Mintz, was licensed Monday as the only woman fight manager in Pennsylvania.

She immediately signed a Wilf Greaves, a Canadian from Edmonton now fighting out of Pittsburgh, to a three-year contract. Greaves had been managed by Mintz prior to his death last month.

Mrs. Mintz said she had no matches definitely lined up for Greaves, but added, "I've got a lot of offers."

The climax of Mintz's career came when he managed Ezzard Charles to a world heavyweight championship.

KILLS WIFE

Murder Charge Faces Pet Lover

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A charge of second-degree murder was placed against the 44-year-old superintendent of the Daytona Beach Humane Society after he admitted he jabbed into his wife's stomach two shots of an anaesthetic he kept to kill "small kittens and dogs."

Walter R. Hoffman said Tuesday the act followed a day of beer drinking. He told state attorney W. W. Judge he made the injections as his wife sat "sagging in a chair." He said he had no idea why he did it.

"My wife was the best woman in the world," Hoffman told the state atorney. "That's why I can't understand any of this. I've been begging the Lord to give me an answer.

Mrs. Hoffman died an hour after the shots were injected.

Hoffman said he was haunted by the trust and friendliness of animals he had been forced to put to sleep.

"Something may have gone wrong with me somewhere because it's really bothered me, putting those animals to sleep," Hoffman said. Hoffman also is the city dog warden.

"It did something to me each time I saw a dog wagging its tail at me just before I put it to sleep.

Youth Shoots Sister, Mother To Hear Record

VIRGINIA, Minn. (AP) — An 18-year-old youth, angered, police said, because his parents shut off a record player, fatally shot his four-year-old sister and critically wounded his mother Monday night. His father suffered minor wounds and another sister was injured as she attempted to disarm him.

Police said the youth, William Niemi, Jr., whom they described as a "problem boy" recently released from a state training school, admitted firing on his family with a pistol and a shotgun.

The four-year-old child, Mary, was slain in her bedroom crib "because she was screaming all the time," police quoted Niemi as saying. Mrs. Niemi was shot twice and was reported in serious condition. Her husband, 41, was shot in the arm when he fled to summon police.

Marilyn, 15-year-old sister, suffered facial burns when her brother fired on her as she sought to disarm him. When police entered the home, Marilyn was lying at the bottom of the steps gripping tightly and lying on the shotgun.

SMOOTH AS SILK

Record Jet Streak 'Lot of Fun'

NEW YORK (AP) — A U.S. marine major who says he has "a lot of fun flying" is the new United States trans - continental speed king.

Maj. John Glenn Jr. of Washington, D.C., shot across the country in the navy jet plane Tuesday in a record-breaking three hours, 23 minutes and 6.4 seconds.

"Everything was smooth as silk," the pilot said.

Glenn, 36, hit a top speed of more than 1,000 miles an hour.

How did it feel to fly that fast?

"Flying at 1,000 miles an hour you don't feel speed as much as you do driving 70 miles an hour on the highway," he said. "Speed is just something you read on the dials."

Glenn jockeyed his swept-wing F-8UI Chance-Vought Crusader at an average unofficial speed of 726 m.p.h. He covered 2,460 miles on the flight from Los Alamitos, to Floyd Bennett field.

Bulgaria Follows Suit By Purging 3 Top Reds

VIENNA (UP) — Communist Bulgaria Tuesday fired its interior minister and two other ranking officials from the party leadership. It thus became the second satellite to follow Russia's lead and clean out "anti-party" elements.

Radio Sofia broadcast a communique by the party central committee announcing that interior Minister and Vice-Premier Georgi Tschankoff was dropped from the party politburo. Two other leaders were dismissed from the central committee itself.

As interior minister, Tschankoff was responsible for internal security and controlled the police forces.

All three were accused of trying to "undermine the party's unity."

Peronistas To Scuttle Election

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters)—The Peronistas are threatening to upset the result of Argentina's July 28 election by casting blank votes.

The election is to choose a national assembly of 205 members whose sole task will be to amend the constitution in such a way as to strengthen individual liberties and limit the power of the executive.

It is being advertised by the government as the first major step toward the re-establishment of democratic institutions in Argentina.

The president, Gen. Pedro Aramburu, has promised that it will be followed by a presidential election in February, 1958.

The Peronistas, as the supporters of deposed president Juan Peron are called, explained their attitude to the election in an article in their weekly newspaper, Palabra Argentina. It said:

"The blank vote will be tantamount to an historic silence. Numbers will show that the bulk of the people will not accept complicity in the schemes of the administration."

The uncompromising Peronistas constitute only one of various groups now harassing the government in such a way that what was originally intended to be an election for the purpose of setting up an assembly to amend some clauses of the constitution is becoming in effect a plebiscite in which the nation, by voting for or against the government, or by casting blank votes, will give its verdict on Aramburu's regime.

Bengal Prankster Takes House By Storm

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — A man walked into the Indian parliament, took the oath as a member shook hands with the Speaker and seated himself on the ogvernment benches.

The secretariat later discovered that no one of the name given by the man had been elected to parliament and that he was an imposter.

The man, about 35, gave his name as Birender Mazumdar and said he had been elected from West Bengal. He passed through five security check posts in the parliament building to reach the chamber.

The Speaker later told members that the man had been handed over to a medical board for a mental examination.

Special U.K. Board To Block Inflation

Ottawa Imposes Import Control On U.S. Poultry

Move Welcomed By City Spokesmen

OTTAWA (CP)—Acting Agriculture Minister Harkness today announced imposition of import controls on turkeys and fowl from the United States.

He said the import control is effective today along with federal price supports on both turkeys and fowl. The former Liberal government had announced price supports on fowl only, effective Aug. 1.

Mr. Harkness said the government has taken the action "to protect the poultry industry against falling prices in the face of abundant local supplies and heavy imports."

Turkey prices will be supported at 25 cents a pound live weight, delivered at Toronto and Montreal, for birds of 20 pounds and under. Appropriate differentials where necessary for other weights and market centres.

The support price on fowl is 23 cents a pound live weight for birds of five pounds and over delivered at Toronto.

The new controls will mean the difference between success and failure in the turkey industry, according to Mrs. C. G. McCulloch, 2938 Phipps, secretary of the Vancouver Island Turkey Improvement Association.

"We've been working on this for quite a few years, and have a delegate in Ottawa now," she said.

"Feed and freight prices have affected us, but the biggest hurt has been caused by United States competition," she said.

"In the United States growers have the market to make operation of larger ranches feasible," she said. "A ranch of 30,000 birds is nothing, and the operators are content with a smaller margin of profit. We can't even raise birds for the selling price here of U.S. birds."

Poultrymen also find the controls "good news," according to B. F. Nickkels of Luxton.

"U.S. poultrymen have been using Canada as a dumping ground," he said. "I guess the higher value of the Canadian dollar hasn't hurt them either."

Investment in the poultry industry in the Victoria trading area is estimated at upwards of $2,000,000.

BOMB HOAXES CONTINUE, 7-FLOOR HOTEL EMPTIED

(See also page 11.)

VANCOUVER (CP)—A seven-storey hotel was evacuated Tuesday night following two bomb warnings within half an hour.

It brought the total of false bomb scares here in the last month to six.

A United Air Lines DC-6B, which had taken off for Seattle nine minutes before, was called back. Searchers found nothing.

A young man with a voice similar to that heard at the airline office, telephoned the night clerk of the Empress Hotel at 8 p.m., "There is a bomb in your hotel."

Police found nothing.

Typhoon Toll Soars in Asia

HONG KONG (UP)—Typhoon Wendy, which killed 400 persons in the Philippines, slammed into Hong Kong and Red China today, killing at least three more persons.

The victims, two of them young boys, were trapped in their huts by landslides caused by rain and high winds from the storm.

The centre of the typhoon passed 50 miles northeast of here today to hit the Chinese mainland full blast. The storm disrupted communications, caused local flooding and landslides. All scheduled air services in this colony were halted.

Before crossing the Pacific to China, the typhoon caused one of the worst floods in Philippine history with at least 400 persons dead and another 1,000 feared drowned in remote Pangasinan province.

The flash floods triggered by typhoon Wendy swept entire villages away on the northern island of Luzon and some 30,000 persons were reported homeless in an area covering six towns.

It was feared that more than 1500 persons may have been swept away by the surging waters of the Agno river. In one town 230 bodies were recovered and municipal authorities ran out of burial permit forms.

Terror Wave Claims 20 In Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (Reuters)—Twenty persons have died in the last 24 hous in a new upsurge of Algerian terrorism, which the French authorities believe is "window dressing" to prepare for a debate on Algeria at the next United Nations General Assembly session.

French officials say directives emanting from insurgent chiefs in Tunis and taken from insurgents killed in battle demand an intensified campaign of attacks and sabotage to draw world attention to Algeria while nations friendly to the Algerian nationalist cause seek a United Nations debate.

Six Moslems died in a burning taxi, ambushed near Martimprey, western Algeria.

Advisory Body On Wages, Prices Now Proposed

LONDON (Reuters)—Cabinet ministers, chiefs of the state-run industries and trade union leaders met in conference here today to consider the threat presented to the British economy by soaring prices.

The main object of the talks was to get the reaction of the trade unions to a government proposal for an independent body to advise both sides of industry on incomes, costs and prices.

Politicians and trade unionists alike see danger to the economy unless prompt measures are taken to halt the present inflationary wage-prices increases.

But many of the trade union leaders blame the government for the present situation. They cite as evidence such measures as the government's recently-passed rent decontrol act which by allowing landlords to charge more will increase the cost of living for millions of people.

COAL, ELECTRICITY UP

Britain's nationalized industries, mainly coal, domestic gas and electricity, are under fire because of frequent increases in charges.

An impending increase in postal charges is causing a strong outcry from Conservative members of Parliament.

Peter Thorneycroft, chancellor of the exchequer, in recent speeches has said there is no financial crisis in Britain. In a television interview this week he reasserted this, adding:

"Exports are rising, production is going up. There is a large volume of investment and a good outlook of trade surplus with the rest of the world.

"This is a very satisfactory and strong position, except for this question of inflation. The basic answer is that as a nation we must stop taking more out of the economy than we put in."

So far the Trades Union Congress has taken no official decision on the government's proposal for an impartial body to advise on the situation. Its leaders have said frequently they recognize the threat of constant wage-increase demands to the economy, but argue they are inevitable unless the government can hold down the cost of living.

Some point to the latest—and as they see it—most ironic feature of the situation. This is that the government has been obliged to recognize the burden of high living costs on politicians themselves by giving members of Parliament a substantial raise.

Ike Backs Atom Arms For NATO

Zhukov, Dulles Talks Would Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower endorsed today the idea of an American supply of atomic weapons for NATO as outlined Tuesday by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He said NATO members must be armed properly.

The president said at a press conference that if a country is defending itself against a nuclear attack it ought to have the resources to respond in kind.

Furthermore, if the United States supplied atomic weapons to NATO powers then those countries would not have to manufacture their own atomic weapons and would avoid the economic strains resulting from creation of a nuclear weapons industry.

Eisenhower also said a meeting of Russia's Marshal Zhukov and U.S. Defence Secretary Charles Wilson might prove useful.

He said that he and Zhukov, now Soviet defence minister, became quite well acquainted at the end of the Second World War. They were both in Berlin at the time.

The president added that he and Zhukov at that time co-operated very closely, and that a Zhukov-Wilson meeting at this time might prove profitable by bringing together defence ministers of the two countries.

Socred MLA to Press Fight On Rebate 'Discrimination'

City alderman and Social Credit MLA, Donald Smith, said today he will continue his fight against "discrimination" in application of the government's new $28 tax rebate legislation for home-owners.

Mr. Smith said he spoke in support of a resolution passed unanimously Monday night by the Victoria Social Credit Constituency Association criticizing the act.

PENALIZED

Mr. Smith maintains that some property owners are being penalized because they live on the premises of their rooming houses.

"I intend to see that it's changed," he said.

The resolution was put before the constituency meeting by Herbert Watson, president of the Victoria branch of the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association.

Mr. Watson said there was "very little" discussion on the resolution before it was unanimously approved. It now will come before the provincial Social Credit convention in October.

Mr. Smith said he couldn't see why the issue shouldn't be in the open.

"I am very pleased that it was brought to the floor," he said.

But other constituency officials were reluctant to discuss the subject.

NO SATISFACTION

Mr. Smith said previously that government MLAs understood when the legislation was passed at the spring session that all homeowners would receive the $28 rebate on their taxes.

He took his case to the premier at a private meeting last week but came away saying he had received "no satisfaction."

His contention is that persons who own rooming houses or apartment blocks and are able to live in their own homes receive the $28 on their house; while others who live on the premises do not.

Foreign Aid Vital

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told senators today that foreign aid cuts would be "false economies" which would wreck free world efforts in disarmament negotiations with Russia.

He urged the Senate Appropriations Committee to put up the entire $3,900,000,000 President Eisenhower originally requested.

Readers Hail Times Centennial Project

Times readers have reacted promptly and favorably to the suggestion that a logger in action would be the fitting theme for a centennial statue.

On its front page Tuesday night the Times reprinted a photo taken at the Sooke loggers' sports on Saturday showing Alan Woodrow in the act of swinging a double-bitted axe in the tree-chopping contest. It was suggested that this is a more suitable subject for the centennial carving than another statue to Sir James Douglas.

R. de la Hitte, 710 Fort Street, writes: "In my opinion no better or more suitable subject or portrayal could be found. Find the sculptor who can faithfully reproduce the expression and the posture, then there will be no further argument as to what should be erected at the foot of the Legislative Buildings."

Alan L. Greig, 1141 Fort, simply says: "I think it's tops, and my friends agree."

This is the general tenor of letters so far written about the idea.

Russia Mum On British Arms Plan

LONDON (UP)—Britain proposed today that technical working groups be set up to clarify details of issues already agreed upon in broad general outline by the five-power disarmament conference.

This proposal was made by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. It was supported in principle by the representatives of the U.S., France and Canada. But it was met with silence by chief Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin.

The fact that Zorin said nothing about Lloyd's suggestions or anything else brought expressions of surprise from conference observers. He had been expected to condemn the new American plan for putting atomic weapons at NATO's disposal.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Father of all mankind, look with mercy upon thy stubborn, stupid children in our warring madness. Teach us to live together in mutual understanding and good will. Show us that we depend upon one another. Help us to see the good in our neighbors and to bear with their faults and follies so that we may share peacefully the abundant blessings of thy good world; in Christ's name. Amen.

Prairie Farms Face Crop Crisis; Heat, Hoppers, Hail Toll Soars

REGINA (CP)—As hot, dry winds burn through ripening crops, Saskatchewan wheat farmers face a serious threat of drought for the first time in eight years.

Agricultural officials have described the situation as "critical." They considered the fate of the 1957 crop will probably hinge on the rainfall in the next week.

Heat, grasshoppers and hail already have taken their toll in scattered parts of the province but a timely, general rain might still produce a wheat crop, lower than last year's bumper 327,000,000 bushels but higher than the long term average yield of 15 bushels an acre. The province normally grows about 60 per cent of the country's wheat.

"We should not write off the crop yet," said a spokesman for the provincial agriculture department. "If crop conditions do not deteriorate further and with a bit of luck, the prospects are still favorable for an above-average yield."

RAIN NEEDED SOON

He said more than 50 per cent of the estimated 12,685,000-acre wheat crop now is in head and needs moisture quickly to fill the heads.

The Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, however, was less optimistic and its latest weekly report said the moisture deficiency is worsening in "an alarming manner," causing rapid deterioration of crops.

During the last week, steady dry winds from the west and 90-degree plus temperatures again burned the roots of maturing wheat in the southwest along the United States border; lack of rain has practically wiped out the crop in an area north of North Battleford in the northwest; and conditions are poor in some central districts north and west of Regina.

CANADA HERE I COME!

Right Frame of Mind Inspired By Paint Job

LEEDS, England (CP)—Each day for a month foreman painter Harold Calverley was the first man on the job as workmen put the finishing touches to the Canadian government's new immigration office in Leeds.

And when the office opened for business Monday, the first man through the doors leading to the spacious reception hall was the 35-year-old painter—this time as a customer.

"I heard so much about Canada while I was working that I decided it was the place for me," said Calverley. "And having decided, I was determined to be the first in line—I was back so early the paint hadn't dried."

In fact, Calverley didn't wait for the office to open before starting proceedings. By the time he made formal application, he had already lined up a job in Toronto. He expects to fly to Canada before the end of the month. His wife, Sheila, and nine-year-old daughter, Beryl, will follow after he has found accommodation for them.

The new office, with its staff of 17, will handle emigration enquiries originating in the northeast of England. It is the sixth Canadian immigration office in the United Kingdom. The others are in London, Liverpool, Bristol, Glasgow and Belfast.

Calverley surprised the office staff by turning up again today. "I've talked a pal into going out to Canada with me and I'm just showing him the ropes."

Light Spurs Search

VAL D'OR, Que. (CP)—A flashing light was spotted by an RCAF Dakota search plane over desolate northwest Quebec Tuesday night and planes soared skyward today to run down what might be a clue to the whereabouts of a missing Lockheed photo-survey plane and the four men aboard.

SKY'S THE LIMIT

Victoria sports fans will be able to make daily check on progress of drive to give city community-owned hockey club on this thermometer, erected today at Yates and Douglas Streets. Reading was at $12,000, but campaign manager Colin Kilburn says approximately half of minimum amount of $30,000 required to form new club has been pledged by subscriptions for $25 shares. Campaign goal is $50,000. (Times photo.)

CANADIAN $ HITS NEW HIGH

NEW YORK (AP)—The Canadian dollar climbed to another high since 1933 for the fourth straight day today.

In terms of U.S. currency the Canadian dollar was quoted at $1.05 9-32, up 3-32 from Tuesday and up 17-64 from last Thursday.

This was the highest price since November, 1933, just before the United States went off the Gold Standard. At that time the Canadian dollar set an all-time high at $1.05⅝ in terms of U.S. money.

BUT 7 MORE TO DIE

7 Win Reprieves In Hungary Trial

BUDAPEST (Reuters) — The Hungarian Supreme Court today revoked the death sentence for seven persons but confirmed it for seven others for their part in the killing of six policemen in Miskolc during last fall's uprising.

Spectators in the public galleries wept as the court gave its decisions after a hearing, lasting more than two weeks, of prosecution and defence appeals against the sentences passed by a lower court on May 16.

The court raised one prison sentenced and reduced others on seven more caused in the same case. They were given prison sentences ranging from life to 10 years by the lower court.

Four of the reprieved-Karoly Laubert, 38, Istvan Lapsanszky, 23, Gyoergy Suba, 21, and Jozsef Kincses, 27—were jailed for life and the others — Imre Foeldi, 28, Jozsef Martoncsik, 38, and Lajos Toth — for 20 years each.

Women in the public galleries wept as Laszlo Lengyel slumped down on the prisoners' bench sobbing and moaning after his appeal against the death sentence was rejected.

An elderly man called out "Do not cry, my child." A woman shouted a remark which included the word "justice' but was unintelligible in the press seats.

Both were escorted from the courtroom as two fellow prisoners tried to calm Lengyel, slim, dark and pale. Armed police guards later led him still shaking with sobs from the dock.

He returned a few minutes later still agitated and stood with lowered head, his dark hair falling over his face, as the presiding judge read out the rest of the sentences.

Some specators left the public gallery and sat weeping on benches in a corridor outside the courtroom.

2 Ministers Quit Cabinet In Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost of Ontario announced today the resignation of Reform Institutions Minister Foote and Mines Minister Kelly.

Major Foote, who has been in the Ontario legislature since 1948, was appointed minister of reform institutions in November, 1950. He represents Durham riding. A Presbyterian minister, he won the Victoria Cross for gallantry in the Dieppe raid in 1942. He is ill in hospital.

Mr. Kelly, an accountant, has sat in the legislature since 1951 and became mines minister in June, 1952. He represents Cochrane North.

Bishop Admits Morality Claim Hearsay

TORONTO (CP) — Most Rev. F. A. Marrocco said today a remark he made—that 40 girls were expelled from a suburban high school because they were pregnant — had been misconstrued as a "piece of statistic" rather than a piece of hearsay he passed along privately to a small study group.

The Roman Catholic auxiliary bishop of Toronto was quoted Tuesday as saying at an intergroup relations conference at Geneva Park, Ont., that there has been a breakdown in Canadian social life and as citing pregnancy at Earl Haig collegiate institute as an example.

His observations drew heated denials from North York board of education officials and high school staff.

Bishop Marracco said his statement was made at a private discussion after he read a prepared paper.

"In its proper context I passed it along as something I heard about a school in my area to illustrate a point I was making," the bishop said.

Carol Kelly, Earl Haig physical education teacher, said today she had never heard of anyone at the school being pregnant.

Dr. F. W. Minkler, North York director of education, described the bishop's remark as "far-fetched" and added: "I don't know of any girls in our schools becoming pregnant or being dismissed for that reason."

IT'S 'SMART' TO GET RID OF APPENDIX

MEAFORD, Ont. (CP) — Hugh Smart had his appendix out Sunday.

That happened while Victor Smart, Hugh's dad, was convalescing—from an appendectomy.

Hugh's sister Ruth, 15, wasn't feeling too chipper either. She had an appendectomy just before her dad. Audrey, 17, got the ball rolling eight weeks ago. That's when she had her appendix removed.

There are still three Smarts with their appendix intact. They won't lay bets on how long.

Tourist Raid On Khan Rites Curbed by Heir

VERSOIX, Switzerland (UP) — The Aga Khan IV posted guards at the family villa here today to prevent gaudily-dressed tourists from gate crashing the solemn lying-in-state ceremonies for his grandfather.

The body of the 79-year-old Aga Khan III, who died last week, was to be flown to Egypt this evening for burial services at Aswan Friday.

The gates were open to all Tuesday, but the new security regulations were ordered when shirt-sleeved tourists stopped their cars to join the hundreds of persons clamoring for admittance at the gate.

Teamster Chief Acquitted On Bribe Charge

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The head of the teamsters' union in Oregon was acquitted Tuesday night of a charge of conspiracy to accept a bribe while serving on a Portland city commission.

Clyde C. Crosby dropped his head on his chest when the verdict was announced, closed his eyes momentarily and then flashed a broad grin at the jury.

Crosby, the teamsters' international representative in Oregon, had been charged with conspiring to place the site of an $8,000,000 sports centre here. The prosecution said Crosby and others conspired to obtain property options at the site.

Miss Canada Most Popular

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP) — Fifteen girls representing the cream of American beauty were selected Tuesday night to vie for the title of "Miss United States of America" in the annual Miss Universe beauty pageant.

Finals for the "Miss U.S.A." title will be held tonight.

Following her selection "Miss U.S.A." will be entered in the "Miss Universe" finals Friday against the top 15 international entrants.

The most popular girl in the parade trophy went to Miss Canada, 18-year-old Gloria Noakes, of Toronto. She was chosen by the thousands who viewed the traditional Miss Universe parade Sunday.

Miss Germany, Gerti Daub, 19, was named during the evening as the most photogenic beauty. She was picked for the title by the corps of photographers and press covering the annual event.

3-COUNTRY DEAL

Syrians To Buy Red Armament With Cotton

CAIRO (AP) — A three-country deal is reported under way to provide Syria with more arms from Communist Czechoslovakia.

Syrian desire for new and improved weapons has been spurred by the recent flareup of shooting along its border with Israel.

Arab diplomatic informants said the arms plan calls for Syria to export wheat to Egypt for some of Egypt's cotton credits in Czechoslovakia. Syria would use the cotton credits to buy more Czech arms.

Syrian Defence Minister Khaled el Azem, who has been in Italy for medical treatment, was reported en route to Prague and Moscow to close the deal.

The informants said Egypt has bought more Soviet-bloc arms in the last 18 months than it can assimilate but still has large Czech credits from a cotton agreement made in 1955. Cairo newspapers reported recently that Egypt had opened an initial credit for Syria of nearly $3,000,000 in Czechoslovakia.

At United Nations headquarters in New York, officials announced that UN lookout posts have been established on the Israeli side of the Israeli-Syrian border.

The officials said the action was taken at Israeli's request after the series of border clashes.

Israeli sources said the request stipulated that the posts be maintained for one month, but UN spokesmen said the four or five posts set up would be used as long as necessary.

Reports from Jerusalem said the UN truce organization on the border region had been reinforced and is maintaining a 24-hour watch.

FALL-OUT SOARS TO NEW HIGH

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Radioactive fall-out from Monday's atomic explosion in Nevada soared to a new high of 7,090 micro-microcuries of beta radiation Tuesday.

The generally-considered safety level over a 24-hour period is 1,000 micro-microcuries.

The Utah health department, which obtained the readings from air samples taken on the roof of the state capital building here, said the fall-out could be considered safe because of the short period of time.

Search Fails To Find Plane

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—An intensive air, sea and ground search today failed to turn up any trace of a U.S. Air Force C-47 missing with 16 persons aboard.

Radio contact with the plane was broken Tuesday night as it neared the end of a journey to Taipei from Clark Field, in the Philippines.

New Clash in Saanich Council Over Architects' Fees on Hall

Saanich Council is committed to payment of up to $10,000 in architect's fees whether or not the municipality renovates and extends its municipal hall, Reeve Arthur Ash said Tuesday night.

He told his council a special committee headed by Coun. Joseph Casey had ordered plans for additions and alterations to the hall.

"This had been done without the approval of the ratepayers and before the provincial government makes its decision on whether the ratepayers should vote on this question."

He explained that for preparation of plans, architects are entitled to 10 per cent of the estimated costs of alterations to an old building.

They receive 20 per cent of their total fee for preparing preliminary plans, 50 per cent for completion of drawings.

"Therefore 70 per cent of the total fees have been committed to this date."

"You were in the chair when this came up, but you didn't say anything. . ." said Coun. Casey.

"I voted against it—the whole thing," the reeve replied.

"I don't believe we've committed the people to this amount at all," said Coun. Casey.

The committee voted to investigate the fees.

Estimated cost of the project is $225,000.

Reeve Ash says he is confident ratepayers will repect the proposal if a referendum is held.

"I am more convinced than ever that a temporary steel building is the answer."

It could be used elsewhere in the municipality if a new hall is built in the future, or the municipality joins in a united hall project with Victoria, the reeve said.

Ontario Police Face Third Murder Inquiry

BRANTFORD, Ont. (BUP)—Ontario today had its third brutal murder in 10 days with the discovery of the body of an elderly man at Burford, about 10 miles from Brantford.

Firemen called out to battle a fire in the home of Albert Hearne, 86, this morning found his body lying in a pool of blood under a pile of clothes.

Police said Hearne's head had been battered in. They believe robbery was the motive as it was reported locally that Hearne was a miser with a large amount of money cached in his house.

Provincial police have two other unsolved murders on their hands.

Last week a 22-year-old housewife in the Cornwall district was hacked and beaten to death after being criminally assaulted. The victim was Mrs. Lois McLaughlin.

Last weekend the body of 30-year-old Edwin Jones of Hamilton, member of the Jehovah Witness religious sect, was found in the Wealland district. He had been beaten and stabbed to death.

Parking Board Study Ordered

MOTELS FULL AS SUN DRAWS TOURIST FLOW

Almost every auto court in Victoria hung out a "No Vacancy" sign today as the summer tourist traffic approached its peak.

Victoria and Island Publicity bureau is being bombarded with inquiries for room space by disappointed Island visitors.

"Many say they have scoured the district in vain for auto court accomodation," publicity commissioner George Warren said.

"The change in the weather has had an immediate effect on the influx of tourist cars and we are doing all we can to keep our tourists happy."

Engineer Urges Purchase Of Good Downtown Sites

Establishment of a downtown parking commission will be studied by Victoria council public works committee, it was decided today.

The committee authorized city engineer J. C. Garnett to approach the manager of the Vancouver Downtown Parking Corporation, Tempest de Wolf, for assistance in planning.

It is possible he will be brought here to examine local problems and make recommendations.

These initial steps were taken following a strong recommendation by the city engineer.

"Now is the time to form a parking commission. Public works committee should go on record," said Mr. Garnett.

GET SITES

He said also the city should start now to acquire suitable sites for off-street parking lots which could be operated by the city.

He warned, the best available lots are now in the hands of private operators.

"As soon as they get a good offer, they will sell for a skyscraper or gas station or something."

The engineer's submission was based partly on the recently-completed traffic and parking surveys and reports by J. D. Faustman, a Sacramento consultant engineer, hired last year.

It followed too, publication in the Times June 8, of results of a nation-wide poll on downtown parking, drawn up by the city of Saskatoon.

It showed that of 11 Canadian cities of comparative size, Victoria appeared at the bottom of the ladder in meeting the current demand for off-street parking and in planning for future needs.

Victoria was the only one of 11 which had no off-street publicly-owned parking facilities.

Nine of the cities, Victoria excluded, used their parking meter revenues, or set up special funds to alleviate downtown parking problems.

Mr. Garnett reported to the committee a meeting had been held with present operators of parking lots. He said the operators felt there was no shortage of off-street parking, but the charges which must be made are "too high to attract business."

GET TOGETHER

Mr. Garnett said the retail merchants group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and other merchant organizations should be asked to meet with the operators.

The two groups should study methods of applying a customer validation plan—which would mean merchants would absorb all or part of parking fees for customers—in the downtown area.

The committee, headed by Ald. M. H. Mooney suggested the engineer get in touch with Mr. de Wolf. It was also proposed he might be asked to come to Victoria for a first-hand look.

A letter was received from Victoria Town Planning Commission asking more time to study the question of downtown parking. The commission wanted to make use of information now being gathered by Capital Region Planning Board, before making any firm recommendations.

The committee will await the TPC report but in the meantime will pursue its own investigations.

The Faustman plan had recommended establishment of "a parking authority, commission, agency or citizen's co-operative association."

It also called for development of three major off-street parking facilities, one being a three-level garage. The long-range cost estimate was $1,275,000.

MONTE ROBERTS

If there is one thing at which I curl the lip of scorn, it is a column written about the columnist's own physical infirmities.

It is a well-known fact all columnists have physical infirmities. This is what enables them to avoid going out and doing an honest day's work.

As for mental infirmities, they are a necessary part of the tools of the columnistic trade.

Therefore I am always disdainfully amused, as well as righteously annoyed, when I encounter a column written by a columnist to the effect the columnist has been ill.

This is a plain indication that the columnist has a lazy mind. Instead of looking around him for an interesting subject, and then spending many hours or even days conducting research into this subject, the lazy columnist writes a column about himself.

Jack Scott has the sniffles, and it is good for 2,000 words.

Eric Nichol has a baby, and a year later he is still going strong.

But what have all their words contributed to knowledge, culture, the advancement of science and the search for a centennial spoonerized pun?

Nothing.

This is why I absolutely refuse to use my recent illness as material for this column.

Mind you, I cannot hide the facts. They have already been published.

On Monday, it said right here:

"Roberts fighting 'flu bug'.

On Tuesday, it said right here:

"Roberts on sick list."

So let that be an end to it. I will write no column about my own illness.

Instead, let us run this well-chosen line:

"Roberts swinging the lead."

Stan and Corol McCartney with "Rondo."

Toronto the Good, Good to McCartneys

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

What's Toronto like? Awful, say some people. But—

"It's wonderful!" say Stan and Corol McCartney, proving once more that everything depends on the angle of vision.

For the former Victoria musicians, Toronto has meant experience in a wide field, opportunity and challenge. Clarinettist Stan and violinist Corol came home in June for a month's visit with Stan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. McCartney, 194 Gorge Road West.

The visit was extended to two months when Victoria Symphony conductor Hans Gruber asked the couple to resume their old leading desk positions with the orchestra for this summer's series of three concerts in the Butchart Gardens.

Corol, a soloist of virtuoso proportions, is acting concert-master and Stan, also a fine solo artist, is leading the clarinet section.

Among the many things they have acquired in seven months down east, the most visible and vocal is "Rondo," a five-month-old French poodle who has accompanied them on their visit home.

For the daintily stepping pup who is usually in a whirl of activity, no better name could have been chosen; rondo, in musical parlance being a lively composition or movement from same, in which the music dances around and about but always returns to its main theme.

Next season Corol will definitely be playing with the Toronto Symphony under Walter Susskind; probably Stan will also be joining that famous orchestra.

"We arrived too late for auditions last fall," Corol comments, "but even so we found lots to do."

Both artists appeared as soloists on the TV program, "Opportunity Knocks," played in the orchestra during the opera festival and made several CBC trans-Canada radio broadcasts.

They made the trip home in their small car for a total cost for gas and oil of $32. Travelling practically all the way on Canadian highways they found the roads "very good indeed" until they hit British Columbia.

TO U.S.

"At Trail we had to make a loop down through the States," Corol reports.

Happy as they are in Toronto, both are enjoying their visit home and rehearsals with their former fellow players.

They think this Thursday's concert at Butchart's should be a "dilly" if the weather co-operates.

It is wonderful to work under Sir Ernest McMillan once more, both agree.

Inquest Friday In Logger's Death

Inquest will be held Friday into the death of Robert E. H. Gait, 50-year-old Saanich logger who died alone in the Goldstream watershed Tuesday when a large cedar he had just felled rolled on him.

The inquest has been set for 10 a.m. at McCall's funeral chapel.

An employee for 10 years of a small logging company owned by R. C. Oldfield, 4674 Pipeline Road, Gait was last seen alive at lunch time.

His body was discovered at 4.45 p.m. by co-workers Woodrow Wilson, 5790 Oldfield, and his brother Raymond Wilson, 343 Caldecote, who had been bulldozing and clearing the right-of-way about eight miles past the Goldstream hotel.

Gait had been working alone 200 yards ahead of his companions. Apparently the cedar, three feet in diameter, fell, then rolled over his body, pushing it into a crouching position.

At quitting time, "we hollered for him and he didn't answer," Woodrow Wilson said. "So we walked into the woods and my brother found him pinned under the log."

While Woodrow eased the log from Gait's body, Raymond Wilson drove to the nearby home of the watershed watchman and phoned for Langford ambulance.

Gait was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. It is believed the logger could have died from injuries caused by crushing or by suffocation.

PAL KILLED

On Gait's first logging venture, about 25 years ago, his companion was killed in a similar accident, his son Douglas said.

He is survived by the widow, Margaret, at home, 5164 Old West Road, two sons, Vernon, 13, a student at Royal Oak School, and Douglas E., McMorran's Auto Court; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Gait, Victoria; four brothers, Ernest, John, Sid and Victor, all of Victoria; two sisters, Mrs. S. Scurrah, Victoria, and Mrs. C. White, White Rock, B.C., and two grandsons.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of McCall Brothers.

Roving Speed-Traps New RCMP Weapon

By AB KENT

Newest weapon in the RCMP battle to cut highway law-breaking went into effect today in Victoria and Lower Mainland areas.

Latest measure is establishment of roving "safety control areas," a simple system involving use of three radio-equipped cars, synchronized watches and basic arithmetic.

By the system, speeders may be clocked over a measured course, start of which is clearly marked, but without a designated end.

RCMP headquarters here said areas may be anywhere from one mile to 50 miles in length, thus discouraging the average motorist from abusing speed limits.

Advantage of the safety control area is its flexibility, mobility and simplicity. A team may move to any stretch of highway and set up a zone and warning sign.

Other methods of traffic control, such as radar, will not be discarded. New zones serve to supplement existing systems.

Unlike radar warning systems, however, safety control signs will be moved with the team. If a team is not operating on a particular highway, the sign will be taken down.

It works like this:

A patrol car is set up at the zone entry point and licence numbers of suspected violators or any other cars entering the zone are radioed ahead to the second car at a measured but undesignated point.

Officer in the second car notes the time of entry and the time a named auto passes his car and by simple calculation determines whether the speed limit has been broken.

If so, he radios to the third patrol car stationed farther along the highway which acts as pickup car. It may give the offending motorist a ticket or a warning, depending upon circumstances.

System was demonstrated for the press and TV camermen on Trans-Canada Highway near Thetis Lake today.

Work Ordered On Last Link Of Highway

First tenders for construction work on the Rogers Pass route of the Trans-Canada Highway in the interior have been called by the provincial government.

They are for an 18-mile stretch of reconstruction from Golden to Donald on the east side of the pass and a 4½-mile piece from Greeley to Butte on the west side.

Bids on a third five-mile section from Revelstoke to Greeley will be called within a few days.

Work is expected to start early next month. Bids on the first two sections will be opened July 25 and 26.

Cost of the Golden-Donald section will be split 50-50 by the federal and provincial governments under the Trans-Canada Highway Agreement.

The actual Rogers Pass construction will be paid for entirely by Ottawa because it is within the boundaries of Glacier National Park.

A 25-mile piece in provincial territory between Revelstoke and the pass will be paid 90 per cent by the federal government and 10 per cent by the province under a special clause.

The Rogers Pass route is the last major uncompleted section of the Trans-Canada Highway in B.C.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Ups and downs of the elevator industry were highlighted at a meeting of Victoria council public works committee today when a penalty of $109 was confirmed for Otis Elevator Co. Ltd.

The firm had neglected to take out a building permit before installing a freight elevator at Hudson's Bay Company here. Permit fee was $109.75. By-law stipulates it is doubled for violation. City engineer J. C. Garnett asked the penalty clause not be invoked as he was certain it was an "honest mistake." The committee was sympathetic, but firm.

When the light says "Walk" on Monday, pedestrians will be able to stampede in all directions.

Victoria engineer's department will install a new experimental "scramble light" system at Douglas and Yates this Sunday and it will be in operation Monday morning.

The four-phase system, familiar to Vancouver residents, shows red, amber and green for motor traffic, then stops all cars for a "walk" interval.

During this period pedestrians may walk east, west, north, south or diagonally across the intersection.

Negligent Driver Fined $100 After Hitting Pole, Car

His car was in collision with another car and a pole at Government and Johnson Friday night, resulting in a shoulder injury to Elizabeth Prangnell, 2547 Lincoln.

Witnesses told police Germaine was driving at a high rate of speed and attempted to pass Miss Prangnell's car on the right.

Smoke Nuisance Law Breakers To Be Listed

A list of about 12 Victoria firms operating in violation of the city's smoke by-law will be presented to city council public works committee.

The committee, which sits again in two weeks, heard today from city engineer J. C. Garnett that "a dozen or so firms have taken no effective action" since passage of the smoke by-law in October, 1951.

The list of offenders was called for by Ald. J. Donald Smith, who said, "it is time we took some positive action."

The by-law limits the density of smoke which can legally be discharged over a given period from smokestacks.

Mr. Garnett said chief difficulty in compliance with the by-law lay with the heavy expenditure necessary for installation of equipment which would retard smoke and soot.

Park Reserve Extended On Islands

The provincial government today extended its parkland reserve on islands in the Gulf of Georgia.

An order-in-council extended the reserve north to the 50th parallel, near Campbell River. The southern boundary is Gonzales Point.

Lands Minister Williston said today the reserve applies to small unsurveyed islands and islets which now are vacant Crown lands. They are set aside for use by the public.

Most of these islands were reserved under separate orders-in-council and the new order consolidates them and extends the northern boundary.

Mr. Williston said the government has taken the action because of the rapidly increasing interest in boating, and the fact that many small islands now are being bought up by private individuals.

Anita Long Tries Strait Crossing Sunday Morning

An attempt to swim Juan de Fuca Strait from Fisgard Light to Ediz Hook will be made Sunday at 8.30 a.m. by stationer's clerk Anita Long, 18.

Her navigator Bud Phillips said she is in fine condition for the attempt, but if weather turns against her the try will be turned into a practice for the Junior Chamber of Commerce mass swim.

Phillips said the girl will start swimming on a slight flood to Albert Head, pick up the ebb to beyond Race Rocks and hopes to be in position for the second flood to take her into Ediz Hook.

Lookout Project At Mt. Tolmie To Start Soon

Development of a lookout and parking facilities and improvement of road approaches to Mount Tolmie are expected to begin within the next few weeks.

Estimates of the cost compiled by the B.C. highways department will be placed before the Capital Improvement District Commission "as soon as possible," a government spokesman said today.

"The question of building an observation ramp at the lookout will be considered later," the spokesman said.

The Mount Tolmie project was started earlier this year by the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee in co-operation with the tourist trade group of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Plans for the development, including a paved parking area, an observation ramp, landscaping and improvements of the road down the north side of the hill, were drawn by Clack, Clayton and Pickstone for the chamber group.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Will you please tell me how the 42-inch-high horses got into the Grand Canyon, and why they do not breed anywhere else—A.B.

A.—It is assumed your question deals with the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River. Concerning dwarf horses in the Grand Canyon. Curle in his "Story of the Grand Canyon" mentions these dwarf horses. His theory is that about 1870 some full-sized Indian horses were abandoned or lost or strayed in the Grand Canyon. Being tough Indian ponies they survived, but through succeeding generations became dwarfed through insufficient food and nourishment. The ponies today are 7th or 8th generation.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Americans 'Short-Change' Selves

Many American tourists are "short-changing themselves on day trips to Victoria.

They think they can take back only $5 worth of duty-free purchases after a 24-hour visit to Canada.

They are, in fact, allowed $10 worth of purchases during a less than 48-hour stay and $200 worth after a stay lasting more than 48 hours.

"We are putting out posters advising U.S. tourists of their buying privileges," Puss Jeffs, assistant secretary of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said today.

MISINFORMED

"The many complaints we have received indicate that many Americans are being misinformed in this matter."

Two incidental restrictions are emphasized:

1. After making $200 worth of duty-free purchases during a more than 48-hour visit, the U.S. tourist cannot make any more such purchases for 31 days. If he returns here within that period, he cannot repeat the quota.

2. Purchases amounting to $10 during a less than 48-hour stay must not include more than 50 cigarets, 10 cigars, half a pound of manufactured tobacco, four ounces of alcoholic beverages or four ounces of alcoholic perfumery.

Tourists purchasing more than these amounts will be charged duty on returning to the U.S.

"In case you've forgotten, there are some dishes in the sink that are well stacked, too!"

Cute Baby Overalls Have Feet Attached

By PENNY SAVER

I found the cutest overalls today for a baby who's at the crawling stage. They have feet attached to them, like sleepers, so that the youngster's overalls don't work up his legs and leave them bare. And he won't need to wear separate shoes and socks, so easy for him to pull off.

The overalls come in pink or blue fine-wale corduroy, with bib, duck-shaped pocket and feet of quilted print. Price is $2.95, and they come in six-month, one-year and 18-month sizes.

Something for a little girl who's longing to be old enough to go to school—a set of schoolgirl dolls and a teacher!

The six tiny dolls have long ribbon-tied pigtails and are dressed in print skirts and blouses, while the teacher has her braids coifed up and wears spectacles. The set is complete with old-fashioned wooden "form" desks, a blackboard, slates for each pupil, and miniature books and notebooks.

Price for the set is $6.50.

Other tiny dolls are dressed in costumes of the Black Forest, Switzerland and Norway. Prices are $1. 95 cents and 75 cents respectively.

A china angel would be a nice "extra" to slip in with a little girl's birthday gift. The figurines have "July Angel," and "August Angel," and so on around the base, and each angel is dressed appropriately for the month she represents.

The February angel, for instance, has a Valentine motif, and the March angel carries a shamrock. They're 98 cents each.

NO TARNISH

Non-tarnish copper is used for some lovely table accessories I saw today. They're all in classically simple styles, some plain and some engraved with a small design.

A glass-centred lazy Susan is $11.95, while a cake plate with a centre handle is $7.95. Copper coasters in copper stands are $3.95 for four and $5.75 for eight. Copper salt and peppers are $4.50.

If you'd like to know where I found any of these items, give me a call at 2-3131.

Ghana Enters Fashion Picture

The new nation of Ghana is already counting the American fashion industry as a promising export market. Leopard skins from Ghana are featured by noted fashion designer Adele Simpson in her new collection of furs. One hundred skins of the species of leopard native to Ghana—slightly smaller than the Somali leopard and with rounder, more closely space markings—were shipped to Mrs. Simpson for this collection. The order was one of the first of the new democracy's foreign trade enterprises, and the first introduction of Ghana leopard to the United States. Simpson designs in leopard from Ghana include an American-style cardigan sweater-jacket, a short, double-breasted reefer coat and sumptuous wrapped travel coat. Several tweed suits have deep shawl collars of the fur.

Combine coffee and cocoa, stirring thoroughly. Chill mixture. Divide evenly between four tall glasses and add 2 scoops of ice cream to each glass. Serves four.

SOUTHERN RAISIN BARS

One cup light or dark raisins, 1/3 cup butter or margarine, 2/3 cup brown sugar (packed), 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ cup light molasses, 2 tablespoons orange juice or water, 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 cup semi-sweet chocolate bits.

Rinse and dry raisins. Beat butter, sugar, eggs and vanilla until well blended. Add molasses and orange juice. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices into first mixture and add raisins and chocolate bits. Mix to moderately stiff batter. Spread in a greased oblong baking pan (about 10x15 inches). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool in pan and then cut into bars about 3x1 inches. Roll in powdered sugar, if desired. Makes 3½ to 4-dozen bars.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Grease in the oven merely smells up the house when the oven is heated. To loosen burned-on grease, leave a sauce dish of ammonia in the oven overnight. Use a damp cloth the next day to remove spots. For extra-stubborn stains, steel wool is best.

Before using a new paint brush run a comb through the bristles. This removes the few loose bristles that are inevitable even in the best of paint brushes.

There's nothing so leisurely or refreshing as a delicious snack which you can enjoy out on the porch or patio. Here's just the thing to serve: Frosty Mocha Java and a plate of little sandwiches or cookies.

Dresses for the Misses:

My parents will be celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary in a couple of months, and we are wondering about dresses. Mother wants to wear a floor-length evening gown. We three daughters would like to know what would be proper for us to wear—whether they should be dainty street-length or cocktail-type dresses. This is to be an "At Home" from 2 in the afternoon to 10 at night. Would invitations to such a party mean that friends are expected to send gifts?

Louise Davis

Louise Davis Answers:

Since the anniversary party begins in the afternoon, it would be more appropriate for you to wear an afternoon dress which can be simple or dressy as you wish, depending on the formality of the occasion. I suggest that if your mother's gown is quite formal in design, that during the afternoon she wear a stole, especially if the gown is low-cut or sleeveless. When the evening arrives, she can remove it. Invitations to a wedding anniversary party usually call for gifts, especially if you stipulate on the invitation that it will be an anniversary. If you wish to avoid any hints for gifts, just issue the invitations to an "At Home" without mentioning the anniversary.

Gooseberries have many uses. For those who like acid fruits, gooseberry pies, tarts and puddings are a must. To prepare gooseberries for cooking, wash, then remove stems and tails. For a different sauce to serve with meat, try stewed gooseberries sweetened and spiced with vinegar, cloves and cinnamon, then cooked to a jelly.

Industry Will Rely On Women

TORONTO (CP) — Women possess the greatest brain-power reserve in the world, Frances Murphy of Washington told members of Pilot International at the closing session of its annual convention.

Miss Murphy said the increasing need for manpower soon will exceed the supply of workers.

"This means industry will have to turn more and more to automation in order to increase production and will also have to rely on womanpower," she said.

She urged delegates to help break down what she termed the widespread prejudice against employing older women. This, she suggested, would do much to help solve the labor problem.

Delegates attended a banquet where the board of directors for 1957-58 was installed. President Billye N. Russell of Houston, Tex., urged delegates to dedicate the next 12 months to "friendship and service."

WOMEN URGE PEACEFUL USE OF NUCLEAR POWER

COLOMBO, Ceylon (CP)—Mrs. Hugh Summers, Fonthill, Ont., said the conference of the Associated Country Women of the World gave the Canadian delegation a feeling of kinship for the women of Ceylon.

The conference ended Saturday night with a call from delegates from 35 countries for peaceful development of nuclear power.

Mrs. Summers said the "delightful hospitality and entertainment given us so freely by the women of this lovely country had engendered among us a feeling of kinship for these unselfish women."

The next conference will be held in Scotland in 1959 or 1960.

Mrs. Nancy Adams of Saskatchewan also was a delegate.

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP)—Al Balding of Toronto fired an even-par 71 second round today to maintain a two-stroke lead after 36 holes in the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship.

Winner the last two years, Balding added his 71 to a four-under-par 67 first round Tuesday. In second place was Stan Leonard of Lachute, Que., and formerly of Vancouver, who posted a 71 second round following his two-under-par 69 Tuesday.

BISLEY, England (Reuters)—Canadian marksmen won the Tuesday aggregate list at the Bisley national rifle tournament with the best total scores in competition of 300, 900 and 1,000 yards.

Top scorer with 137 out of a possible 145 was Maj. W. J. Strachen, of the School of Infantry team. Capt. C. M. Brown was second with 135 and Capt. A. L. G. Clements was third with 133. Both were from the School of Infantry team.

Damages Against Vickers Union Cut

MONTREAL (CP)—Quebec Appeals Court today reduced to $500 from $2,000 the damages the National Employees' Union of Vickers must pay Canadian Vickers, Ltd.

The union had been ordered to pay $2,000 in a Superior Court judgment which ruled that during a 1952 strike union employees had prevented non-striking employees from entering the company's plant.

Hoxsey Cancer Probers Leave Sunday

VANCOUVER (CP)—A UBC investigation team leaves Sunday for Texas to study the controversial Hoxsey cancer treatment.

The investigation, ordered by the B.C. Government, will include an on-the-spot check at the Hoxsey Clinic and a re-sifting of the findings of previous U.S. investigations.

Official Held in Quebec Election Row

MONTREAL (CP)—Detective-Captain Marcel Patenaude of the Quebec provincial police said today Rolland Gratton, secretary-treasurer of suburban Ste. Genevieve, has been detained for questioning in connection with the disappearance of all ballots printed for use in a municipal election.

Capt. Patenaude said two other persons also are being sought.

Readers Hail Times Centennial Project

Times readers have reacted promptly and favorably to the suggestion that a logger in action would be the fitting theme for a centennial statue.

On its front page Tuesday night the Times reprinted a photo taken at the Sooke loggers' sports on Saturday showing Alan Woodrow in the act of swinging a double-bitted axe in the tree-chopping contest. It was suggested that this is a more suitable subject for the centennial carving than another statue to Sir James Douglas.

R. de la Hitte, 710 Fort Street, writes: "In my opinion no better or more suitable subject or portrayal could be found. Find the sculptor who can faithfully reproduce the expression and the posture, then there will be no further argument as to what should be erected at the foot of the Legislative Buildings."

Alan L. Greig, 1141 Fort, simply says: "I think it's tops, and my friends agree."

This is the general tenor of letters so far written about the idea.

Ottawa Imposes Import Control On U.S. Poultry

Move Welcomed By City Spokesmen

OTTAWA (CP)—Acting Agriculture Minister Harkness today announced imposition of import controls on turkeys and fowl from the United States.

He said the import control is effective today along with federal price supports on both turkeys and fowl. The former Liberal government had announced price supports on fowl only, effective Aug. 1.

Mr. Harkness said the government has taken the action "to protect the poultry industry against falling prices in the face of abundant local supplies and heavy imports."

Turkey prices will be supported at 25 cents a pound live weight, delivered at Toronto and Montreal, for birds of 20 pounds and under. Appropriate differentials where necessary for other weights and market centres.

The support price on fowl is 23 cents a pound live weight for birds of five pounds and over delivered at Toronto.

The new controls will mean the difference between success and failure in the turkey industry, according to Mrs. C. G. McCulloch, 2938 Phipps, secretary of the Vancouver Island Turkey Improvement Association.

"We've been working on this for quite a few years, and have a delegate in Ottawa now," she said.

"Feed and freight prices have affected us, but the biggest hurt has been caused by United States competition," she said.

"In the United States growers have the market to make operation of larger ranches feasible," she said. "A ranch of 30,000 birds is nothing, and the operators are content with a smaller margin of profit. We can't even raise birds for the selling price here of U.S. birds."

Poultrymen also find the controls "good news," according to B. F. Nickkels of Luxton.

"U.S. poultrymen have been using Canada as a dumping ground," he said. "I guess the higher value of the Canadian dollar hasn't hurt them either."

Investment in the poultry industry in the Victoria trading area is estimated at upwards of $2,000,000.

Terror Wave Claims 20 In Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (Reuters)—Twenty persons have died in the last 24 hous in a new upsurge of Algerian terrorism, which the French authorities believe is "window dressing" to prepare for a debate on Algeria at the next United Nations General Assembly session.

French officials say directives emanting from insurgent chiefs in Tunis and taken from insurgents killed in battle demand an intensified campaign of attacks and sabotage to draw world attention to Algeria while nations friendly to the Algerian nationalist cause seek a United Nations debate.

Socred MLA to Press Fight On Rebate 'Discrimination'

City alderman and Social Credit MLA, Donald Smith, said today he will continue his fight against "discrimination" in application of the government's new $28 tax rebate legislation for home-owners.

Mr. Smith said he spoke in support of a resolution passed unanimously Monday night by the Victoria Social Credit Constituency Association criticizing the act.

Mr. Smith maintains that some property owners are being penalized because they live on the premises of their rooming houses.

"I intend to see that it's changed," he said.

The resolution was put before the constituency meeting by Herbert Watson, president of the Victoria branch of the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association.

Mr. Watson said there was "very little" discussion on the resolution before it was unanimously approved. It now will come before the provincial Social Credit convention in October.

Mr. Smith said he couldn't see why the issue shouldn't be in the open.

"I am very pleased that it was brought to the floor," he said.

But other constituency officials were reluctant to discuss the subject.

NO SATISFACTION

Mr. Smith said previously that government MLAs understood when the legislation was passed at the spring session that all homeowners would receive the $28 rebate on their taxes.

He took his case to the premier at a private meeting last week but came away saying he had received "no satisfaction."

His contention is that persons who own rooming houses or apartment blocks and are able to live in their own homes receive the $28 on their house; while others who live on the premises do not.

BOMB HOAXES CONTINUE, 7-FLOOR HOTEL EMPTIED

(See also page 11.)

VANCOUVER (CP)—A seven-storey hotel was evacuated Tuesday night following two bomb warnings within half an hour.

It brought the total of false bomb scares here in the last month to six.

A United Air Lines DC-6B, which had taken off for Seattle nine minutes before, was called back. Searchers found nothing.

A young man with a voice similar to that heard at the airline office, telephoned the night clerk of the Empress Hotel at 8 p.m., "There is a bomb in your hotel."

Police found nothing.

Gone fishin'.

Advisory Board On Wages, Prices Govt. Proposal

LONDON (Reuters)—Cabinet ministers, chiefs of the state-run industries and trade union leaders met in conference here today to consider the threat presented to the British economy by soaring prices.

The main object of the talks was to get the reaction of the trade unions to a government proposal for an independent body to advise both sides of industry on incomes, costs and prices.

Politicians and trade unionists alike see danger to the economy unless prompt measures are taken to halt the present inflationary wage-prices increases.

But many of the trade union leaders blame the government for the present situation. They cite as evidence such measures as the government's recently-passed rent decontrol act which by allowing landlords to charge more will increase the cost of living for millions of people.

COAL, ELECTRICITY UP

Britain's nationalized industries, mainly coal, domestic gas and electricity, are under fire because of frequent increases in charges.

An impending increase in postal charges is causing a strong outcry from Conservative members of Parliament.

Peter Thorneycroft, chancellor of the exchequer, in recent speeches has said there is no financial crisis in Britain. In a television interview this week he reasserted this, adding:

"Exports are rising, production is going up. There is a large volume of investment and a good outlook of trade surplus with the rest of the world.

"This is a very satisfactory and strong position, except for this question of inflation. The basic answer is that as a nation we must stop taking more out of the economy than we put in."

So far the Trades Union Congress has taken no official decision on the government's proposal for an impartial body to advise on the situation. Its leaders have said frequently they recognize the threat of constant wage-increase demands to the economy, but argue they are inevitable unless the government can hold down the cost of living.

Some point to the latest—and as they see it—most ironic feature of the situation. This is that the government has been obliged to recognize the burden of high living costs on politicians themselves by giving members of Parliament a substantial raise.

Pope Indisposed

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—The Pope is slightly indisposed with an infected tooth and swelling of his upper lip, an unofficial Vatican source said today.

Ike Backs Atom Arms For NATO

Zhukov, Dulles Talks Would Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower endorsed today the idea of an American supply of atomic weapons for NATO as outlined Tuesday by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He said NATO members must be armed properly.

The president said at a press conference that if a country is defending itself against a nuclear attack it ought to have the resources to respond in kind.

Furthermore, if the United States supplied atomic weapons to NATO powers then those countries would not have to manufacture their own atomic weapons and would avoid the economic strains resulting from creation of a nuclear weapons industry.

Eisenhower also said a meeting of Russia's Marshal Zhukov and U.S. Defence Secretary Charles Wilson might prove useful.

He said that he and Zhukov, now Soviet defence minister, became quite well acquainted at the end of the Second World War. They were both in Berlin at the time.

The president added that he and Zhukov at that time co-operated very closely, and that a Zhukov-Wilson meeting at this time might prove profitable by bringing together defence ministers of the two countries.

Foreign Aid Vital Dulles Warns

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told senators today that foreign aid cuts would be "false economies" which would wreck free world efforts in disarmament negotiations with Russia.

He urged the Senate Appropriations Committee to put up the entire $3,900,000,000 President Eisenhower originally requested.

Typhoon Hits China With Mounting Toll

HONG KONG (UP)—Typhoon Wendy, which killed 400 persons in the Philippines, slammed into Hong Kong and Red China today, killing at least three more persons.

The victims, two of them young boys, were trapped in their huts by landslides caused by rain and high winds from the storm.

The centre of the typhoon passed 50 miles northeast of here today to hit the Chinese mainland full blast. The storm disrupted communications, caused local flooding and landslides. All scheduled air services in this colony were halted.

Before crossing the Pacific to China, the typhoon caused one of the worst floods in Philippine history with at least 400 persons dead and another 1,000 feared drowned in remote Pangasinan province.

The flash floods triggered by typhoon Wendy swept entire villages away on the northern island of Luzon and some 30,000 persons were reported homeless in an area covering six towns.

It was feared that more than 1500 persons may have been swept away by the surging waters of the Agno river. In one town 230 bodies were recovered and municipal authorities ran out of burial permit forms.

BUT 7 MORE TO DIE

7 Win Reprieves In Hungary Trial

BUDAPEST (Reuters) — The Hungarian Supreme Court today revoked the death sentence for seven persons but confirmed it for seven others for their part in the killing of six policemen in Miskolc during last fall's uprising.

Spectators in the public galleries wept as the court gave its decisions after a hearing, lasting more than two weeks, of prosecution and defence appeals against the sentences passed by a lower court on May 16.

The court raised one prison sentenced and reduced others on seven more caused in the same case. They were given prison sentences ranging from life to 10 years by the lower court.

Four of the reprieved-Karóly Laubert, 38, Istvan Lapsanszky, 23, Gyoergy Suba, 21, and Jozsef Kincses, 27 were jailed for life and the others — Imre Foeldi, 28, Jozsef Martoncsik, 38, and Lajos Toth — for 20 years each.

Women in the public galleries wept as Laszlo Lengyel slumped down on the prisoners' bench sobbing and moaning after his appeal against the death sentence was rejected.

An elderly man called out "Do not cry, my child." A woman shouted a remark which included the word "justice" but was unintelligible in the press seats.

Both were escorted from the courtroom as two fellow prisoners tried to calm Lengyel, slim, dark and pale. Armed police guards later led him still shaking with sobs from the dock.

He returned a few minutes later still agitated and stood with lowered head, his dark hair falling over his face, as the presiding judge read out the rest of the sentences.

Some specators left the public gallery and sat weeping on benches in a corridor outside the courtroom.

2 Ministers Quit Cabinet In Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost of Ontario announced today the resignation of Reform Institutions Minister Foote and Mines Minister Kelly.

Major Foote, who has been in the Ontario legislature since 1948, was appointed minister of reform institutions in November, 1950. He represents Durham riding. A Presbyterian minister, he won the Victoria Cross for gallantry in the Dieppe raid in 1942. He is ill in hospital.

Mr. Kelly, an accountant, has sat in the legislature since 1951 and became mines minister in June, 1952. He represents Cochrane North.

Bishop Admits Morality Claim Hearsay

TORONTO (CP) — Most Rev. F. A. Marrocco said today a remark he made—that 40 girls were expelled from a suburban high school because they were pregnant — had been misconstrued as a "piece of statistic" rather than a piece of hearsay he passed along privately to a small study group.

The Roman Catholic auxiliary bishop of Toronto was quoted Tuesday as saying at an inter-group relations conference at Geneva Park, Ont., that there has been a breakdown in Canadian social life and as citing pregnancy at Earl Haig collegiate institute as an example.

His observations drew heated denials from North York board of education officials and high school staff.

Bishop Marracco said his statement was made at a private discussion after he read a prepared paper.

"In its proper context I passed it along as something I heard about a school in my area to illustrate a point I was making," the bishop said.

Carol Kelly, Earl Haig physical education teacher, said today she had never heard of anyone at the school being pregnant.

Dr. F. W. Minkler, North York director of education, described the bishop's remark as "far-fetched" and added: "I don't know of any girls in our schools becoming pregnant or being dismissed for that reason."

IT'S 'SMART' TO GET RID OF APPENDIX

MEAFORD, Ont. (CP) — Hugh Smart had his appendix out Sunday.

That happened while Victor Smart, Hugh's dad, was convalescing—from an appendectomy.

Hugh's sister Ruth, 15, wasn't feeling too chipper either. She had an appendectomy just before her dad. Audrey, 17, got the ball rolling eight weeks ago. That's when she had her appendix removed.

There are still three Smarts with their appendix intact. They won't lay bets on how long.

Tourist Raid On Khan Rites Curbed by Heir

VERSOIX, Switzerland (UP) — The Aga Khan IV posted guards at the family villa here today to prevent gaudily-dressed tourists from gate crashing the solemn lying-in-state ceremonies for his grandfather.

The body of the 79-year-old Aga Khan III, who died last week, was to be flown to Egypt this evening for burial services at Aswan Friday.

The gates were open to all Tuesday, but the new security regulations were ordered when shirt-sleeved tourists stopped their cars to join the hundreds of persons clamoring for admittance at the gate.

Teamster Chief Acquitted On Bribe Charge

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The head of the teamsters' union in Oregon was acquitted Tuesday night of a charge of conspiracy to accept a bribe while serving on a Portland city commission.

Clyde C. Crosby dropped his head on his chest when the verdict was announced, closed his eyes momentarily and then flashed a broad grin at the jury.

Crosby, the teamsters' international representative in Oregon, had been charged with conspiring to place the site of an $8,000,000 sports centre here. The prosecution said Crosby and others conspired to obtain property options at the site.

Miss Canada Most Popular

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP) — Fifteen girls representing the cream of American beauty were selected Tuesday night to vie for the title of "Miss United States of America" in the annual Miss Universe beauty pageant.

Finals for the "Miss U.S.A." title will be held tonight.

Following her selection "Miss U.S.A." will be entered in the "Miss Universe" finals Friday against the top 15 international entrants.

The most popular girl in the parade trophy went to Miss Canada, 18-year-old Gloria Noakes, of Toronto. She was chosen by the thousands who viewed the traditional Miss Universe parade Sunday.

Miss Germany, Gerti Daub, 19, was named during the evening as the most photogenic beauty. She was picked for the title by the corps of photographers and press covering the annual event.

3-COUNTRY DEAL

Syrians To Buy Red Armament With Cotton

CAIRO (AP) — A three-country deal is reported under way to provide Syria with more arms from Communist Czechoslovakia.

Syrian desire for new and improved weapons has been spurred by the recent flareup of shooting along its border with Israel.

Arab diplomatic informants said the arms plan calls for Syria to export wheat to Egypt for some of Egypt's cotton credits in Czechoslovakia. Syria would use the cotton credits to buy more Czech arms.

Syrian Defence Minister Khaled el Azem, who has been in Italy for medical treatment, was reported en route to Prague and Moscow to close the deal.

The informants said Egypt has bought more Soviet-bloc arms in the last 18 months than it can assimilate but still has large Czech credits from a cotton agreement made in 1955. Cairo newspapers reported recently that Egypt had opened an initial credit for Syria of nearly $3,000,000 in Czechoslovakia.

At United Nations headquarters in New York, officials announced that UN lookout posts have been established on the Israeli side of the Israeli-Syrian border.

The officials said the action was taken at Israeli's request after the series of border clashes.

Israeli sources said the request stipulated that the posts be maintained for one month, but UN spokesmen said the four or five posts set up would be used as long as necessary.

Reports from Jerusalem said the UN truce organization on the border region had been reinforced and is maintaining a 24-hour watch.

FALL-OUT SOARS TO NEW HIGH

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Radioactive fall-out from Monday's atomic explosion in Nevada soared to a new high of 7,090 micro-microcuries of beta radiation Tuesday.

The generally-considered safety level over a 24-hour period is 1,000 micro-microcuries.

The Utah health department, which obtained the readings from air samples taken on the roof of the state capital building here, said the fall-out could be considered safe because of the short period of time.

Search Fails To Find Plane

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—An intensive air, sea and ground search today failed to turn up any trace of a U.S. Air Force C-47 missing with 16 persons aboard.

Radio contact with the plane was broken Tuesday night as it neared the end of a journey to Taipei from Clark Field, in the Philippines.

New Clash in Saanich Council Over Architects' Fees on Hall

Saanich Council is committed to payment of up to $10,000 in architect's fees whether or not the municipality renovates and extends its municipal hall, Reeve Arthur Ash said Tuesday night.

He told his council a special committee headed by Coun. Joseph Casey had ordered plans for additions and alterations to the hall.

"This had been done without the approval of the ratepayers and before the provincial government makes its decision on whether the ratepayers should vote on this question."

He explained that for preparation of plans, architects are entitled to 10 per cent of the estimated costs of alterations to an old building.

They receive 20 per cent of their total fee for preparing preliminary plans, 50 per cent for completion of drawings.

"Therefore 70 per cent of the total fees have been committed to this date."

"You were in the chair when this came up, but you didn't say anything. . ." said Coun. Casey.

"I voted against it—the whole thing," the reeve replied.

"I don't believe we've committed the people to this amount at all," said Coun. Casey.

The committee voted to investigate the fees.

Estimated cost of the project is $225,000.

Reeve Ash says he is confident ratepayers will repect the proposal if a referendum is held.

"I am more convinced than ever that a temporary steel building is the answer."

It could be used elsewhere in the municipality if a new hall is built in the future, or the municipality joins in a united hall project with Victoria, the reeve said.

Ontario Police Face Third Murder Inquiry

BRANTFORD, Ont. (BUP)—Ontario today had its third brutal murder in 10 days with the discovery of the body of an elderly man at Burford, about 10 miles from Brantford.

Firemen called out to battle a fire in the home of Albert Hearne, 86, this morning found his body lying in a pool of blood under a pile of clothes.

Police said Hearne's head had been battered in. They believe robbery was the motive as it was reported locally that Hearne was a miser with a large amount of money cached in his house.

Provincial police have two other unsolved murders on their hands.

Last week a 22-year-old housewife in the Cornwall district was hacked and beaten to death after being criminally assaulted. The victim was Mrs. Lois McLaughlin.

Last weekend the body of 30-year-old Edwin Jones of Hamilton, member of the Jehovah Witness religious sect, was found in the Wealland district. He had been beaten and stabbed to death.

OUTDOOR REPORT BY Doug Peden

There is a sad day in store for Sid Upton.

But until that unknown and inevitable date arrives, he plans to go right on enjoying himself.

Sid's idea of a good time is catching salmon. And although he admits he may be in something of a rut, he has been having a gay time at Saanich Inlet. It is only when he thinks of what might happen to his luck if and when he loses his favorite lure that his smile fades briefly.

During the past two seasons, Upton has taken "close to 300 fish" on the same plug—a green-backed Mac's Squid. "When I lose this one," he says, "it will be like losing an old friend.

With it, he has taken his share of small salmon, but he has also hauled in enough big ones to win seven trophies. The heaviest catch was the 43-pound lunker taken last August 30 that won Sid the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association's diamond-in-the-eye gold button for weighing in the largest salmon of the season at Saanich Inlet.

Although Upton needed only a 9½-pounder to win the Chinook Club's 1957 Dominion Day Derby, these other catches on that tooth-scarred Squid this season are enough to make most of us envious: Two salmon of 26 pounds, another of 23, three of 17 pounds, four 16-pounders and a raft of smaller ones.

Sid Has Own Ideas on Trolling Speed

And he has often scored when others were having trouble. Several anglers were blanked at Saanich Inlet, Monday morning, yet the plug accounted for three salmon, topped by a 17-pounder, and what looked like a 25-pound specimen slipped off the hooks at the boat. Tuesday morning it lured a 26-pounder.

Despite the number of salmon around this year, there have been a good number of stories about fishermen who have managed to land only a few small fish. Accordingly, it was interesting to learn how one man fools the fish.

Most anglers are inclined to troll on the fast side when using a plug. But, perhaps proving that no system can be called the best, Sid trolls at a slower-than-average rate.

He religiously uses 300 feet of wire, followed by 20 feet of cuttyhunk and a lead of around seven feet tied directly to the ring on the plug. He changes hooks regularly and ignores the use of a flasher or planer, preferring to use weights—"never more than a pound and a half and mostly one pound this year." And, of course, he has his favorite spots.

It is no accident that Sid has managed to hang onto his plug. He has learned to fish close to reefs without getting hooked up and he changes every swivel on his outfit every third time out. Knots are examined every time the line goes into the water.

There may be a sad day ahead for Sid Upton, but before that date arrives, he hopes to knock off a few more big salmon.

In the meantime, it's a lead-pipe cinch you won't find the old plug lying around where it might tempt sticky fingers.

Art Midlane, who is again pulling out button-sized fish regularly this year, had to answer a barrage of questions on how he fished his Strip Teaser after winning the Ernie Silburn Memorial Trophy with a 21½-pounder Sunday.

Bill Hoskyn was sweating a bit in the same derby when it took him five hours to steer his guest to a fish. Bill shouldn't have worried, since anyone still asleep at the appointed time for leaving town deserves nothing better than dogfish.

Ed Duffin, Dan Thomas and the boys from Ed's boxing club did an excellent job in their fish-guessing contest last week. Their efforts boosted the Solarium Derby total by $108.

Island Hunters Benefit From New Regulations

Only a few changes were included in 1957-58 game regulations approved Tuesday, but hunters in Game Management Area No. 1, which takes in Vancouver Island and adjacent islands, appear to have derived the most benefit.

In Area No. 1 this year, the season on antlerless deer has been increased by one week to three weeks and hunters will be allowed to include two antlerless animals in their total bag limit of three deer. Last year, only one antlerless deer was permitted.

Antlerless shooting will begin this year on November 16 and will continue until December 1. Last year's doe season ran from November 24 to December 2.

The buck season remains virtually unchanged, opening on September 14 and closing on December 1. Last year's shooting time ran from September 14 to December 2.

SIX WILLOW GROUSE

Also slightly modified is the bag limit for grouse. While it remains at eight birds, six of these may now be ruffed (or willow) grouse. The former limit was four.

The season limit of 40 birds remains unchanged.

Changes in other Game Management Areas also will benifit the hunters.

In areas 3 and 4 there will be two extra weeks of moose shooting, and in area 3, an extra month of antlerless moose hunting will be allowed.

On Vancouver Island the bull elk season is similar to last year, with shooting being allowed from October 5 to October 20. In 1956 the season went from October 6 to October 21.

Again, each hunter is permitted one elk or one moose.

New seasons, with last year's seasons in brackets, follow.

Big Strait Swim Gets 17 Entries

At least 17 swimmers will compete in the mass Juan de Fuca Strait swim sponsored by Victoria Chamber of Commerce from Beacon Hill Park on August 4.

First swimmer to reach Port Angeles or swimming the farthest will be acclaimed the winner.

When entries closed at midnight 15 definite and one probable entry had been received by Lieut. George Colwill, swim chairman.

Ten were received in one day and one of them was phoned from Vancouver.

Joan Biddle, daughter of Canon George Biddle, Victoria, had been named as a probable entry. Today however, Miss Biddle told The Times she would not enter this year.

"I have been advised against it because of a recent attack of glandular fever," she said.

Inquires have been recieved from 60-year-old Fearnley Wheatcroft, Toronto Ont., who swam the English Channel in 1928.

Gerhard Haufman, Vancouver long-distance swimmer, phoned from the mainland for application forms and his call was accepted as an official application.

Swimmers from the world-famous Atlantic swim will be competing, and other entrants include Amy Hiland of Long Beach, Calif., and Ben Laughren, Victoria.

Russia Mum On British Arms Plan

LONDON (UP)—Britain proposed today that technical working groups be set up to clarify details of issues already agreed upon in broad general outline by the five-power disarmament conference.

This proposal was made by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. It was supported in principle by the representatives of the U.S., France and Canada. But it was met with silence by chief Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin.

How Do They Split an Atom?

Some say the Atomic Age began in 1905. A German named Albert Einstein wrote down E—MC2 and explained what it meant. Those who could understand the famous formula agreed it was correct. Matter, it seems, is a form of energy. So much matter equals just so much energy. Matter is made from energy and can be changed back into energy. According to Einstein's formula, one pound of solid matter is equal to 11,400 million kilowatt hours of energy. This is equal to enough electric energy to provide our entire continent with all it needs through the Christmas and New Year's weeks — enough for normal needs, all the Christmas trees, extra lights and cooking.

When it becomes matter, energy gels into tiny atoms. Each atom is made of even smaller particles and the particles are bundles or electrical energy. The tremendous energy of matter, then is locked up in the tiny atom. When this became known every expert with an ounce of proper curiosity wanted to split the atom and release at least some of its tremendous energy.

Of course, the energy in one little atom is not worth the trouble. Some two billion atoms can, and probably do, dance comfortably on the point of a pin. An average atom has been compared to a midget solar system. Its sun is a nucleus which is set in the centre of particles which behave much like planets. The bulk of the atom's energy is in the nucleus. So, in splitting the atom, the nucleus is the bull's eye target. This is no easy job, for most of the atom is empty space. Among its outer particles, the nucleus has about as much room as a fly in a small movie house.

The nucleus is a bundle of electric particles bound tightly together. In order to split it, a bullet must reach its heart. The bullet carries energy of its own. This upsets the balance within the nucleus. It breaks into two or more parts and a certain amount of its energy is released.

The bullets, of course are smaller than the nucleus. Various kinds of atomic particles have been used for the job. The problem is to whip the tiny projectiles up to high enough speeds. The bulk of an atom smashing machine is given over to speeding up the bullets to be fired into the target. In some machines, the ammunition, in gaseous form, is introduced into a circular chamber. It is sandwiched top and bottom between powerful magnetic fields. Positive and negative electrodes supply powerful jolts from the sidelines. This inter-related electromagnetic power provides the energy which gives speed to the ammunition. The tiny particles are set whirling faster and faster around the chamber. The faster they go, the nearer they get to the outside rim. At a certain speed, they reach a window in the wall and out they stream in a beam which is directed at the target.

A vast number of these bullets are needed to smash a small number of atoms. With luck, one in 10,000 may get a bull's eye and split, or maybe chip a bit off a nucleus. The cycloon, the betatron and the bevatron atom-smashing machines have yielded much information about atoms and atomic particles. Bigger atoms have been split into smaller atoms. This is transmutation, the dream of the old alchemist who tried to turn cheap lead into valuable gold. Our atom smashers have turned platinum into gold. But this is no money maker, for platinum is more valuable than gold. However, this and other atom splitting tricks have given us something far more valuable than either gold or platinum. That is knowledge to understand, use and appreciate the very atoms of which our wonderful world is made.

CANADA HERE I COME!

Right Frame of Mind Inspired By Paint Job

LEEDS, England (CP)—Each day for a month foreman painter Harold Calverley was the first man on the job as workmen put the finishing touches to the Canadian government's new immigration office in Leeds.

And when the office opened for business Monday, the first man through the doors leading to the spacious reception hall was the 35-year-old painter —this time as a customer.

"I heard so much about Canada while I was working that I decided it was the place for me," said Calverley. "And having decided, I was determined to be the first in line—I was back so early the paint hadn't dried."

In fact, Calverley didn't wait for the office to open before starting proceedings. By the time he made formal application, he had already lined up a job in Toronto. He expects to fly to Canada before the end of the month. His wife, Sheila, and nine-year-old daughter, Beryl, will follow after he has found accommodation for them.

The new office, with its staff of 17, will handle emigration enquiries originating in the northeast of England. It is the sixth Canadian immigration office in the United Kingdom. The others are in London, Liverpool, Bristol, Glasgow and Belfast.

Calverley surprised the office staff by turning up again today. "I've talked a pal into going out to Canada with me and I'm just showing him the ropes."

CANADA CINCH TO WIN SEAT ON UN COUNCIL

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (BUP)—Canada's election to the United Nations Security Council this fall was virtually assured today with the announcement that the Dominion would be nominated for the "commonwealth seat" at present held by Australia.

A spokesman for the Canadian United Nations mission told British United Press that the Canadian government had definitely decided to run for the seat which falls vacant at the end of the year.

Prairie Farms Face Crop Crisis; Heat, Hoppers, Hail Toll Soars

REGINA (CP)—As hot, dry winds burn through ripening crops, Saskatchewan wheat farmers face a serious threat of drought for the first time in eight years.

Agricultural officials have described the situation as "critical." They considered the fate of the 1957 crop will probably hinge on the rainfall in the next week.

Heat, grasshoppers and hail already have taken their toll in scattered parts of the province but a timely, general rain might still produce a wheat crop, lower than last year's bumper 327,000,000 bushels but higher than the long term average yield of 15 bushels an acre. The province normally grows about 60 per cent of the country's wheat.

"We should not write off the crop yet," said a spokesman for the provincial agriculture department. "If crop conditions do not deteriorate further and with a bit of luck, the prospects are still favorable for an above-average yield."

RAIN NEEDED SOON

He said more than 50 per cent of the estimated 12,685,000-acre wheat crop now is in head and needs moisture quickly to fill the heads.

The Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, however, was less optimistic and its latest weekly report said the moisture deficiency is worsening in "an alarming manner," causing rapid deterioration of crops.

During the last week, steady dry winds from the west and 90-degree plus temperatures again burned the roots of maturing wheat in the southwest along the United States border; lack of rain has practically wiped out the crop in an area north of North Battleford in the northwest; and conditions are poor in some central districts north and west of Regina.
